French B Movies David A. Pettersen, 2023-03-07 In the impoverished outskirts of French cities known as the banlieues minority communities are turning to American culture history and theory to make their own voices cultures and histories visible Filmmakers have followed suit turning to Hollywood genre conventions to challenge notions of identity belonging and marginalization in mainstream French film French B Movies proposes that French banlieue films far from being a fringe genre offer a privileged site from which to understand the current state of the French film industry in an age of globalization This gritty style appears in popular arthouse films such as Mathieu Kassovitz's La Haine and Bande de filles Girlhood along with the major Netflix hit series Lupin David Pettersen traces how in these works and others directors fuse features of banlieue cinema with genre formulas associated with both Hollywood and Black cultural models as well as how transnational genre hybridizations such as B movies have become part of the ecosystem of the French film industry By combining film analysis cultural history critical theory and industry studies French B Movies reveals how featuring banlieues is as much about trying to imagine new identities and production models for French cinema as it is about representation

Is it French? Popular Postnational Screen Fiction from France Mary Harrod, Raphaëlle Moine, 2024-01-30. This book investigates the recently accelerated phenomenon of mainstream French film and serial television's remarkable popularity not only within but more novelly for European audiovisual narratives outside the domestic context. Treating changes that have taken place in France's production landscape during the mass rollout of global streaming platforms as revelatory of broader tendencies in media production and circulation in Europe and beyond, the collection explores emergent influential players Omar Sy, Camille Cottin, Alexandre Aja, and Fanny Herrero, companies such as Netflix and Gaumont, and new genres, identities, and representations on screen. It thus draws together a body of new research by international experts in French and European media production to analyse popular film and television series from France through a postnational lens with regards to both economic and institutional norms and to culture as a whole. This book is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link.springer.com.

Reimagining the Human in Contemporary French Science Fiction Christina Lord, 2023-04-15. The study of French science fiction, even in France, remains an underexploited field. Only recently have French literary scholars been able to gain recognition for the validity of studying SF, but their works are often literary histories. This is the first book-length study to take into account both French and Anglo-American intellectual trends, theories, and SF scholarship and apply them to a corpus of French works. It shows how contemporary French SF imagines two broad philosophical inquiries into the powerful yet terrifying geological age of the Anthropocene: posthumanism and transhumanism. While the posthumanist perspective calls attention to the interdependence and co-evolution of humans and nonhumans within a complex ecosystem of life, the transhumanist view of coping with the Anthropocene offers more pragmatic, tool-based solutions rather than a reworking of the human imagination. Given the history of philosophical thought's entanglement with literature in France, French SF can tell us a lot about this existential crisis of Anthropos as both destroyer and savior of worlds and bodies alike. With a focus on encounters between humans, nonhumans, and posthumans in selected works, this book investigates both the immaterial, the psychological state of the mind, and material, the body stakes of posthumanist or transhumanist thinking in French SF.

Concentrationary Imaginaries Griselda Pollock, Max Silverman, 2015-11-30. In 1945, French political prisoners returning from the concentration camps of Germany coined the phrase "the concentrationary universe" to describe the camps as a terrible political experiment in the destruction of the human. This book shows how the unacknowledged legacy of a totalitarian mentality has seeped into the deepest recesses of everyday popular culture. It asks if the concentrationary now infests our cultural imaginary, normalizing what was once considered horrific and exceptional by transforming it into entertainment violations of human life.

Drawing on the political philosophy of Hannah Arendt and the analyses of violence by Agamben Virilio Lacoue Labarthe and Nancy it also offers close readings of films by Cavani and Haneke that identify and critically expose such an imaginary and hence contest its lingering force Super Bitches and Action Babes Rikke Schubart,2014-08-23 With actress Pam Grier's breakthrough in Coffy and Foxy Brown women entered action science fiction war westerns and martial arts films genres that had previously been considered the domain of male protagonists This ground breaking cinema however was and still is viewed with ambivalence While women were cast in new and exciting roles they did not always arrive with their femininity intact often functioning both as a sexualized spectacle and as a new female hero rather than female character This volume contains an in depth critical analysis and study of the female hero in popular film from 1970 to 2006 It examines five female archetypes the dominatrix the Amazon the daughter the mother and the rape avenger The entrance of the female hero into films written by produced by and made for men is viewed through the lens of feminism and post feminism arguments Analyzed works include films with actors Michelle Yeoh and Meiko Kaji the Alien films the Lara Croft franchise Charlie's Angels and television productions such as Xena Warrior Princess and Alias Contemporary French Cinema Guy Austin,1996-11-15 Examines popular French film of the last 25 years Charts recent developments in all genres since the New Wave including the heritage film the thriller the war film cinema du look Other topics include representations of sexuality the work of women film makers Includes a filmography Nikita Susan Hayward,2010-02-28 Nikita 1990 is the story of a nineteen year old junkie Nikita Anne Parillaud who is given a second chance in life through being trained to be and becoming a skilled assassin for the State Nikita is a cult classic directed by Luc Besson with Thierry Arbogast as director of photography in his hallmark powerful style The film was an international hit which spawned a TV series and a Hollywood remake Susan Hayward develops here a fresh and provocative way of understanding Nikita's plot structure as a neo baroque symphony She goes in depth into key sequences of the film examines its reception as a popular film by audiences and critics and looks at The Assassin the Hollywood remake of Nikita This is a wonderfully exciting book on an underrated film It also shows that the woman placed at the centre of a film noir can as Susan Hayward points out for once win or at least get away with it Fifty Contemporary Filmmakers Yvonne Tasker,2002 From Luc Besson to Quentin Tarantino Fifty Contemporary Film makers offers an up to date guide to the individuals who are shaping modern cinema The Seeing Century ,2021-10-25 The twentieth century with all its turbulence and change its conflicts and its discoveries was perhaps above all the century of cinema and The Seeing Century offers an innovative international and interdisciplinary exploration of the role cinema plays in contemporary life and culture and the complex and fascinating relationship between screen images and our changing concepts of personal and national identity Rejecting the compartmentalisation that has traditionally marked film studies and confronting an impressively eclectic range of material fifteen essays by leading academics from around the world cut across divergent cultures languages and genres mainstream Hollywood rubs shoulders with low budget
