Popular Punishment Jesper Ryberg, Julian V. Roberts, 2014 Should public opinion determine or even influence sentencing policy and practice Should the punishment of criminal offenders reflect what the public regards as appropriate These deceptively simple questions conceal complex theoretical and methodological challenges to the administration of punishment In the West politicians have often answered these questions in the affirmative penal reforms have been justified with direct reference to the attitudes of the public This is why the contention that politicians should bridge the gap between the public and criminal justice practice has widespread resonance Criminal law scholars for their part have often been more reluctant to accept public input in penal practice and some have even held that the idea of consulting public opinion constitutes a populist approach to punishment The purpose of this book is to examine the moral significance of public opinion for penal theory and practice For the first time in a single volume the editors Jesper Ryberg and Julian V Roberts have assembled a number of respected criminologists philosophers and legal theorists to address the various aspects of why and how public opinion should be reflected in the way the criminal justice system deals with criminals The chapters address the myriad complexities surrounding this issue by first weighing the justifications for incorporating public views into punishment practices and then considering the various ways this might be achieved through juries prosecutors restorative justice programs and other means

Courts United States. National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals, 1973 This report presents proposals for the restructuring and streamlining of the processing of criminal cases at state and local levels A major restructuring and streamlining of procedures and practices in processing criminal cases at state and local levels is proposed by the National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals The proposals of the Commission appear in the form of specific standards and recommendations almost 100 in all that spell out in detail where why how and what improvements can and should be made in the judicial segment of the criminal justice system The report on courts is a reference work for the practitioner judge court administrator prosecutor or defender as well as the interested layman The Commission argues that the problems which keep the criminal court system from performing its functions are inconsistency in the processing of criminal defendants uncertainty concerning results obtained unacceptable delays and alienation of the community In composing suggested improvements for the court system the Commission's first priority is to devise standards for attaining speed and efficiency in the pretrial and trial processes and prompt finality in appellate proceedings The second priority is the upgrading of defense and prosecution functions and the third priority is the assurance of a high quality in the judiciary To expedite pretrial procedures the prosecutor should screen all criminal cases coming before him and divert from the system all cases wherein further processing by the prosecutor is not appropriate Among Commission recommendations are elimination of all but the investigative function of the grand jury elimination of formal arraignment unification of all courts within each state and the upgrading of criminal court personnel

Military Justice Act of 1983 Advisory Commission,1985      Criminal Courts Aaron Kupchik,2019-01-15 The social organization of criminal courts is the theme of this collection of articles The volume provides contributions to three levels of social organization in criminal courts 1 the macro level involving external economic political and social forces Joachim J Savelsberg Raymond Michalowski Mary E Vogel John Hagan and Ron Levi 2 the meso level consisting of formal structures informal cultural norms and supporting agencies in an interlocking organizational network Malcolm M Feeley Lawrence Mohr Jo Dixon Jeffrey T Ulmer and John H Kramer and 3 the micro level consisting of interactional orders that emerge from the social discourses and categorizations in multiple layers of bargaining and negotiation processes Lisa Frohmann Aaron Kupchik Michael McConville and Chester Mirsky Bankole A Cole An editorial introduction ties these levels together relating them to a Weberian sociology of law      ABA Journal ,1970-01 The ABA Journal serves the legal profession Qualified recipients are lawyers and judges law students law librarians and associate members of the American Bar Association      Justice Connections Patricia Easteal,2014-10-16 Former High Court judge of Australia the Hon Michael Kirby AC CMG in addressing the symposium that has evolved into this book stressed the need for vigilance in the pursuit and protection of justice Justice Connections is evidence of such vigilance The book is a veritable smorgasbord of subjects violence against women Indigenous people sentencing genetic profiling cultural exceptionalism arbitral proceedings and environmental law However certain themes are constant The notion of respect for the individual and their personal characteristics underpins the analyses in the book Accordingly a number of contributors examine the need to recognise and protect the potentially vulnerable in society There is recognition too of the significance of the public interest and public participation in just policy and decision making Whilst the principle of the rule of law is a constant in civilised society another message of the book is that its form is very much an evolving beast Furthermore the book illustrates that justice is not synonymous with law but more as Professor Margaret Thornton concludes a performative idea that is played out differently in different sites by different actors      The Army Lawyer ,1988      The Army Lawyer ,1975      Routledge Handbook on Capital Punishment Robert M. Bohm,Gavin Lee,2017-12-15 Capital punishment is one of the more controversial subjects in the social sciences especially in criminal justice and criminology Over the last decade or so the United States has experienced a significant decline in the number of death sentences and executions Since 2007 eight states have abolished capital punishment bringing the total number of states without the death penalty to 19 plus the District of Columbia and more are likely to follow suit in the near future Nebraska reinstated its death penalty in 2016 Worldwide 70 percent of countries have abolished capital punishment in law or in practice The current trend suggests the eventual demise of capital punishment in all but a few recalcitrant states and countries Within this context a fresh look at capital punishment in the United States and worldwide is warranted The Routledge Handbook on Capital Punishment comprehensively examines the topic of capital punishment from a wide variety of perspectives A thoughtful introductory chapter from experts Bohm and Lee presents a contextual framework for the subject matter and chapters present state of the art analyses of a range of aspects of capital punishment grouped into five sections 1 Capital Punishment History Opinion and Culture 2 Capital Punishment Rationales and Religious Views 3 Capital Punishment and Constitutional Issues 4 The Death Penalty's Administration and 5 The Death Penalty's Consequences This is a key collection for students taking courses in prisons penology criminal justice criminology and related subjects and is also an essential reference for academics and practitioners working in prison service or in related agencies
