Early Music Thomas Forrest Kelly, 2011-04-25 From Gregorian chant to Bach's Brandenburg Concerti the music of the Medieval Renaissance and Baroque periods is both beautiful and intriguing In this Very Short Introduction Thomas Forrest Kelly provides not only a compact overview of the music itself but also a lively look at the many attempts over the last two

Lodato, Suzanne Aspden, Walter Bernhart, 2002 The eighteen interdisciplinary essays in this volume were presented in 2001 in Sydney Australia at the Third International Conference on Word and Music Studies which was sponsored by The International Association for Word and Music Studies WMA The conference celebrated the sixty fifth birthday of Steven Paul Scher arguably the central figure in word and music studies during the last thirty five years The first section of this volume comprises ten articles that discuss or are methodologically based upon Scher's many analyses of and critical commentaries on the field particularly on interrelationships between words and music The authors cover such topics as semiotics intermediality hermeneutics the de-essentialization of the arts and the works of a wide range of literary figures and composers that include Baudelaire Mallarmé Proust T S Eliot Goethe Hölderlin Mann Britten Schubert Schumann and Wagner The second section consists of a second set of papers presented at the conference that are devoted to a different area of word and music studies cultural identity and the musical stage Eight scholars investigate and often problematize widespread assumptions regarding national and cultural music language plots and production values in musical stage works Topics include the National Socialists construction of German national identity reception based examinations of cultural identity and various national opera styles and the means by which composers librettists and lyricists have attempted to establish national or cultural identity through their stage works Genres of Critique Karin van Marle, Stewart Motha, 2013-12-01 The book seeks to open and explore the liminal space of critique at the intersection of law aesthetics and politics The essays in this volume elaborate and expand the meaning and significance of critique through an engagement with aesthetic forms Although this endeavour has wider significance the focus is primarily on South Africa The various contributions arose out of a process of reading writing and discussion among visiting scholars at the Stellenbosch Institute for Advanced Study STIAS Stellenbosch University South Africa in 2010 The project responds to the limits of the transplantation of critical legal studies into different jurisdictions especially South Africa The essays develop an approach to critical legal thinking that is conscious of critique as a problem of genre and seek to open up this problem of genre in the context of critical legal studies The War on Music John Mauceri, 2022-04-26 A prominent conductor explores how aesthetic criteria masked the political goals of countries during the three great wars of the past century Mauceri's writing is more exhilarating than any helicopter ride we have been on Air Mail Fluently written and often cogent Barton Swaim Wall Street Journal This book offers a major reassessment of classical music in the twentieth century John Mauceri argues that the history of music during this span was shaped by three major wars of that century World War I World War II and the Cold War Probing why so few works have been added to the canon since 1930 Mauceri examines the trajectories of great composers who following World War I created voices that were unique and versatile but superficially simpler He contends that the fate of composers during World War II is inextricably linked to the political goals of their respective governments resulting in the silencing of experimental music in Germany Italy and Russia the exodus of composers to America and the sudden return of experimental music what he calls the institutional avant garde as the lingua franca of classical music in the West during the Cold War
