Sensuous Geographies Body Sense And Place:

Sensuous Geographies Paul Rodaway, 2002-09-11 The contemporary challenge of postmodernity draws our attention to the nature of reality and the ways in which experience is constructed Sensuous Geographies explores our immediate sensuous experience of the world Touch smell hearing and sight the four senses chiefly relevant to geographical experience both receive and structure information The process is mediated by historical cultural and technological factors Issues of definition are illustrated through a variety of sensuous geographies Focusing on postmodern concerns with representation the book brings insights from individual perceptions and cultural observations to an analysis of the senses challenging us to reconsider the role of the sensuous as not merely the physical basis of understanding but as an integral part of the cultural definition of geographical knowledge

The Horror Sensorium Angela Ndaliansi, 2012-09-26 Horror films books and video games engage their audiences through combinations of storytelling practices emotional experiences cognitive responses and physicality that ignite the sensorium the sensory mechanics of the body and the intellectual and cognitive functions connected to them Through analyses of various mediums this volume explores how the horror genre affects the mind and body of the spectator Works explored include the films 28 Days Later and Death Proof the video games Resident Evil 4 and Doom 3 the theme park ride The Revenge of the Mummy transmedia experiences associated with The Dark Knight and True Blood and paranormal romance novels featuring Anita Blake and Sookie Stackhouse By examining how these diverse media generate medium specific corporeal and sensory responses it reveals how the sensorium interweaves sensory and intellectual encounters to produce powerful systems of perception

Performing Tourist Places Jørgen Ole Bærenholdt, Michael Haldrup, John Urry, 2017-07-05

This book looks at the making and the consuming of places in the contemporary world Illustrated through a case on Denmark it considers the general arguments about the intersections of places performances and peoples It is shown that those who are visitors to a place in part produce that place through their performances Places are intertwined with people through various systems that generate and reproduce performances in and of that place These systems comprise networks of hosts guests buildings objects and machines that contingently realize particular performances of specific places The studies reported here further develop what we might describe as the new mobility paradigm that is developing within the social sciences

Doing Sensory Ethnography Sarah Pink, 2015-02-09 This bold agenda setting title continues to spearhead interdisciplinary multisensory research into experience knowledge and practice Drawing on an explosion of new cutting edge research Sarah Pink uses real world examples to bring this innovative area of study to life She encourages us to challenge revise and rethink core components of ethnography including interviews participant observation and doing research in a digital world The book provides an important framework for thinking about sensory ethnography stressing the numerous ways that smell taste touch and vision can be interconnected and interrelated within research Bursting with practical advice on how to effectively conduct and share sensory ethnography this is an important original book relevant to all branches of social sciences and humanities

Music and Transcendence Ferdia J. Stone-Davis, 2016-03-03 Music and Transcendence explores the ways in which music relates to transcendence by bringing together the disciplines of musicology philosophy and theology thereby uncovering congruencies between them that have often been obscured Music has the capacity to take one outside of oneself and place one in relation to that which is other This other can be conceived in an absolute sense insofar as music can be thought to place the self in relation to a divine other beyond the human frame of existence However the other can equally well be conceived in an immanent or secular sense as music is a human activity that relates to other cultural practices Music here places the self in relation to other people and to the world more generally shaping how the world is understood without any reference to a God or gods The book examines how music has not only played a significant role in many philosophical and theological accounts of the nature of existence and the self but also provides a valuable resource for the creation of meaning on a day to day basis

Cycling and Society Dave Horton, Paul Rosen, Peter Cox, 2016-05-13 How can the social sciences help us to understand the past present and potential futures of cycling This timely international and interdisciplinary collection addresses this question discussing shifts in cycling practices and attitudes and opening up important critical spaces for thinking about the prospects for cycling The book brings together for the first time analyses of cycling from a wide range of disciplinary backgrounds including history sociology geography planning engineering and technology The book redresses the past neglect of cycling as a topic for sustained analysis by treating it as a varied and complex practice which matters greatly to contemporary social cultural and political theory and action Cycling and Society demonstrates the incredible diversity of contemporary cycling both within and across cultures With cycling increasingly promoted as a solution to numerous social problems across a wide range of policy areas in car dominated societies this book helps to open up a new field of cycling studies

Whole Onflow Gavin J. Andrews, Cameron Duff, Keith Woodward, 2025-12-17 This book describes whole onflow which is at once the emergence and becoming of the entirety of the world universe and any actual unique position whatsoever in it now A physical plane and self organizing process that owes its energy to the Big Bang in our region it now unfolding the infinitely complex and varied world we engage contribute to and experience There have been many academic ideas on the nature of emergence and becoming in the world including ideas on the world s overall emergence and becoming In this book we extend some of these ideas to conceptualize a physical plane incorporating all possible positions and local variability all geographies what we refer to as whole onflow We answer some key questions including What is the processual nature of whole onflow through which the world emerges and becomes in the moment How might thinking in terms of whole onflow expand our ideas on the world s productions from health to ageing to capitalism and beyond How might this help us get to grips with today s kinetic energy dependent multi textured and process ignorant world The book lays out the broad theoretical landscape It demonstrates how principles and processes established by physics and cosmology might be combined with principles and processes conveyed by social theory to describe the world in whole onflow Dealing then with the very origins of all that is and all that is social the book is core reading for social scientists who like to think fundamentally It is very much a speculative and provocative piece but a necessary one and will be of particular interest to those studying the world through poststructuralist posthumanist new materialist and non representational theoretical lenses Moving forward certain scholars might follow the specific points of departure and pathways the book signposts Others might choose to tread the new ground the book opens up in their own ways

Migration and the Politics of Methodology Kirsten Emiko McAllister, Ayaka Yoshimizu, Daniel Ahadi, 2025-05-30 This volume examines the politics of fieldwork and the challenges of researching migrants constructed as outsiders both nationally and transnationally Based on research with undocumented migrants temporary workers refugees international students and those who having received citizenship status find their lives to be discursively and legally restricted it shows how interdisciplinary fieldwork based approaches can provide detailed accounts of migrants voices and their conditions of existence offering insights into the ways in which they understand and take part in producing their transnational worlds Applying critical self reflexive methodological approaches that challenge assumptions about who has the authority to produce knowledge and what types of knowledge have the authority of truth Migration and the Politics of Methodology will appeal to scholars of sociology anthropology geography and communication and cultural studies with interests in research methods and migration

The Routledge Handbook of Material Culture in Early Modern Europe Catherine Richardson, Tara Hamling, David Gaimster, 2016-09-13 The Routledge Handbook of Material Culture in Early Modern Europe marks the arrival of early modern material culture studies as a vibrant fully established field of multi disciplinary research The volume provides a rounded accessible collection of work on the nature and significance of materiality in early modern Europe a term that embraces a vast range of objects as well as addressing a wide variety of human interactions with their physical environments This stimulating view of materiality is distinctive in asking questions about the whole material world as a context for lived experience and the book considers material interactions at all social levels There are 27 chapters by leading experts as well as 13 feature object studies to highlight specific items that have survived from this period defined broadly as c 1500 c 1800 These contributions explore the things people acquired owned treasured displayed and discarded the spaces in which people used and thought about things the social relationships which cluster around goods between producers vendors and consumers of various kinds and the way knowledge travels around those circuits of connection The content also engages with wider issues such as the relationship between public and private life the changing connections between the sacred and the profane or the effects of gender and social status upon lived experience Constructed as an accessible wide ranging guide to research practice the book describes and represents the methods which have been developed within various disciplines for analysing pre modern material culture It comprises four sections which open up the approaches of various disciplines to non specialists Definitions disciplines new directions Contexts and categories Object studies and Material culture in action This volume addresses the need for sustained coherent comment on the state breadth and potential of this lively new field including the work of historians art historians museum curators archaeologists social scientists and literary scholars It consolidates and communicates recent developments and considers how we might take forward a multi disciplinary research agenda for the study of material culture in periods before the mass production of goods

Empire of the Senses ,2017-11-01 Empire of the Senses brings together pathbreaking scholarship on the role the five senses played in early America With perspectives from across the hemisphere exploring individual senses and multi sensory frameworks the volume explores how sensory perception helped frame cultural encounters colonial knowledge and political relationships From early French interpretations of intercultural touch to English plans to restructure the scent of Jamaica these essays elucidate different ways the expansion of rival European empires across the Americas involved a vast interconnected range of sensory experiences and practices Empire of the Senses offers a new comparative perspective on the way European imperialism was constructed operated implemented and sometimes counteracted by rich and complex new sensory frameworks in the diverse contexts of early America This book has been listed on the Books of Note section on the website of Sensory Studies which is dedicated to highlighting the top books in sensory studies www.sensorystudies.org/books-of-note

Exploring Ancient Sounds and Places Margarita Díaz-Andreu,Neemias Santos da Rosa,2024-12-31 Archaeoacoustics studies historical sound merging archaeology anthropology and psychology to reveal insights about ancient music and acoustic environments Exploring Ancient Sounds and Places Theoretical and Methodological Approaches to Archaeoacoustics brings together scholars from diverse academic fields including archaeology anthropology architecture classics history art history and sound engineering to shed light on the role of sound and acoustics in the cultural practices of past societies from various chronologies and locations around the world This innovative volume covers a broad spectrum of topics such as the genesis of archaeological investigations into sound the emergence of speech and song in early humans the cognitive effects of music in ritualistic contexts the acoustic dimensions of rock art sites and the emotional responses elicited by sonorous activities experienced in these decorated spaces Additionally the book delves into the study of prehistoric musical instruments the use of ethnohistorical sources in archaeoacoustic research the analysis of sound imagery in medieval frescoes and explores historical approaches to the study of specific acoustic parameters and the sonic properties of urban environments Each chapter not only aggregates a wealth of academic perspectives but also bridges the gap between theoretical concepts and the most advanced methods used in this field of research Case studies from all over the world illustrate the different ways in which ancient communities perceived and engaged with sound and the acoustics of the landscapes in which they were immersed Exploring Ancient Sounds and Places is an essential resource for scholars and students interested in archaeoacoustics and how sound has shaped the cognitive cultural and spiritual facets of human societies across time and space

Placemaking

Page Tara Page, 2020-06-18 Where are you from This question often refers to someone's birthplace childhood home or a place that holds significance The location that is offered in response to this question is more than a means of orientation it is a lived place that has complex meanings that identify are learned and made Yet the significance of place to our lives is often overlooked It is key to understanding who we are and how we are both individually and collectively Through embodied and material practice research underpinned with theories of new materialism Tara Page enables us to learn and understand how our ways of knowing making and learning place are entangled with embodied and material pedagogies She shows how our bodily engagements in and with the material world are intra actions of the who with the where The creative and multi dimensional approach of this book with links to photographs creative practices to be read with the text brings together the global with the local practice with theory and demonstrates the complex pedagogy between bodies places and everyday social relations of power Page reveals that placemaking is the very experiential fact of our existence but is also a necessary one

Walking as Embodied Research

Christian Ernten, Nick Shepherd, 2024-09-30 In recent years walking has emerged as a methodological tool and as a conceptually exciting point of departure across a range of disciplines and practices This volume explores walking as a form of embodied research practice that offers fresh perspectives on key contemporary debates and areas of interest These include the climate emergency and the debate around the Anthropocene decolonial thinking and the struggle for social justice feminist and queer walking methodologies and the notion of the infraordinary and practices of everyday life Contributions to this volume are by scholars artists and practitioners drawn from a wide range of disciplines and fields and from across the Global South and North An overarching theme of the volume is the manner in which the act of walking brings the body into presence as a material part of the research process and the forms of attentiveness that this encourages Another theme is the intimate connection between the act of walking and the act of writing As familiar landscapes change under the weight of Anthropogenic environmental change walking becomes an act of witnessing and a spur to action Rather than being a singular activity walking itself is understood as a socially economically and politically constructed and contested act This volume will serve as a source of inspiration to readers from across the arts humanities and social sciences who are interested in walking methodologies and in new and sustainable research practices

The Feel of the City Nicolas Kenny, 2014-06-09 At the start of the twentieth century the modern metropolis was a riot of sensation City dwellers lived in an environment filled with smoky factories crowded homes and lively thoroughfares Sights sounds and smells flooded their senses while changing conceptions of health and decorum forced many to rethink their most banal gestures from the way they negotiated speeding traffic to the use they made of public washrooms The Feel of the City exposes the sensory experiences of city dwellers in Montreal and Brussels at the turn of the century and the ways in which these shaped the social and cultural significance of urban space Using the experiences of municipal officials urban planners hygienists workers writers artists and ordinary citizens Nicolas Kenny explores the implications of the senses for our understanding of modernity

The Hieroglyphics of Space Neil Leach, 2005-06-29 Spatial images wrote the German cultural theorist Siegfried Kracauer are the dreams of society Wherever the hieroglyphics of any spatial image are deciphered there the basis of social reality presents itself But how exactly are these spatial images to be deciphered Hieroglyphics of Space addresses this question with a series of insightful essays on some of the great metropolitan centres of the world From political interpretations to gendered analyses from methods of mapping to filmic representations and from studies in consumption to economic surveys the volume offers a range of strategies for reading and experiencing the modern metropolis

Anthropology of Tourism in Central and Eastern Europe Sabina Owsianowska, Magdalena Banaszekiewicz, 2018-04-11 In Anthropology of Tourism in Central and Eastern Europe Bridging Worlds Sabina Owsianowska and Magdalena Banaszekiewicz examine the limitations of the anthropological study of tourism which stem from both the domination of researchers representing the Anglophone circle as well as the current state of tourism studies in Central and Eastern Europe This edited collection contributes to the wider discussion of the geopolitics of knowledge through its focus on the anthropological background of tourism studies and its inclusion of contributors from Austria Bulgaria Estonia and Poland

Experiencing the Outdoors Margaret Robertson, Ruth Lawrence, Gregory Heath, 2015-02-27 The space is outdoors The experience is personal and the journey can be solitary or take place in groups Informal or formal the places visited are sites of learning Locked in memory our experiences in the outdoors are a constant source of wonderment and food to replenish our sense of wellbeing Our experiences in the outdoors can endure in the abstract as ideas for developing a sense of a well lived life They can also draw us back to places and reenergise the body Physical and emotional wellbeing collides in the unexpected events that flourish in the outdoors Our readiness for enjoyment and personal development are subjective states which this book challenges Traversing the landscape of the outdoors the collection of chapters contained range from the theoretical to the practical including strategies for teaching and learning that are transdisciplinary With ideas for practitioners as well as thoughtful reading for readers of diverse ages and interests this book includes contributions from Australia New Zealand Hong Kong United Kingdom and Canada
