Strategies of Multinational corporations in the emerging markets China and India

Andreas van de Kuil, 2008-10-29 Inhaltsangabe Abstract In recent years China and India have become two of the most important markets in terms of sales low cost manufacturing and R D operations The future progress will increase the competitive advantage for both countries and attract MNC s from all over the world to invest Nevertheless success is not guaranteed even with the large business opportunities that China and India provide A MNC has to be aware of various challenges that both countries pose such as government interventions underdeveloped infrastructures or copyright violations Hence MNC s need efficient strategies in order to compete and improve their position in these markets Particularly the implementation of an efficient innovation and knowledge strategy has become a crucial aspect Effectiveness in local product adjustments globalizing R D tailoring talent management mastering the complexity of global value chains and managing risks are success factors that have to be considered This however is not an easy task Multiple failures of MNC s in China and India demonstrate that it is important to adapt a company s strategy to the local customer needs and to obtain a competitive advantage in the field of innovation The purpose of this master thesis is to discuss all these aspects and present crucial factors for the implementation of an efficient strategy for the two markets China and India with a focus on innovation and knowledge Obviously there are limits to the scope of this dissertation Some aspects as for example the cultural background of both countries governmental restrictions the role of outsourcing or the availability of financial resources have either not been considered or are only discussed briefly Moreover this dissertation will only provide a general overview as the business environment of MNC s in each market will differ Introduction In the last 10 to 20 years the term emerging market has become very important in the international business context because countries such as China or India grew heavily and created new enormous market segments Companies from all over the world are seeking to do business in economically developing countries because of their great potential Gross domestic product GDP per capita figures exceeding 10 per cent a year a business environment of over five billion people approximately 80 per cent of the global population a growing domestic customer group of wealthy people excellently educated

Climate Governance in China Lina Li, Maia Haru

Hall, 2023-05-03 This book explores how and why innovative climate policies spread across subnational regions and between governance levels in China Despite the significance of emerging economies in a pathway to a zero carbon future research to date on China s transformation governance remains limited Drawing on a theoretical framework for policy diffusion and based on extensive data from expert interviews with Chinese decisionmakers and policy practitioners Lina Li and Maia Haru Hall focus on the policy of emissions trading systems ETS and two key case studies Shanghai and Hubei The authors examine the role of the national government and how much freedom the subnational regions have in developing ETS policy as well as pinpointing key actors and the role of policy and knowledge diffusion mechanisms Overall this book sheds light on the competition between China and the West in the transition to climate friendly societies and economies highlighting opportunities for cooperation between them This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of environmental politics and policy climate change urban studies and Chinese studies more broadly      China's Policy in Africa 1958-71 Alaba Ogunsanwo,1974-07-18 Monograph examining the role of China foreign policy in Africa from 1958 to 1971 traces the evolution of Chinese diplomacy discusses conflicts with the USA and the USSR considers China's attitude towards international relations describes economic aid and trade programmes and analyses Chinese political ideology and the efforts undertaken to encourage revolutionary social change etc Bibliography pp 287 to 291 references and statistical tables

China's Evolving Approach to Peacekeeping Marc Lanteigne,Miwa Hirono,2013-09-13 China has become an enthusiastic supporter of and contributor to UN peacekeeping Is China's participation in peacekeeping likely to strengthen the current international peacekeeping regime by China's adopting of the international norms of peacekeeping Or on the contrary is it likely to alter the peacekeeping norms in a way that aligns with its own worldview And as China's international confidence grows will it begin to consider peacekeeping a smaller and lesser part of its international security activity and thus not care so much about it This book aims to address these questions by examining how the PRC has developed its peacekeeping policy and practices in relation to its international status It does so by bringing in both historical and conceptual analyses and specific case oriented discussions of China's peacekeeping over the past twenty years The book identifies the various challenges that China has faced at political conceptual and operational levels and the ways in which the country has dealt with those challenges and considers the implication of such challenges with regards to the future of international peacekeeping This book was originally published as a special issue of International Peacekeeping      Locating
