Data, Architecture and the Experience of Place Anastasia Karandinou,2018-11-12 The notion of data is increasingly encountered in spatial creative and cultural studies Big data and artificial intelligence are significantly influencing a number of disciplines Processes methods and vocabularies from sciences architecture arts are borrowed discussed and tweaked and new cross disciplinary fields emerge More and more artists and designers are drawing on hard data to interpret the world and to create meaningful sensuous environments Architects are using neurophysiological data to improve their understanding of people s experiences in built spaces Different disciplines collaborate with scientists to visualise data in different and creative ways revealing new connections interpretations and readings This often demonstrates a genuine desire to comprehend human behaviour and experience and to possibly inform design processes accordingly At the same time this opens up questions as to why this desire and curiosity is emerging now how it relates to recent technological advances and how it converses with the cultural philosophical and methodological context of the disciplines with which it engages Questions are also raised as to how the use of data and data informed methods may serve support promote and or challenge political agendas Data Architecture and the Experience of Place provides an overview of new approaches on this significant subject and is ideal for students and researchers in digital architecture architectural theory design digital media sensory studies and related fields

The Empire of Effects Julie A. Turnock, 2022-06-14 2024 Finalist Marshall McLuhan Outstanding Book Award Media Ecology Association How one company created the dominant aesthetic of digital realism Just about every major film now comes to us with an assist from digital effects The results are obvious in superhero fantasies yet dramas like Roma also rely on computer generated imagery to enhance the verisimilitude of scenes But the realism of digital effects is not actually true to life It is a realism invented by Hollywood by one company specifically Industrial Light Magic The Empire of Effects shows how the effects company known for the puppets and space battles of the original Star Wars went on to develop the dominant aesthetic of digital realism Julie A Turnock finds that ILM borrowed its technique from the New Hollywood of the 1970s incorporating lens flares wobbly camerawork haphazard framing and other cinematography that called attention to the person behind the camera In the context of digital imagery however these aesthetic strategies had the opposite effect heightening the sense of realism by calling on tropes suggesting the authenticity to which viewers were accustomed ILM's style on display in the most successful films of the 1980s and beyond was so convincing that other studios were forced to follow suit and today ILM is a victim of its own success having fostered a cinematic monoculture in which it is but one player among many Rewatching on the Point of the Cinematic Index Allen H. Redmon, 2022-08-24 Rewatching on the Point of the Cinematic Index offers a reassessment of the cinematic index as it sits at the intersection of film studies trauma studies and adaptation studies Author Allen H Redmon argues that far too often scholars imagine the cinematic index to be nothing more than an acknowledgment that the lens based camera captures and brings to the screen a reality that existed before the camera When cinema's indexicality is so narrowly defined the entire nature of film is called into question the moment film no longer relies on a lens based camera The presence of digital technologies seemingly strips cinema of its indexical standing This volume pushes for a broader understanding of the cinematic index by returning to the early discussions of the index in film studies and the more recent discussions of the index in other digital arts Bolstered by the insights these discussions can offer the volume looks to replace what might be best deemed a diminished concept of the cinematic index with a series of more complex cinematic indices the impoverished index the indefinite index the intertextual index and the imaginative index The central argument of this book is that these more complex indices encourage spectators to enter a process of ongoing adaptation of the reality they see on the screen and that it is on the point of these indices that the most significant instances of rewatching movies occur Examining such films as John Lee Hancock's Saving Mr Banks 2013 Richard Linklater's oeuvre Paul Greengrass's United 93 2006 Oliver Stone's World Trade Center 2006 Stephen Daldry's Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close 2011 and Christopher Nolan's Dunkirk 2017 Inception 2010 and Memento 2000 Redmon demonstrates that the cinematic index invites spectators to enter a process of ongoing adaptation
