Sex Is A Parent Affair:

Sex is a Parent Affair Letha Scanzoni, 1973 Sex Is A Parent Affair Tos Letha Scanzoni, 1982 Patterns Of Infidelity And Their Treatment Emily M. Brown, 2013-05-13 The new edition of this highly regarded book includes comprehensive discussion of the nature of an affair and the five types of affairs and their underlying dynamics The author addresses issues regarding revealing the affair management of the consequences rebuilding and treating an unmarried third party as well as the host of complex issues regarding children and custody arrangements New material for the second edition includes cybersex and the effects of new technology on fidelity in marriage the effects of managed care on treatment marriage to the third party and a new chapter on affairs and violence Encyclopedia of Evangelicalism Randall Herbert Balmer, 2002-01-01 The Encyclopedia of Evangelicalism is the most comprehensive resource about evangelicalism available With nearly 3 000 separate entries the Encyclopedia of Evangelicalism covers historical and contemporary theologians preachers laity cultural figures musicians televangelists movements organizations denominations folkways theological terms events and more Students scholars and libraries will all benefit from it The Extramarital Affair Herbert S. Streehan, 2000 An extramarital affair is according to Dr Herbert Streehan a form of neurotic behavior that reflects the person's unresolved childhood conflicts and present level of maturity Using numerous case histories that provide excellent illustrations he describes conflicted marriages and the expectations disappointments and frustrations of those who use affairs as a means of escape Issues such as mate choice types of marriages spouses reactions and unconscious compliance add depth and complexity to this important and often provocative subject A Parent's Guide to Sex Education Mary Ann Mayo, 1986

Father-Daughter Incest in Twentieth-Century American Literature Christine Grogan, 2016-10-03 The first major study to challenge the narrow definition of post traumatic stress disorder PTSD by rereading six American literary texts this book argues for the importance of literature in representing not just circumscribed singular traumatic events as Cathy Caruth argued in the late nineties but for giving voice to chronic and cumulative or complex traumatic experiences This interdisciplinary study traces the development of father daughter incest narratives published in the last hundred years from male authored fiction to female authored memoir bringing new readings to Fitzgerald's Tender Is the Night Ellison's Invisible Man and the Dylan Farrow Woody Allen case This study builds on the work of those ushering in a second wave of trauma theory which has argued that the difficulty of speaking about a traumatic experience is not necessarily caused by neurobiological changes that prevent victims from recalling details Rather it's from social and political repercussions In other words they argue that many who experience trauma aren't unable to deliver accounts they fear the results There is a significant gender component to trauma whose implications along with those of race and class have largely gone unexamined in the first wave of trauma theory Exploring two additional questions about articulating trauma this book asks what happens when the voice of trauma is crying out from what Toni Morrison has called the most delicate most vulnerable member of society a female child and second what happens when the trauma is not just a time limit event but chronic and cumulative experiences Some traumatic experiences namely father daughter incest are culturally reduced to the untellable and yet accounts of paternal incest are readily available in American literature This book is written in part as a response to the psychological community which failed to include complex PTSD in the latest edition of the DSM DSM 5 denying victims many of whom are father daughter incest survivors the validation and recognition they deserve and leaving many misdiagnosed and thereby mistreated
