Lost Stories:

After Postmodernism Christopher K. Coffman, Theophilus Savvas, 2020-12-18 Several of American literature's most prominent authors and many of their most perceptive critics and reviewers argue that fiction of the last quarter century has turned away from the tendencies of postmodernist writing. Yet the nature of that turn and the defining qualities of American fiction after postmodernism remain less than clear. This volume identifies four prominent trends of the contemporary scene: the recovery of the real, a rethinking of historical engagement, a preoccupation with materiality, and a turn to the planetary. Readings of works by various leading figures including Dave Eggers, Jonathan Franzen, A. M. Homes, Lance Olsen, Richard Powers, William T. Vollmann, and David Foster Wallace support a variety of arguments about this recent revitalization of American literature. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Textual Practice.

The Search for Smilin' Ed Kim Deitch, 2010-01-01 Launched on his latest investigation by a remark from his brother about a shared childhood favorite, Y know I heard that when Smilin' Ed died, his body was never found. Deitch begins to uncover some truly amazing things about the kiddie show host and his malevolent sidekick Froggy the Gremlin. Meanwhile, Deitch's muse and nemesis Waldo the Cat abandons Deitch to hang out with some demon buddies, and soon both Waldo and Deitch are closing in on the mysteries of Smilin' Ed and Froggy. Ranging across the entire twentieth century, replete with flashbacks, stories within stories, and guest appearances from other Deitch regulars, The Search for Smilin' Ed is a narrative whirligig that shows Deitch at his wildest and woolliest.
