The Child Welfare Challenge, 2017-07-28 This newly revised and updated edition of a widely adopted text continues to address a broad array of issues in supporting children and strengthening families It includes key information about federal legislation as well as policy related outcomes research in child welfare The first edition of The Child Welfare Challenge was hailed by Social Work as an excellent source from which to gain an in depth understanding of the practice and policy dimensions of child maltreatment foster care and adoption and by the Journal of Sociology and Social Welfare as essential reading for anyone interested in knowing more about child welfare practice in social work Within a historical and contemporary context this book examines major policy practice and research issues as they jointly shape current child welfare practice and possible future directions In addition to describing the major challenges facing the child welfare field the book highlights some of the service innovations that have been developed as these could be used to help address some of these challenges In child welfare the focus is on families and children whose primary recourse to services has been through publicly funded agencies The contributors consider historical areas of service foster care and adoptions in home family centered services child protective services and residential services in which social work has a legitimate long standing and important mission This is a comprehensive book but one that appreciates the fact that many areas such as daycare and early intervention invite exploration It is unique in that each chapter describes how policy initiatives and research can or should influence program design and implementation Benefiting by Design Arlene E. Edwards, Chemba Raghavan, Kim Marie Vaz, 2009-01-14 The presence of women of color within the practical applications of social science research findings is severely limited since spaces where and when women of color enter the arenas of research methodology research question and intervention design and knowledge generation is often that of the other Benefitting by Design addresses this limitation It does so by locating the experience and knowledge of women of color as its central theme with sections of the text referring to emerging trends that attend to the need for greater representation of women of color in research and academic settings A key theme is the dislodging of currently accepted positions for the experience of women of color as marginalized and subsumed under normative modes of examination to central positions in areas of social science research and clinical practice This is in response to the typical assumption of the need to fix women of color be it based on their immigration status sexual orientation race culture class or spiritual practice Benefitting By Design attends to the salient contexts of the lives of women of color from an emic perspective by providing models for addressing the limitations that result from exclusion and strategies for centering the experiential knowledge of women of color in social science research and practice that is designed for their benefit

Lesbians, Gays, & the Empowerment Perspective Carol Thorpe Tully, 2000 The author offers practical applications for the social worker and client at the micro mezzo and macro levels Eye opening case studies are provided for each age group and cover everything from defining problems identifying the underlying issues causing them understanding the role of homophobia and the application of the empowerment perspective

The Challenge of Permanency Planning in a Multicultural Society Gary R. Anderson, Bogart R. Leashore, 1997 Explains to child welfare workers supervisors trainers and program managers the importance of cultural knowledge sensitivity and skill for putting permanency and stability into the lives of at risk children Considers the role of culture in a family's life and how to use that understanding to prevent unnecessary out of home placements judge when the time is right to reunify parents and children and determine when adoption is the best choice Paper edition 0302 3 19 95 Also published as the Journal of Multicultural Social Work v 5 nos 1 2 3 4 1997 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Evaluation in Child and Family Services Tiziano Vecchiato, Anthony N. Maluccio, Cinzia Canali, As child and family interventions assume greater international application it will be helpful to examine the various ways in which service innovations are being evaluated As demonstrated in the seminar from which these chapters resulted only by sharing our specific professional interests our too frequent problems in measurement our despair in implementing complicated studies and our successes can we advance the evaluation of human services and their outcomes This volume considers a variety of programs and issues in the field of child and family services While different perspectives are evident among the authors in terms of their focus and or emphasis there is common concern about the value of examining each program or service so as to maximize its impact as well as its potential for dissemination Intervention research should spur and motivate cross national efforts not only among researchers but also among social workers and other practitioners from diverse professions engaged in the delivery of human services Such collaboration would contribute to the ultimate goals of achieving greater clarity about the specifics of best practices in child and family services protocols for assessing outcomes and ways of improving service delivery How then can researchers and policymakers in diverse settings within diverse countries improve practice and service delivery on behalf of children and families What particular program findings can be generalized to improve services How can we share and implement new solutions The contributions to this volume address such questions from varying international perspectives Contributors provide answers and generate discussion points for consideration by practitioners as well as researchers The book is a must for social work parishioners in areas involving the delivery of goods as well as services Tiziano Vecchiato is scientific director of the Fondazione Emanuela Zancan Padua Italy Anthony N Maluccio is professor of social work at Boston College Graduate School of Social Work Chestnut Hill Massachusetts Cinzia Canali is research associate at the Fondazione Emanuela Zancan Padua Italy
