older people's risk of outliving their assets in later life. As this volume shows, PPPs typically involve shared government financing alongside private sector partner expertise, management responsibility and accountability. In addition to offering empirical evidence on examples where this is working well, contributors provide case studies, discuss survey results and examine a variety of different financial and insurance products to better meet the needs of the aging population. This volume will be informative to researchers, planners, sponsors, students and policymakers seeking to enhance retirement plan offerings.

Competition in the Health Care Sector Warren Greenberg, 1988. Competition, Deregulation, Free market forces. The debate over competition in health care that raged in the 1970s brought with it a new economic jargon, a vocabulary of concepts and issues unheard of in hospitals a decade earlier. Competition in health care has developed to a greater degree than most economists predicted ten years ago. That is the conclusion of Warren Greenberg in his introduction to Competition in the Health Care Sector: Ten Years Later, a retrospective of a 1977 Federal Trade Commission conference which produced the landmark treatise Competition in the Health Care Sector: Past, Present and Future. Seven of the ten original papers are reexamined; a chapter on the nursing home industry has been added. As with the original volume, Greenberg predicts that the retrospective will become a critical element in the health care economic literature. Hospitals.
