Setting Municipal Priorities 1982:

Setting Municipal Priorities, 1986 Charles Brecher, Raymond D. Horton, 1985 Setting Municipal Priorities, 1985 Setting Municipal Priorities, 1982 Charles Brecher, Raymond D. Horton, 1981-12-01 Power, Culture and Place John H. Mollenkopf, 1989-02-16 With a population and budget exceeding that of many nations a central position in the world's cultural and corporate networks and enormous concentrations of wealth and poverty New York City intensifies interactions among social forces that elsewhere may be hidden or safely separated The essays in Power Culture and Place represent the first comprehensive program of research on this city in a quarter century Focusing on three historical transformations the mercantile industrial and postindustrial several contributors explore economic growth and change and the social conflicts that accompanied them Other papers suggest how popular culture public space and street life served as sources of order amidst conflict and disorder Essays on politics and pluralism offer further reflections on how social tensions are harnessed in the framework of political participation By examining the intersection of economics culture and politics in a shared spatial context these multidisciplinary essays not only illuminate the City's fascinating and complex development but also highlight the significance of a sense of place for social research It has been said that cities gave birth to the social sciences exemplifying and propagating dramatic social changes and proving ideal laboratories for the study of social patterns and their evolution As John Mollenkopf and his colleagues argue New York City remains the quintessential case in point

Political Crisis/fiscal Crisis Martin Shefter, 1992 This study examines the factors that caused New York City's financial crisis in 1975 and demonstrates how these manifestations of newly evolved political alliances and systems continue to undermine the city's financial stability It shows how these problems which are enduring features of the city's political system are not unique to New York but a threat to the financial stability of most major American cities The volume won the American Political Science Association's Award for the Best Book on Urban Policy New York Court of Appeals. Records and Briefs. New York (State)., Tunneling to the Future Peter Derrick, 2002-04 Derrick archivist Bronx County Historical Society tells the story of what was at the time the largest and most expensive single municipal project ever attempted the 1913 expansion of the New York City Dual System of Rapid Transit He considers the factors motivating the expansion the process of its design the controversies surrounding financing it and its impact on New York then and today Appendixes summarize the contracts and related certificates and list the opening dates of Dual System lines Twenty four pages of photographs are also included c Book News Inc The Future of National Urban Policy Marshall Kaplan, Franklin J. James, 1990 The Future of National Urban Policy brings together scholars policymakers and journalists to explore the condition of America's cities The authors focus on policies of the previous five presidential administrations to examine the history of urban policy and offer suggestions for its future Individual chapters address a variety of topics including housing employment education the infrastructure of cities and public policy Women, Men, and the International Division of Labor June C. Nash, Maria P.

Fernandez-Kelly,1984-06-30 The last few decades have witnessed a growing integration of the world system of production on the basis of a new relationship between less developed and highly industrialized countries The effect is a geographical dispersion of the various production stages in the manufacturing process as the large corporations of industrialized First World countries are attracted by low labor costs taxes and relaxed production restrictions available in developing countries This collection of papers focuses on inequalities among different sectors of the labor force particularly those related to gender and how these are affected by the changing international division of labor Community Power in a Postreform City Robert F. Pecorella,2019-07-26 This book represents the culmination of several years of research on community politics in New York City
