Transform your child's gift from handbrake to boost for success. Many parents still believe this LIE. The world is a tough place and to be successful children have to grow up tough too. Those who are sensitive are curled up like a leaf. That's a lie because Sensitivity is not an obstacle to success but actually a shortcut. Except that in children it sensitivity presents itself as a series of problems such as anxiety, tantrums, insomnia, and social issues. If you're an HSC parent and want your child to be successful, the worst thing you can do is trying so hard to make your child the same as everyone else. Homologate him or her. What you need to do instead is cultivate your child's gift. When you start doing that, you'll immediately notice two things: The symptoms of sensitivity improve exponentially, less anxiety, fewer tantrums. Your child will unleash his/her genius and start to be much more successful in life, better relationships with relatives and friends, higher school grades. But how you can cultivate your child's gift. Concretely. Well, this guide provides you with tons of proven mindful techniques to cultivate your child's gift and make it shine. A glimpse of what you'll find in it: What's a Calm Down Jar and why it makes magic on your child's anxiety. What's the number one thing that you must never tell an HSC otherwise you'll break him/her forever. What are the unexpected daily habits an HSC should take to feel calmer and more confident. How to surrender your child with a force field to keep bullies away. And so much more. Make your child's life a masterpiece. Only you can do that.
