Seven Points Of Mind Training:

The Seven Points of Mind Training Rinpoche Thrangu, 2002 This Text On Mind Training Called Lo Jong In Tibetan Was Brought To Tibet By Atisha In The Eleventh Century The Seven-Point Mind Training B. Alan Wallace, 2012-05-16 A guide to the Tibetan Buddhist practice of lojong meditation or mind training as a way to pause reflect and discover the true meaning and value of life In this society with its hurly burly pace demanding of our time it is ever so easy to let life slip by Looking back after ten twenty thirty years we wonder what we have really accomplished The process of simply existing is not necessarily meaningful And yet there is an unlimited potential for meaning and value in this human existence The Seven Point Mind Training is one eminently practical way of tapping into that meaning At the heart of the Seven Point Mind Training lies the transformation of the circumstances that life brings us however hard as the raw material from which we create our own spiritual path The central theme of the Seven Point Mind Training is to make the liberating passage from the constricting solitude of self centeredness to the warm kinship with others which occurs with the cultivation of cherishing others This Mind Training is especially well suited for an active life It helps us to reexamine our relationships to family friends enemies and strangers and gradually transform our responses to whatever life throws our way An Extensive Commentary on the Seven Point Mind Training Lobsang Gyatso, 2017-01-01 The mind training tradition that developed in Tibet has its source from the great Indian masters Nagarjuna and Shantideva and it was brought into Tibet by Atisha in the eleventh century The practice of Mind training is based on the essential Mahayana teachings of impermanence compassion and the exchange of self and other The lojong teachings are a source of inspiration and guidance shared by masters of all Tibetan traditions The Seven Point Mind Training is a popular Tibetan Buddhist text by a twelfth century Kadampa master Geshe Chekawa An Extensive Commentary on the Seven Point Mind Training is a commentary on The Seven Point Mind Training by Geshe Lobsang Gyatsho In this book he explains the practice of Mind Training as the synthesis of all the various trainings of Mahayana Buddhism into one practice with nothing omitted whatsoever He constantly emphasizes the daily practice of the Mind Training teachings over mere study or memorization and enjoins us to place whatever intellectual understanding we may have into pure Dharma practice right now Since the root text used here comprises pithy statements handed down by the great Kadampa masters of Tibet that require further elucidation Gen Lobsang Gyatso explains them with the expertise of an individual who has lived these teachings for many years and has come to a personal experiential mastery of them He espouses them as the fundamental antidote to our samsaric suffering and afflictive emotions the adamant antidote that crushes our own worst enemy our self centered attitude Among many text on Mind Training Geshe Chekawa's Seven Points for Training the Mind is widely used Chekhawa was said to possess all the marks of a great being right from his birth He received the Milarepa instructions from Rechungpa and had many other great teachers like Geshe Tsan Jayulpa and so forth It is said that he had memorized over one hundred scriptures but always felt incomplete thinking that there must be some other teaching for achieving enlightenment Then at thirty he met the great teacher Sharawa who gave him experiential teaching for twelve years Geshe Chekhawa was very satisfied as we see at the end of his text on the Seven Points of Mind Training where he says Now I have no regrets even if I die Sharawa gave this practice of exchanging oneself for the other as a secret teaching to Chekhawa Thus the special focus of this text is how to eliminate self cherishing attitudes which are the source of all the sufferings and problems that we face in our life
