Richard King, Cody Poulton, Katsuhiko Endo, 2012-01-01 This is a multi author work which examines the cultural dimensions of the relations between East Asia's two great powers China and Japan in a period of change and turmoil from the late nineteenth century to the end of the Second World War This period saw Japanese invasion of China the occupation of China's North east Manchuria and Taiwan and war between the two nations from 1937-1945 the scars of that war are still evident in relations between the two countries today In their quest for modernity the rulers and leading thinkers of China and Japan defined themselves in contradistinction to the other influenced both by traditional bonds of classical culture and by the influx of new Western ideas that flowed through Japan to China The experiences of intellectual and cultural awakening in the two countries were inextricably linked as our studies of poetry fiction philosophy theatre and popular culture demonstrate The chapters explore this process of transculturation the sharing and exchange of ideas and artistic expression not only in Japan and China but in the larger region which Joshua Fogel has called the Sinosphere an area including Korea and parts of Southeast Asia with a shared heritage of Confucian statecraft and values underpinned by the classical Chinese language The authors of the chapters who include established senior academics and younger scholars and employ a range of disciplines and methodologies were selected by the editors for their expertise in particular aspects of this rich and complex cultural relationship As for the editors Richard King and Cody Poulton are scholars and translators of Chinese literature and Japanese theatre respectively each taking a historical and comparative perspective to the study of their subject Katsuhiko Endo is an intellectual historian dealing with both Japan and China Making Modern Japanese-Style Painting Chelsea Foxwell, 2015-07-20 The Western discovery of Japanese paintings at nineteenth century world's fairs and export shops catapulted Japanese art to new levels of international popularity With that popularity however came criticism as Western writers began to lament a perceived end to pure Japanese art and a rise in westernized cultural hybrids The Japanese response nihonga a traditional style of painting that reframed existing techniques to distinguish them from Western artistic conventions Making Modern Japanese Style Painting explores the visual characteristics and social functions of nihonga and traces its relationship to the past its viewers and emerging notions of the modern Japanese state Chelsea Foxwell sheds light on interlinked trends in Japanese nationalist discourse government art policy American and European commentary on Japanese art and the demands of export The seminal artist Kano Hogai 1828-88 is one telling example originally a painter for the shogun his art eventually evolved into novel eerie images meant to satisfy both Japanese and Western audiences Rather than simply absorbing Western approaches nihonga as practiced by Hogai and others broke with pre Meiji painting even as it worked to neutralize the rupture By arguing that fundamental changes to audience expectations led to the emergence of nihonga a traditional interpretation of Japanese art for a contemporary international market Making Modern Japanese Style Painting offers a fresh look at an important aspect of Japan's development into a modern nation Ivory and the Aesthetics
