Cult Places and Cult Personnel in the Roman Empire Duncan Fishwick, 2023-05-31 The twenty one studies assembled in this volume focus on the apparatus and practitioners of religions in the western Roman empire the enclaves temples altars and monuments that served the cults of a wide range of divinities through the medium of priests and worshippers Discussion focuses on the analysis or reconstruction of the centres at which devotees gathered and draws on the full range of available evidence While literary authorities remain of primary concern these are for the most part overshadowed by other categories of evidence in particular archaeology epigraphy numismatics and iconography sources in some cases confirmed by the latest geophysical techniques electrical resistivity tomography or ground probing radar The material is conveniently presented by geographical area using modern rather than Latin terminology Rome Italy Britain Gaul Spain Hungary along with a broader section that covers the empire in general The titles of the various articles speak for themselves but readers may find the preface of interest in so far as it sets out my ideas on the use of ancient evidence and the pitfalls of some of the approaches favoured by modern scholars Together with the wide range of individual papers the preface makes the book of interest to all students of the Roman empire as well as those specifically concerned with the history of religions

The Headless Republic Jesse Goldhammer, 2005 In The Headless Republic Jesse Goldhammer explores how the French revolutionaries retrieved a set of ideas about founding violence from the classical Romans and early Christians and incorporated it into postrevolutionary debates that echoed into the twentieth century By linking sacrifice as expressed in revolutionary practices to modern French theory Goldhammer shows how ancient ideas of violent political renewal made their way into the contemporary age Goldhammer elucidates the theoretical and practical significance of sacrificial violence during the Revolution and then turns his attention to postrevolutionary intellectuals whose work is inspired by the founding sacrifices of the French Republic Showing how Georges Bataille Joseph de Maistre and Georges Sorel adapted concepts of sacrifice to their own particular political agendas whether reactionary or revolutionary Goldhammer challenges conventional readings of these three thinkers as bloodthirsty intellectuals Instead he argues their work reveals the limits of violence as an agent of political change and attacks the forms of violence later adopted by fascist regimes More broadly Goldhammer makes the case for including ancient concepts of collective bloodshed in the modern lexicon of political violence

The Path of Desire Hugh B. Urban,2024-03-27 A provocative study of contemporary Tantra as a dynamic living tradition Tantra one of the most important religious currents in South Asia is often misrepresented as little more than ritualized sex Through a mixture of ethnography and history Hugh B Urban reveals a dynamic living tradition behind the sensationalist stories Urban shows that Tantric desire goes beyond the erotic encompassing such quotidian experiences as childbearing and healing He traces these holistic desires through a series of unique practices institutional Tantra centered on gurus and esoteric rituals public Tantra marked by performance and festival folk Tantra focused on magic and personal well being and popular Tantra imagined in fiction film and digital media The result is a provocative new description of Hindu Tantra that challenges us to approach religion as something always entwined with politics and culture thoroughly entangled with ordinary needs and desires
