Loss Of A Life Partner Narratives Of The Bereaved:

The Loss of a Life Partner Carolyn Ambler Walter, 2003-03-05 Although there is extensive research on the loss of a spouse predominantly focusing on the experiences of widows much less attention is paid to bereaved partners not married to their significant other whether or not the partners are of the same sex This first of its kind work explores both socially sanctioned and disenfranchised grief highlighting similarities and differences Combining a discussion of various theories of grief with personal narratives of grieving men and women drawn from numerous interviews and detailed case study analysis Carolyn Ambler Walter has produced a penetrating examination of the bereavement experiences of partners in varying types of relationships She views narratives of widows widowers and bereaved domestic gay and lesbian partners from a postmodern perspective that breaks away from the traditional belief that the living must detach themselves from the dead in order to move on with their lives Instead building on the works of postmodern grief theorists such as Klass Silverman and Nickman Walter views ongoing bonds with the dead as a resource for enriching functionality in the present and as a key to looking to the future

The Loss of a Life Partner Carolyn Ambler Walter, 2003 Through discussions of various theories of grief narratives of the bereaved obtained in interviews with 22 men and women case study analysis and chapter summaries this text integrates the literature about and the bereavement experiences of partners in varying types of relationships

Living Through Loss Nancy R. Hooyman, Betty J. Kramer, Sara Sanders, 2021-08-31 Living Through Loss provides a foundational identification of the many ways in which people experience loss over the life course from childhood to old age It examines the interventions most effective at each phase of life combining theory sound clinical practice and empirical research with insights emerging from powerful accounts of personal experience The authors emphasize that loss and grief are universal yet highly individualized Loss comes in many forms and can include not only a loved one's death but also divorce adoption living with chronic illness caregiving retirement and relocation or being abused assaulted or otherwise traumatized They approach the topic from the perspective of the resilience model which acknowledges people's capacity to find meaning in their losses and integrate grief into their lives The book explores the varying roles of age race culture sexual orientation gender and spirituality in responses to loss Presenting a variety of models approaches and resources Living Through Loss offers invaluable lessons that can be applied in any practice setting by a wide range of human service and health care professionals This second edition features new and expanded content on diversity and trauma including discussions of gun violence police brutality suicide and an added focus on systemic racism

The Therapist in Mourning Anne Adelman, Kerry Malawista, 2013-06-04 The unexpected loss of a client can be a lonely and isolating experience for therapists While family and friends can ritually mourn the deceased the nature of the therapeutic relationship prohibits therapists from engaging in such activities Practitioners can only share memories of a client in circumscribed ways while respecting the patient's confidentiality Therefore they may find it difficult to discuss the things that made the therapeutic relationship meaningful Similarly when a therapist loses someone in their private lives they are expected to isolate themselves from grief since allowing one's personal life to enter the working relationship can interfere with a client's self discovery and healing. For therapists caught between their grief and the empathy they provide for their clients this collection explores the complexity of bereavement within the practice setting. It also examines the professional and personal ramifications of death and loss for the practicing clinician. Featuring original essays from longstanding practitioners the collection demonstrates the universal experience of bereavement while outlining a theoretical framework for the position of the bereft therapist. Essays cover the unexpected death of clients and patient suicide, personal loss in a therapist's life, the grief of clients who lose a therapist, disastrous loss within a community and the grief resulting from professional losses and disruptions. The first of its kind this volume gives voice to long suppressed thoughts and emotions enabling psychologists, psychiatrists, counselors and other mental health specialists to achieve the connection and healing they bring to their own work.

Grief and Loss Across the Lifespan, Second Edition Carolyn Ambler Walter, Judith L. M. McCoyd, 2015-09-11

Praise for the First Edition: This book represents a significant advance because it looks at the issues from a bio psychosocial perspective. To a social worker who has worked mainly in a medical and nursing environment this is a great step forward. Bereavement Care Offers valued sensitivities, knowledge and insights and most importantly age appropriate interventions for a range of significant losses. Counselors will want to keep this indispensable work close at hand.

Kenneth J Doka PhD, Author Counseling Individuals With Life Threatening Illness: This unique text for undergraduate and master's level social work and counseling courses on loss, grief and bereavement is distinguished by its biopsychosocial perspective and developmental framework. The book addresses grieving patterns and intervention strategies according to the life trajectory and provides clinical intervention tools and strategies for coping according to the developmental stage of an individual. It incorporates losses beyond death, loss with special focus on losses related to maturational development. The second edition reflects new research that has clarified and underscored the value of theories examined in the first edition, particularly in the areas of continued bonds, disenfranchised grief and ambiguous grief. It describes how grieving is influenced by biological responses to stress, psychological responses to loss and social norms and support networks. The second edition includes significant new information on trauma and resilience and addresses the use of mindfulness practices with grief and loss. It focuses on the changing role of technology including expressions of grief and loss in social media and public forums. Updated information is provided regarding hospice and palliative care along with housing issues in aging. A completely new chapter examines grief and loss counseling with emerging adults and changes in the DSM 5 are covered as well. Additional new features include chapter objectives, discussion questions, an instructor's manual, PowerPoint slides and updated resources.

New to the Second Edition: New information on trauma and resilience; Using mindfulness practices with grief and loss; Updated theory and empirical findings; The changing role of technology in grief; Expressions of grief and loss in social media and public forums; Transitions due to economic and

The New Senior Man Thelma Reese, Barbara M. Fleisher, 2017-10-06 The New Senior Man Exploring New Horizons New Opportunities fills a gap that is already huge and growing Where do men fit into the astonishing changes in both life expectancy and visibility of the aging boomers among us Unlike women who move into retirement years with a network of friends and intimates cultivated over decades men for the most part do it alone Changes in women s lives and in the culture have brought changes for men who were told to man up since they were toddlers Having faced that challenge throughout their lives it s time now to do it again to see changes in the world around them as opportunities to discover new strengths and passions to make the most of the gift of time With perhaps a third of productive life ahead retirement requires redefinition Where are the role models among the men who at this critical turning point in their lives continue to redefine and reinvent their lives past the time of the proverbial gold watch and a set of golf clubs As pioneers in this rapidly emerging new world the men whose narratives appear in this book are role models for each other and those who follow They seek more than advice about investments and improving their golf strokes Men from all walks of life tell us in their own words how they see the challenges and chances that lie ahead and within themselves and how they are taking full advantage of opportunities that re start living Each chapter presents a topic relevant to this later stage of life memory family dynamics sexual intimacy loss and independence among others Like a conversation among friends the book introduces readers to new ways of looking at the present and the future so that men may cultivate a lifestyle that not only suits them but supports a healthy rewarding and enjoyable reframing of life

Family Ties and Aging Ingrid Arnet Connidis, 2010 This advanced textbook covers issues of family ties and aging broadly the goal being to provide an integrated and thorough representation of what we know from the current research Whereas books on families and aging have traditionally focused on ties to a spouse and to children and grandchildren Family Ties Aging is more extensive and more reflective of contemporary society The text includes groups and relationships that typically receive short shrift exploring such neglected populations as single divorced and childless older people and their family relationships as well as sibling relationships among the elderly live in partnerships not formalized by marriage and the kinds of family ties forged by gay and lesbian persons over the life course The book weaves the vast range of information we now have about the many facets of family relationships and aging into a critical comprehensive and integrated whole

Narrative and Grief Patricia English-Schneider,Deleasa Randall-Griffiths,2023-05-15 Grief and loss are fundamental aspects of the human experience Narrative and Grief examines the desire to make sense out of the nonsensical by exploring specific stories of loss and grief spanning from the loss of a parent child or partner loss within larger family systems and ambiguous and anticipatory loss to broader cultural aspects of grief The autoethnographic essays in this book reflect on the unique and individual experiences of each contributor s story Simultaneously these essays reveal that although each grief experience is unique it is also collective evoking broader cultural themes related to loss and grief Scholars of communication sociology and family studies will find this book of particular interest

Living, Loving and Loss Brad DeFord,Richard Gilbert,2016-12-05 One of the unspoken aspects of mourning concerns the ways that loss affects our intimate relationships and our sexual expressiveness This text opens these subjects for conversation with the aim of promoting the trust care and respect that enable us to be vulnerable It purposefully covers a range of topics including 1 the meaning of intimacy and the significance of sexuality providing a basis for the use of these terms throughout the book 2 death grief and differences in sexual orientation including death and intimacy in the lesbian gay bisexual and transgender LGBT community and the losses endured by young people due to gender issues 3 loss of relationship and restoration of intimacy in families including pharmacological effects on the grief processes of widowers grieving a not so loved parent the layered losses of infertility and intimacy and the tolls of war intimacy and sexuality challenges for soldiers and their families 4 adjusting to life s losses associated with aging or illness or infirmity including Alzheimer s and dementia related illnesses physical health losses after 50 and intimacy sex and hospice self determination and dignity at the end of life and 5 religious bases that have shaped our perspectives for understanding intimacy sexuality and healing after loss and which give us hope including the spiritual reflections of a rabbi and a Christian voice in defining what is right Set in a framework that is both psychological and spiritual the well researched contributions are intended to acknowledge these experiences both professionally and personally The book concludes with an extensive bibliography valuable for research and reference This book will be of value in undergraduate and graduate courses on thanatology as well as for anyone interested in knowing more about grief both those currently bereaved and those who wish to support others in mourning The contributors appreciate both the importance of our capacities for intimacy and sexuality and our inhibitions and hesitations in giving voice to our needs and concerns perhaps especially when we are grieving The information and compassionate understanding they provide encourage us to bridge the gap between the secret and the private and to share what is close to our hearts

The Disenfranchised Peggy Sapphire, Shirley Scott, 2016-12-05 The Disenfranchised Stories of Life and Grief When an Ex Spouse Dies offers an unprecedented anthology of never before published first person life histories by ex spouses whose grief has endured as disenfranchised socially unacknowledged untold and unrecognised Each story of disenfranchised grief is fiercely honest and courageously made public This anthology has no parallels in current texts academic literature or mainstream publications Contributors present personal histories revealing that the dimensions of disenfranchised grief are as individual as the writers who have endured this neglected aspect of grief and bereavement In many narratives the healing power of their creative processes through art and poetry is further revealed The anthology is compiled and edited by Peggy Sapphire MS Guidance and Counseling a writer living in Vermont Over the span of five years through phone conversations and written communications Ms Sapphire established trusting relationships with the contributors who though choosing to submit their work often struggled with reluctance even dread at revisiting previously private events in their lives and finally committing their stories to paper and ultimately to publication Each narrative is accompanied by a clinical commentary written by Shirley Scott MS certified Thanatologist which provides readers whether academic practitioner student or lay with reflections on the issues and patterns of disenfranchised grief as reflected by each narrative Included in each commentary are bibliographic references for further and advanced study The contributors represent an extraordinary range of professional achievements and academic credentials well published writers poets working artists educators academics mental health practitioners and health professionals

Handbook of the Sociology of Emotions Jan Stets, Jonathan H. Turner, 2007-02-25 For almost thirty years sociologists have increasingly theorized about and conducted research on human emotions Surprisingly it was not until the 1970s that the sociology of emotions emerged as a coherent field of inquiry What makes this late date surprising is that it is now obvious that human behavior interaction and organization are driven by emotions It was an immense oversight for emotions to be de emphasized in sociological theorizing and research for most of its 175 year history Since the 1970s however the study of emotions has accelerated and is now at the forefront of sociological analysis This book is designed to bring the reader up to date on the theory and research traditions that have proliferated in the analysis of human emotions Key figures who have carried the sociology of emotions to its current level of prominence review their own work and the work of others who have made contributions to a particular approach to the study of emotions The outcome is a comprehensive book that serves as a primer on the cutting edge of sociological work in what is obviously a key dynamic in human affairs The first section of the book addresses the range of emotions and how they can be classified the neurological underpinnings of emotions and the effect of gender on emotions The second section reviews the prominent sociological theories of emotions including theories emphasizing power and status rituals identity and self psychoanalytic dynamics exchange expectation states and evolution While there is little integration among these theories this state of affairs will not last forever The third section addresses theory and research on specific emotions such as love jealousy and envy empathy sympathy anger grief and the moral emotions While this list does not exhaust the range of human feeling they are central emotions that drive human behavior interaction and social organization The last section explores how the study of emotions has added new insight into other subfields within sociology such as the study of the workplace health and social movements These chapters illustrate how the sociology of emotions can provide new research and theory for the large numbers of specialties within sociology Although no book can completely cover a field even a relatively new one like the sociology of emotions this Handbook of the Sociology of Emotions comes close to being comprehensive The reader will come away with a greater appreciation for how far the sociology of emotions has developed and prospered over the last thirty years

Pastoral Care Dr. Karen D. Scheib, 2016-02-16 Christian pastoral care is a narrative ecclesial theological practice NET As a narrative practice pastoral care attends to the inseparable interconnection between our own lifestories others stories the larger cultural stories and God's story As a ministry of the church pastoral care is an ecclesial practice that derives its motivation purpose and identity from the larger mission of the church to bear witness to and embody God's mission of love that extends beyond the church for the transformation of the world As a theological practice pastoral care is grounded in God's love story God's profound love for humankind heals our brokenness when human love fails and invites us into an ongoing process of growth in love of God self and neighbor Intended for those who provide care with and on behalf of religious communities author Karen Scheib focuses on listening and restorying practices occurring in the context and setting of congregations By coauthoring narratives that promote healing and growth in love pastoral caregivers become cocreators and companions who help others revise and construct life stories reshaped by the grace of God What Karen Scheib has done in this book is to reposition pastoral care as a theological activity performed in the context of the church She draws deeply upon her Wesleyan theological heritage upon an understanding of life in its fullness as growth in love and grace and upon a communion ecclesiology undergirded by a communal understanding of the Trinitarian life of God Thus grounded she envisions pastoral care first as a rhythm of the life of the whole church and secondarily as a work of trained pastors In her vision pastoral care is rescued from a narrow understanding of it as exceptional acts of intervention performed only in moments of dire crisis Instead it becomes a daily practice of pastoral care an attending in love to the stories of others and a listening for ways God is already present in a life story Solidly theological grounded in the life of the church and eminently teachable Karen Scheib has given us a great gift in this book from the Foreword Thomas G Long Bandy Professor of Preaching Emeritus Candler School of Theology Emory University Atlanta GA In a wonderfully engaging reflective and useful way Karen Scheib captures something absolutely essential to pastoral care and yet often overlooked the utter centrality of storytelling listening the power of stories to heal and their vital connection to bigger stories told within religious communities This book is a real milestone reclaiming the importance of narrative knowing and grounding care not only in community but also within a comprehensive theological framework Bonnie J Miller McLemore E Rhodes and Leona B Carpenter Professor of Religion Psychology and Culture The Divinity School and Graduate Department of Religion Vanderbilt University Divinity School Nashville TN Implementing narrative personality and therapy theories and anchored in ecclesiology and Wesleyan theology NET Karen Scheib's book advances a long awaited and holistic approach to pastoral care Her NET approach presents the embodiment of pastoral care by emphasizing both narrative and paradigmatic knowing proposes the subjectivity of our stories in pastoral care by pointing out the interchangeability between us and our stories as subject and object and underscores the dynamic process of pastoral care through the interconnection of the storyteller listener and context Scheib's image of story companion contributes to the field as a new paradigm of pastoral care and promises to be a significant resource in generating hope and growth in love for both pastoral caregiver and receiver Angella Son Associate Professor Drew University Madison NJ Pastoral theologian Scheib describes a narrative ecclesial and theological approach for listening to people's life stories in such a way as to engender spiritual formation and growth in love Scheib clarifies the connections between caring conversations and Christian theology Clear and accessible prose as well as helpful exercises and discussion starters make this a fine teaching text The Christian Century Sept 29 2016 The New Senior Woman Barbara M. Russell Cheney fell in love and remained inseparable until Cheney's death in 1945. During the intervening years the men traveled throughout Europe and the United States achieving great professional success while contending with serious personal challenges including addiction, chronic disease, and severe depression. Situating the couple's private correspondence alongside other sources, Scott Bane tells the remarkable story of their relationship in the context of shifting social dynamics in the United States. From the vantage point of the present day, with marriage equality enacted into law, Bane provides a window into the realities faced by same-sex couples in the early twentieth century as they maintained relationships in the face of overt discrimination and the absence of legal protections. A nuanced exploration of a marriage one characterized by great joy but also buffeted by tremendous conflict, societal, financial, and health-related. R. Tripp Evans, author of Grant Wood's Life. A smart, sensitive study of a gay couple, extremely readable. Gay Lesbian Review. An arresting account of how a same-sex relationship endured. Library Journal.
