Cambridge Medieval History: Volume 4, C.1024-c.1198, Part 2 Rosamond McKitterick, David Abulafia, C. T. Allmand, 1995 The fourth volume of The New Cambridge Medieval History covers the eleventh and twelfth centuries which comprised perhaps the most dynamic period in the European middle ages This is a history of Europe but the continent is interpreted widely to include the Near East and North Africa The volume is divided into two parts of which this the second deals with the course of events ecclesiastical and secular and major developments in an age marked by the transformation of the position of the papacy in a process fuelled by a radical reformation of the church the decline of the western and eastern empires the rise of western kingdoms and Italian elites and the development of governmental structures the beginnings of the recovery of Spain from the Moors and the establishment of western settlements in the eastern Mediterranean region in the wake of the crusades Early Islam and the Birth of Capitalism Benedikt Koehler, 2014-06-17 Early Islam and the Birth of Capitalism proposes a strikingly original thesis that capitalism first emerged in Arabia not in late medieval Italian city states as is commonly assumed Early Islam made a seminal but largely unrecognized contribution to the history of economic thought it is the only religion founded by an entrepreneur Descending from an elite dynasty of religious civil and commercial leaders Muhammad was a successful businessman before founding Islam As such the new religion had much to say on trade consumer protection business ethics and property As Islam rapidly spread across the region so did the economic teachings of early Islam which eventually made their way to Europe Early Islam and the Birth of Capitalism demonstrates how Islamic institutions and business practices were adopted and adapted in Venice and Genoa These financial innovations include the invention of the corporation business management techniques commercial arithmetic and monetary reform There were other Islamic institutions assimilated in Europe charities the waqf inspired trusts and institutions of higher learning the madrasas were models for the oldest colleges of Oxford and Cambridge As such it can be rightfully said that these essential

aspects of capitalist thought all have Islamic roots les Fatimides et la mer (909-1171) David Bramoullé, 2019-11-04
