Fiction Writers C. P. Stephens,1994 Vietnam and Other American Fantasies Howard Bruce Franklin,2000 Written by a cultural historian this text offers a wide ranging exploration of the causes meaning and continuing significance of the American war in Vietnam arguing that the war was not a mistake or a quagmire but a defining event in global history

The Remains of War Thomas M. Hawley,2005-07-13 An exploration of how US efforts to sacralize and repatriate the remains of some 2 000 soldiers killed in action in the Vietnam War might indicate some lingering corporeal and ontological uncertainties in the post Vietnam era From Hanoi to Hollywood Linda Dittmar,Gene Michaud,1990 This volume is about power It is about the power to make war and to destroy lives It is also about another kind of power the power to make images that may distort, displace and destroy knowledge of the times in which those lives were lived. Many of the nineteen essays gathered in this volume are about the interrelationships between these two types of power. They demonstrate as well yet another type of power: the power of critical thinking to challenge dangerous myths and to confront prevailing ideologies. The title of this anthology calls attention to the process whereby aspects of the Vietnam War have been appropriated by the American cultural industry. Probing the large body of emotion-laden controversial films, From Hanoi to Hollywood is concerned with the retelling of history and the retrospection that such a process involves. In this anthology, an awareness of film as a cultural artifact that molds beliefs and guides action is emphasized; an awareness that the contributors bring to a variety of films. Their essays span over one hundred documentary and fiction films and include in-depth analyses of major commercial films ranging from Apocalypse Now to Platoon, Rambo: First Blood Part II and Full Metal Jacket and documentaries from In the Year of the Pig to Dear America: Letters Home from Vietnam. The essays in this volume deal with representations of the Vietnam war in documentary film and television reporting, examining the ways the power of film is used to deliver political messages. There are surprises here, new readings and important insights on the ways we as a society have attempted to come to terms with the experiences of the Vietnam era. The book also contains two appendixes: a detailed chronology charting the relationship between major historical events and the release of American war films from 1954 through 1988 and a filmography listing information on over four hundred American and foreign films about the Vietnam War.

Miracles Ain't What They Used to Be Joe R. Lansdale, 2016-07-01 Arguably and who doesn't like to argue the world's bestselling cult author Joe R. Lansdale is celebrated across several continents for his dark humor, his grimly gleeful horror and his outlaw politics. Welcome to Texas. With hits like Bubba Ho-Tep and The Drive, in the Lansdale secret was always endangered and the spectacular new Hap and Leonard Sundance TV series is busily blowing whatever cover Joe had left. Backwoods noir, some call it; others call it redneck surrealism. Joe's signature style is on display here in all its grit, grime and glory, beginning with two, maybe three previously unpublished Hap and Leonard tales revealing the roots of their unlikely partnership. Plus a hatful and a half of Joe's notorious Texas Observer pieces that helped catapult him from obscurity into controversy and Miracles Ain't What They Used to Be, Lansdale's passionately personal take on the eternal tussles between God and Man, Texas and America, racism and reason and religion and common sense. And featuring our Outspoken Interview in which piney woods dialect, Bible thumpery, martial arts crime classics and Hollywood protocols are finally awarded the attention they deserve. Or don't. Several choppers were destroyed and there were many dead and wounded. Maj.
