Sex Roles, Family & Community in Turkey İlhan Başgöz, 1982-06-01 Sex Roles, Family & Community in Turkey
Çiğdem Kağıtçıbaşı, Diane Sunar, 1982 Autonomy and Dependence in the Family Rita Liljestrom, 2003-09-02 What are the future prospects of the modern family For a long time the common image in the West has been to see the nuclear family consisting of two economically independent spouses and their children as the natural outcome of the modernization process As the hierarchies of patriarchal society vanish a social order based on equal and autonomous individuals all set for self realisation has been assumed However high rates of divorce often reported domestic violence teenagers left on their own at an early age do not harmonize very well with this idealized image Critical analysis of family order in two countries at the opposite edges of the European continent Turkey and Sweden approaches these problems and attempts to create a more realistic picture of family life in the modern world The Patriarchal Paradox Yeşim Arat, 1989 An investigation that reveals the paradoxical nature of the patriarchal ties that bind Turkish women politicians These women are also Muslim women expressing themselves in a political medium both secular and democratic yet in a context in which neither secular nor democratic politics is firmly embedded Patriarchy After Patriarchy Karl Kaser, 2008 Since the second half of the 1980s social movements which questioned the legitimacy of the hitherto seemingly stable systems of Kemalist Turkey and socialist Balkans won ground Political Islam struck Turkey in the Balkan socialist countries the dams broke and parliamentary democracies replaced monolithic socialist regimes These processes have not been gender neutral Therefore the central question is after the abolition of patriarchy and the official installation of gender equality are patriarchy and female discrimination returning in the region through the backdoor although in a modernized version Widows: The Middle East, Asia, and the Pacific Helena Znaniecka Lopata, 1987 What happens when the husband dies depends on the society on the location of the widow in urban rural or class terms and on the widow's own personal resources In some societies the woman is totally dependent upon a grown son and cannot remarry in others such as that in the United States she is more dependent upon her own resources and wishes For some widowhood results in a great loss of status for others it can mean loneliness and social isolation Yet widowhood can mean greater social freedom for some women a blooming of personality Even grief is experienced in various ways and degrees Thus there is no such thing as a widow type only a great heterogeneity in widowhood as in wifehood Volume I analyzes the support systems and life styles of widows in Australia the Philippines Korea Iran China a Pacific island India Turkey and Israel Volume II North America examines two communities in Canada a Florida retirement community and communities in several other locations as well as the relative situations of homeowners blacks and poor ethnic populations Between Sex and Power Göran Therborn, 2004-07-31 The institution of the family changed hugely during the course of the twentieth century In this major new work Göran Therborn provides a global history and sociology of the family as an institution and of politics within the family focusing on three dimensions of family relations on the rights and powers of fathers and husbands on marriage cohabitation and extra marital sexuality and on population policy Therborn s empirical analysis uses a multi disciplinary approach to show how the major family systems of the world have been formed and developed Therborn concludes by assessing what changes the family might see during the next century This book will be essential reading for anybody with an interest in either the sociology or the history of the family
