Bred for Perfection Margaret E. Derry, 2003-11-11 How did animal breeding emerge as a movement Who took part and for what reasons How do the pedigree and market systems work What light might the movement shed on the assumptions behind human eugenics In Bred for Perfection Margaret Derry provides the most comprehensive and accessible book yet published on the human quest to improve and develop livestock Derry herself a breeder and trained historian of science explores the triangle of genetics eugenics and practical breeding focusing on Shorthorn cattle show dogs and working dogs and one type of purebred horse the Arabian By examining specific breeders and the animals they produced she illuminates the role of technology genetics culture and economics in the system of purebred breeding Bred for Perfection also provides the historical context in which this system arose adding to our understanding of how domestication works and how our welfare since the dawn of time has been intertwined with the lives of animals

Food and Agriculture Security Justin J. Kastner, 2010-11-02 This work is a historical multidisciplinary explanation of the complexities of the food system in the United States and around the world spanning the beginning of the modern era to today's globalized interconnected market A revolution in food supply and trade has been ongoing for decades although most American consumers have been unaware of these changes after all to the end buyer the food seems the same at the supermarket But today a large percentage of our food and agricultural products are imported to our country and the U S Department of Homeland Security has designated Food and Agriculture as a Critical Infrastructure and Key Resources Sector Cross border cooperation is essential given the volume of trade the nature of testing required and the importance of ensuring the safety of these products This book examines our food system in its entirety discusses threats to food and agriculture security in America and abroad and covers trade policy issues and U S specific regulations affecting the food supply chain security Emerging models of cross border cooperation in Food and Agriculture Security are also described

Art and Science in Breeding Margaret Derry, 2012-01-21 Chickens are now the most scientifically engineered of livestock How have the methods used by geneticists differed from those employed by domestic breeders over time Art and Science in Breeding details the relationship between farm practices and agricultural genetics in poultry breeding from 1850 to 1960 Margaret E Derry traces the history and organization of chicken breeding in North America from craft approaches and breeding as an art to the conflicts that had emerged between traditional and scientific methods by the 1940s Derry assesses links between the scientific revolution of chicken farming and the development of corporate breeding as a modern international industry Using poultry as a case study for the wider narrative of agricultural genetics Art and Science in Breeding adds considerable knowledge to a rapidly growing field of inquiry
