Mapping Society: Settlement Structure in Later Bronze Age Ireland Victoria Ruth Ginn, 2016-01-22 This study examines Middle Late Bronze Age c 1750 600 BC domestic settlement patterns in Ireland The results reveal a distinct rise in the visibility and a rapid adaption of domestic architecture which seems to have occurred earlier in Ireland than elsewhere in western and northern Europe

The Archaeology of Medieval Europe 1 James Graham-Campbell, Magdalena Valor, 2007-12-31 The two volumes of The Archaeology of Medieval Europe will together comprise the first complete account of medieval archaeology across Europe Archaeologists from academic institutions in fifteen countries are collaborating to produce these two books of sixteen thematic chapters each In addition every chapter will feature a number of box texts by specialist contributors highlighting sites or themes of particular importance The books will be comprehensively illustrated throughout in both colour and b w including line drawings and specially commissioned maps This ground breaking set which is divided chronologically into two Vol 1 extending from the Eighth to Twelfth Centuries AD and Vol 2 from the Twelfth to Sixteenth Centuries to appear 2008 will enable readers to track the development of different cultures and of regional characteristics throughout the full extent of medieval Catholic Europe In addition to revealing shared contexts and technological developments the complete work will also provide the opportunity for demonstrating the differences that were inevitably present across the Continent from Iceland to Italy and from Portugal to Finland and to study why such differences existed

The Urbanisation of Rome and Latium Vetus Francesca Fulminante, 2014-02-10 An original and unprecedented analysis of urbanization and state formation in Rome and Latium vetus from the Bronze Age to the Archaic Era

Is There a British Chalcolithic? Michael J. Allen, Julie Gardiner, Alison Sheridan, 2012-06-09 The Chalcolithic the phase in prehistory when the important technical development of adding tin to copper to produce bronze had not yet taken place is not a term generally used by British prehistorians and whether there is even a definable phase is debated Is There a British Chalcolithic brings together many leading authorities in 20 papers that address this question Papers are grouped under several headings Definitions Issues and Debate considers whether appropriate criteria apply that define a distinctive period c 2450 2150 cal BC in cultural social and temporal terms with particular emphasis on the role and status of metal artifacts and Beaker pottery Continental Perspectives addresses various aspects of comparative regions of Europe where a Chalcolithic has been defined Around Britain and Ireland presents a series of large scale regional case studies where authors argue for and against the adoption of the term The final section Economy Landscapes and Monuments looks at aspects of economy land use and burial tradition and provides a detailed consideration of the Stonehenge and Avebury landscapes during the period in question The volume contains much detailed information on sites and artifacts and comprehensive radiocarbon datasets that will be invaluable to scholars and students studying this enigmatic but pivotal episode of British Prehistory Additional information originally found on included CD ROM can be downloaded here <https://books.casematepublishers.com>

Is_There_a_British_Chalcolithic.pdf Settlement and Landscape Charlotte Fabech, Jytte Ringtved, 1999 Derived from a conference held in Aarhus Denmark in 1998 these essays discuss a wide range of archaeological issues centered around the study of the landscape and its relationship to human settlement Information from unpublished research and fieldwork in Denmark is drawn together and set within a broader Scandinavian and European context The various papers therefore discuss evidence from Norway Denmark Finland Germany and Sweden and are divided into sections on Landscape and settlement transformations problem of nucleation and dispersal Settlement and non agrarian production Human animal relationship landscape seen as a social and mental construct landscapes of power Methods of study A vast amount of information at a very reasonable price The Oxford Handbook of Wetland Archaeology Francesco Menotti, Aidan O'Sullivan, 2013 This Handbook sets out the key issues and debates in the theory and practice of wetland archaeology which has played a crucial role in studies of our past Due to the high quantity of preserved organic materials found in humid environments the study of wetlands has allowed archaeologists to reconstruct people's everyday lives in great detail A Living Landscape Stijn Arnoldussen, 2008 Today half the Netherlands is below sea level Because of this water management is of key importance when it comes to maintaining present day habitation of the Dutch low lands In prehistory however large parts of the Dutch landscape were highly dynamic due to ongoing fluvial sedimentation Vast deltaic areas with ceaseless river activity formed the backdrop against which prehistoric occupation took place Although such landscapes may seem inhospitable the often excellently preserved archaeological evidence indicates that people lived in these lowlands throughout prehistory This book describes why Bronze Age farmers were keen to settle here and how these prehistoric communities structured the landscape around their house sites at various scales Using a vast body of evidence from several large scale excavations in the Dutch river area the author reconstructs the changes in the cultural landscape over time Starting from the Middle Neolithic changing preferences for settlement site locations and changes in domestic architecture are traced in detail to the Iron Age However for proper understanding of the cultural landscape not only settlements but also graves and patterns of object deposition and their landscape characteristics are discussed By using evidence from over 50 major excavations yielding over 300 house plans this book contains by far the richest data set on Dutch Bronze Age settlements Most of these results have not previously been published in English making this book of over 500 pages a true academic treasure for an international audience The in depth presentation of Bronze Age settlement sites as well as the critical discussion of models and premises current in later prehistoric settlement archaeology have an important relevance stretching beyond the Dutch lowland areas on which it is based The wealth of high quality Dutch data is presented as a synthesized yet well annotated narrative that rises above mere site interpretation even more so due to its landscape scale focus Therefore this book is a must have for those interested in later prehistoric cultural landscapes and settlement archaeology Bronze Age Settlements in the Low Countries Harry Fokkens, 2008-06-04 The Low Countries around the deltas of the river Rhine Meuse and Scheldt have a long tradition in large scale archaeological research This book brings together research from thirteen of the largest Bronze Age settlements described by their original excavators These contributions are preceded by two introductory chapters written by the editors providing a full overview of the state of Dutch Bronze Age settlement research the key sites and the explanatory models current within it Standards have been developed for the analysis of Bronze Age house plans and settlement sites and new models for the reading of the settled landscape The rich data of the Low Countries also incorporate burial areas and deposition places The findings presented can be seen to reflect the situation over a large area of lands bordering the North Sea

Archaeology of Body and Thought Tomasz Gralak, 2024-03-07 This study explores what we as people can do with our bodies what we can use them for and how we can alter and understand them With analysis based on artefacts found in graves anthropomorphic images and written sources it considers the ways in which human groups from the Neolithic to the Migration Period have perceived and treated the body

Archaeology Kevin Greene, 2002 A substantially revised and expanded edition of one of the most widely used and respected general introductions to the field of archaeology
