Opera Wonyosi:

Opera Wonyosi Wole Soyinka, 1981 A Nigerian version of Brecht's Threepenny Opera Long Dreams in Short Chapters Wumi Raji, 2009 This book is concerned with in the main the whole question of the transformation of the identities of the different peoples of postcolonial Africa Even so it is clear that the issues raised would resonate clearly in similar contexts in other parts of the world Long Dreams in Short Chapters is a remarkable achievement a brilliant and magisterial remapping of the African text in its literary cultural and political dimensions Author Wumi Raji's globalist and transnational sensitivities make this book an effortless unpacking of the complexities of the African literary process and it is a landmark contribution to African thought Postcolonial Identity in Wole Soyinka Mpalive-Handson Msiska, 2007 Soyinka's representation of postcolonial African identity is re-examined in the light of his major plays novels and poetry to show how this writer's idiom of cultural authenticity both embraces hybridity and defines itself as specific and particular For Soyinka such authenticity involves recovering tradition and inserting it in postcolonial modernity to facilitate transformative moral and political justice The past can be both our enabling future and our nemesis In a distinctive approach grounded in cultural studies Postcolonial Identity in Wole Soyinka locates the artist's intellectual and political concerns within the broader field of postcolonial cultural theory arguing that although ostensibly distant from mainstream theory Soyinka focuses on fundamental questions concerning international culture and political identity formations the relationship between myth and history tradition and modernity and the unresolved tension between power as a force for good or evil Soyinka's treatment of the relationship between individual selfhood and the various framing social and collective identities so the book argues is yet another aspect linking his work to the broader intellectual currents of today Thus Soyinka's vision is seen as central to contemporary efforts to grasp the nature of modernity His works conceptualize identity in ways that promote and modify national perceptions of Africanness rescuing them from the colonial and neocolonial logic of cultural denigration in a manner that fully acknowledges the cosmopolitan and global contexts of African postcolonial formation Overall what emerges from the present study is the conviction that in Soyinka's work it is the capacity to assume personal and collective agency and the particular choices made by particular subjects at given historical moments that determine the trajectory of change and ultimately the nature of postcolonial existence itself Postcolonial Identity in Wole Soyinka is a major and imaginative contribution to the study of Wole Soyinka African literature and postcolonial cultural theory and one in which writing and creativity stand in fruitful symbiosis with the critical sense It should appeal to Soyinka scholars to students of African literature and to anyone interested in postcolonial and cultural theory Translation of Cultures Petra Wittke-Rüdiger, Konrad Gross, 2009 The contributors to this collection approach the subject of the translation of cultures from various angles Translation refers to the rendering of texts from one language into another and the shift between languages under precolonial retelling transcreation colonial domestication and postcolonial multilingual trafficking conditions

Fusion of Cultures?, 2022-02-28 The intention of this second volume of ASNEL Papers is to counter orthodox post colonial emphases on alterity subversion and counter discourse with another set of concepts fusion syncretism hybridity creolisation cross fertilisation cross cultural identity diaspora Topics covered include gender and identity syncretic aesthetics in Nigerian and South African performing arts hyphenated identities in diasporic fiction reversals of colonial mimicry in Ugandan fiction cultural reflexivity in the Victorian juvenile novel the persistence of colonial traits in Zimbabwean war fiction syncretic strategies of resistance in African prison memoirs indigene life histories and intercultural authorship neo essentialism in post colonial critiques of the Rushdie Affair US multiculturalism and political praxis creolisation in Surinam cultural complexities in the Caribbean epic literary representations of the Haitian Revolution Authors treated within broader frameworks include Margaret Atwood R M Ballantyne Marie Claire Blais Alejo Carpentier Roch Carrier Aim C saire Michelle Cliff Tsitsi Dangarembga Edouard Glissant Andrew Hacker Eddy L Harris Wilson Harris Bessie Head C L R James Maxine Hong Kingston Jayanta Mahapatra Paule Marshall A K Mehrotra Timothy Mo Bharati Mukherjee Ngugi wa Thiong o Akiki Nyabongo Eugene O Neill Molefe Pheto Salman Rushdie Wole Soyinka Ted Trindell and Derek Walcott There are also poems by David Woods and Afua Cooper Opera Wonyosi Wole Soyinka, 1977 Black Literature and Literary Theory Henry Louis Gates, Jr, 2016-08-19 The imaginative literature of African and Afro American authors writing in Western languages has long been seen as standing outside the Western literary canon In fact however black literature not only has a complex formal relation to that canon but tends to revise and reflect Western rhetorical strategies even more than it echoes black vernacular literary forms This book first published in 1984 is divided into two sections thus clarifying the nature of black literary theory on the one hand and the features of black literary practice on the other Rather than merely applying contemporary Western theory to black literature these critics instead challenge and redefine the theory in order to make fresh stimulating comments not only on black criticism and literature but also on the general state of criticism today The Development of African Drama Michael Etherton, 2023-08-18 Originally published in 1982 this book explores concepts such as traditional performance and African theatre It analyses the links between drama and ritual and drama and music and diagnoses the confusions in our thought The reader is reminded that drama is never merely the printed word but that its existence as literature and in performance is necessarily different The analysis shows that literature tends to replace performance and drama removed from the popular domain becomes elitist The book s richness lies in the constantly stimulating analysis of art theatre as exemplified in protest plays in African adaptations and transpositions of such classical subjects as the Bacchae and Everyman in plays on African history on colonialism and neo colonialism The final chapters argue that the form of African drama needs to evolve as the content does Comparative Approaches to African Literatures Bernth Lindfors, 2022-05-20 Some of the essays in this book notably those concerned with examining Western influences on sub Saharan African writings tracing Shakespearean and Brechtian echoes in Nigerian drama for instance or following the footprints of Sherlock Holmes in Swahili detective fiction fit the traditional definition of comparative literature. These are essays that cross national literary boundaries and sometimes transcend language barriers as well. They look for correspondences in related literary phenomena from widely dispersed areas of the globe bringing together what is akin from what is akimbo. But most of the essays included here involve closer comparisons. Two focus on works produced in different languages within the same African nation: Yoruba and English in Nigeria; Afrikaans and English in South Africa; and one presents a taxonomy of dominant literary forms in English in three East African nations. Others concentrate on the oeuvre of a single author and on the likely future output of exiled writers who soon will be returning home. One essay contrasts discursive tendencies within the same text and another investigates conflicting African and Western religious beliefs. A great variety of comparative methodologies is deployed here; not all of these are transnational, multilingual or pluralistic in scope. The last two groups of essays deal with matters of characterization and authorial reputation. Studies of the depiction of African Americans, politicians and women in a wide range of African literary texts are followed by an assessment of the current standing of anglophone Africa's leading authors. In entering such highly contested terrain, the comparatist approach adopted has been that of the neutral witness to early African attempts. Comparatists in their own way to define an African canon of classic texts. Authors discussed include Ama Ata Aidoo (Ghana), Chinua Achebe (Nigeria), John Pepper Clark (Cyprian), Ekwensi D. O. Fagunwa (Nigeria), Wole Soyinka (Nigeria), Amos Tutuola (Nigeria), Peter Abrahams (South Africa), J. M. Coetzee (South Africa), Nadine Gordimer (South Africa), Alex La Guma (South Africa), Thomas Mofolo (South Africa), Es'kia Mphahlele (South Africa) and Karel Schoeman (South Africa).

Questioning History Greg Clingham, 1998-07. Traditional eighteenth-century paradigms of reason, truth and nature underlie modern concepts of self, gender, sex, etc. that are challenged today in the name of a more liberated and pluralistic problematic. This book is the first of two volumes of essays that identify this postmodern challenge. It examines the historiography of postmodern phenomena in relation to the eighteenth-century texts that they ventriloquize. More essays on the topic are contained in Making History. Bucknell Review Vol 42 No 1.
