China s engagement in Africa is generally portrayed simply as African countries being exploited for their mineral wealth by a wealthy political and economic superpower Is this always the case Certain African countries have been able to use China s involvement in the region to grow their economies and solicit renewed interest from previously disengaged foreign powers by using their relationship with China to bolster their political capital In this thought provoking and original work Lucy Corkin demonstrates how Angola has been amongst the most successful of African nations in this role The concept of African agency covers a wide range of different countries with very different capabilities and experiences of engaging with China In each individual country there are a myriad of actors all with increasingly discernible agencies Uncovering African Agency Angola's Management of China's Credit Lines casts a fascinating new light on China's involvement with her largest African trading partner and through this shows how different African states and the governmental actors within them are able to exploit the relationship to their best advantage The G8, the United Nations, and Conflict Prevention Radoslava N.

Stefanova, 2017-03-02 This innovative and forward looking work examines the Genoa summit agenda with a view to strengthening international conflict prevention institutions and identifying and analyzing economic early warning indicators It devotes particular attention to the Italian contribution and approach and the ways in which it can be effectively implemented following the summit The first book to compare the role of the G8 and the United Nations in conflict prevention and human security The G8 the United Nations and Conflict Prevention will be essential reading for academics government officials and members of the business and media communities Negotiating Trade Liberalization in Argentina and Chile Andrea C. Bianculli, 2016-12-08 How do international negotiations affect domestic politics Starting in the 1990s countries throughout Latin America embarked on many and simultaneous negotiations On the shifting ground of widening and deepening trade agendas and diverse arenas what factors determined trade politics This book examines the domestic political dynamics triggered by South South North South and multilateral agendas in Argentina and Chile between 1990 and 2005 Using a much needed cross negotiation and cross country comparative perspectives and through detailed empirical analyses of several key negotiations it proposes an explanation that emphasizes the interplay between international negotiations and domestic trade politics taken as the result of the complex and dynamic interdependencies and interrelations between state and society Informed by interviews with public officials businesses and civil society the analysis reveals that variation in the depth of agendas the distributional effects and the uncertainty of political outcomes all have important consequences for domestic preference formation collective action strategies and types of relationships Given this the variety of negotiations when considered separately and comparatively show that South South North South and multilateral processes promote different patterns of trade politics In sum although national specificities and historical legacies are important the book argues that trade policy comes first in creating domestic politics in Latin America The G20 Peter I.

Hajnal, 2019-01-24 This revised and updated edition presents detailed analysis of the history and current state of the G20 and the challenges it faces The emergence of the G20 was the result of calls for full inclusion of major developing and other systemically important countries and to reflect new global economic and political realities The growth of Chinese power growing significance of other major developing countries and new concerns concerning anti globalization and rising protectionism in the West have all resulted in important changes to the dynamics of the institution The suspension of Russia's membership in the G8 has also necessitated a change in G7 G20 dynamics and the G20's processes agenda priorities and role in global governance Providing a historical overview and analysis of the evolving agenda methods of performance evaluation relationship with structured international organizations and other external actors Hajnal's text is an authoritative work of history analysis and reference on the G20 and also G7 G8 G20 reform This book is an essential source for researchers and students focusing on the G20 international organizations and global governance and more generally for scholars in the fields of political science economics and finance International Summitry and Global Governance Emmanuel

Mourlon-Druol, Federico Romero, 2014-03-05 This volume is the first detailed study of the emergence of regular and frequent heads of government meetings summits covering the period from the mid 1970s to the early 1990s Summit meetings of heads of government have become banal in today's world Yet they are a relatively recent practice that took off only in the mid 1970s The aim of the book is to explore the origins of this new feature of global governance in its historical context Why did heads of Western governments decide to regularly meet up in the European Council and the G7 What were they aiming at How were these meetings run and what consequences did they have How did other actors of international relations states as well as non state and or transnational actors react to this transformation Based on newly released archival material

International Summitry and Global Governance investigates the rise of regular international summitry and its impact on international relations The volume brings together the best specialists of this new field of historical enquiry in order to explore those features of global governance in their historical context and open up an interdisciplinary dialogue with social scientists who have studied summits from their own disciplinary perspectives This book will be of much interest to students of international history Cold War studies global governance foreign policy and IR in general South African Foreign
