Lost Universe 5:

The Lost Universe Gene Weltfish, 1977-01-01 A fascinating insight into the life and culture of the Pawnee people is achieved here by the author's presentation of carefully gathered information in the form of a narrative of one year in Pawnee village. The first few chapters lay the groundwork of kinship lines followed by a narration of the life of one person in the village. Customs, ceremonies, beliefs, and hard work become apparent as the author leads one through the intricacies of the activities. Although it presents a great deal of detailed anthropological material, the manner of presentation turns the book into a readable account. The book is based on years of first-hand study as well as scholarly research and is recommended as an in-depth study of Plains Indian life. Reprint Bulletin Book Reviews. Gene Weltfish is coauthor with Ruth Benedict of The Races of Mankind. She is also the author of The Origins of Art and other books.

How the West Was Drawn David Bernstein, 2018-08 How the West Was Drawn explores the geographic and historical experiences of the Pawnees, the Iowas, and the Lakotas during the European and American contest for imperial control of the Great Plains during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. David Bernstein argues that the American West was a collaborative construction between Native peoples and Euro-American empires that developed cartographic processes and culturally specific maps which in turn reflected encounter and conflict between settler states and indigenous peoples. Bernstein explores the cartographic creation of the Trans-Mississippi West through an interdisciplinary methodology in geography and history. He shows how the Pawnees and the Iowas, wedged between powerful Osages, Sioux, the horse and captive-rich Comanche Empire, French fur traders, Spanish merchants, and American Indian agents and explorers, devised strategies of survivance and diplomacy to retain autonomy during this era. The Pawnees and the Iowas developed a strategy of cartographic resistance to predations by both Euro-American imperial powers and strong indigenous empires navigating the volatile and rapidly changing world of the Great Plains by brokering their spatial and territorial knowledge either to stronger indigenous nations or to much weaker and conquerable American and European powers. How the West Was Drawn is a revisionist and interdisciplinary understanding of the global imperial contest for North America's Great Plains that illuminates in fine detail the strategies of survival of the Pawnees, the Iowas, and the Lakotas amid accommodation to predatory Euro-American and Native empires.

party in blue Paradox Lost Richard P. Hansen, 2016-05-03 Too often the tensions and unanswerable questions of Scripture and the Christian life are seen as barriers to faith In Paradox Lost pastor and author Richard Hansen shows that they are exactly the opposite indeed God's mysteries are one of the places where we may encounter him most closely In exchange for Enlightenment based rationalism that can stunt spiritual imagination Hansen invites readers to Discern that there is a hiddenness to God that can be inviting rather than threatening Appreciate that God is far greater than we sometimes assume and to adjust our mental maps to make more space for awe Realize that faith and reason are not enemies but rather dance partners that complement one another Hansen examines three kinds or orders of biblical paradox each at a deeper level than the last demonstrating for readers that paradox is both endemic to modern life and also a natural part of the landscape of Christian faith Paradox Lost doesn't seek to solve or justify paradox instead it looks through paradox toward what it reveals namely a holy mysterious and awesome God The Roots of Dependency Richard White, 1988-01-01

Gump,2016 In 1876 Lakota and Cheyenne warriors annihilated Custer's Seventh Cavalry at Little Bighorn Three years later and half a world away a British force was wiped out by Zulu warriors at Isandhlwana in South Africa In both cases the total defeat of regular army troops by forces regarded as undisciplined barbarian tribesmen stunned an imperial nation Although the similarities between the two frontier encounters have long been noted James O Gump's book The Dust Rose Like Smoke is the first to scrutinize them in a comparative context This study issues a challenge to American exceptionalism he writes Viewing both episodes as part of a global pattern of intensified conflict in the latter 1800s resulting from Western domination over a vast portion of the globe Gump's comparative study persuasively traces the origins and aftermath of both episodes He examines the complicated ways in which Lakota and Zulu leadership sought to protect indigenous interests while Western leadership calculated their subjugation to imperial authority The second edition includes a new preface from the author revised and expanded chapters and an interview with Leonard Little Finger great great grandson of Ghost Dance leader Big Foot whose story connects Wounded Knee and Nelson Mandela Homesteading the Plains Richard Edwards,Jacob K. Friefeld,Rebecca S. Wingo,2017 Homesteading the Plains offers a bold new look at the history of homesteading overturning what for decades has been the orthodox scholarly view The authors begin by noting the striking disparity between the public's perception of homesteading as a cherished part of our national narrative and most scholars harshly negative and dismissive treatment Homesteading the Plains reexamines old data and draws from newly available digitized records to reassess the current interpretation's four principal tenets homesteading was a minor factor in farm formation with most Western farmers purchasing their land most homesteaders failed to prove up their claims the homesteading process was rife with corruption and fraud and homesteading caused Indian land dispossession Using data instead of anecdotes and focusing mainly on the nineteenth century Homesteading the Plains demonstrates that the first three tenets are wrong and the fourth only partially true In short the public's perception of homesteading is perhaps more accurate than the one scholars have constructed Homesteading the Plains provides the basis for an understanding of homesteading that is startlingly different from current scholarly orthodoxy The TV Brand Builders Andy Bryant,Charlie Mawer,2016-04-03 The TV Brand Builders is the definitive account of how the biggest television networks channels and programmes are created as brands with rare privileged access to the marketing strategies and creative thinking behind culturally defining TV promos digital and social media campaigns and design identities Written by two leading practitioners responsible for work as famous as the BBC One hippos the creation of a TV channel called Dave and the re launch of Doctor Who and featuring interviews with 50 leading industry experts from 8 countries from HBO to ESPN from DreamWorks to
