Thinking about Stories Samuel Lebens, Tatjana von Solodkoff, 2023-10-31 Thinking About Stories is a fun and thought provoking introduction to philosophical questions about narrative fiction in its many forms from highbrow literature to pulp fiction to the latest shows on Netflix Written by philosophers Samuel Lebens and Tatjana von Solodkoff it engages with fundamental questions about fiction such as What is it What does it give us Does a story need a narrator And why do sad stories make us cry if we know they aren't real The format of the book emulates a lively verbal exchange each chapter has only one author while the other appears spontaneously in dialogues in the text along the way raising questions and voicing criticisms and inviting responses from their co author This unique format allows readers to feel like they are a part of the conversation about the philosophical foundations of some of the fictions in their own lives Key Features Draws on a wide range of types of narrative fiction from Harry Potter to Breakfast of Champions to Parks and Recreation Explores how fiction despite its detachment from truth is often best able to teach us important things about the world in which we live Concludes by asking in the final chapter whether we all might be fictions Includes bibliographies and suggested reading lists in each chapter

Misunderstood Stories Robert Karl Gnuse, 2014-03-20 Narratives in Genesis 1-11 have been misunderstood in many ways but they especially have been used to oppress women and African Americans and to present a God of wrath and judgment This commentary seeks to explain the real message behind those narratives which is one that speaks of human dignity and equality that affirms monotheism that criticizes kings and tyrants that declares our oneness with the animal realm and nature and that proclaims a powerful message of divine grace with a deity personally involved in the human world Humor may also be found in some of these stories These biblical passages can be best explicated by close reading as well as by knowledge of comparable stories from the ancient Near East and from the classical world and finally by knowledge of the concomitant social and political values connected with those other myths and narratives
