Making It Black Youth Racism And Career Aspirations In A Big City:

Making it Carl E. James, 1990-01-01 Black youth in big cities we think we know who they are what they do what they think about Yet the reality is more complex than it appears Here for the first time is an in depth honest attempt to explore and comprehend the world of Black youth in a large urban environment The city is Toronto Canada i could probably be any other major urban center This investigation illustrates that Black youth are not frustrated seekers of White Anglo middle class values neither are they unaware of society s expectations of them Their way of life constitutes a distinct and meaningful subculture based upon their minority status More important like all youth Black youth holds high career aspirations and are optimistic that they will achieve their goals despite social conditions From the Preface Unsettling the Great White

North Michele A. Johnson, Funké Aladejebi, 2022-01-27 An exhaustive volume of leading scholarship in the field of Black Canadian history Unsettling the Great White North highlights the diverse experiences of persons of African descent within the chronicles of Canada s past The book considers histories and theoretical framings within the disciplines of history sociology law and cultural and gender studies to chart the mechanisms of exclusion and marginalization in multicultural Canada and to situate Black Canadians as speakers and agents of their own lives Working to interrupt the myth of benign whiteness that has been deeply implanted into the country s imagination Unsettling the Great White North uncovers new narratives of Black life in Canada Globalization and Survival in the Black Diaspora Charles St. Clair

Green, 1997-01-01 Links the plight of contemporary urban dwellers of African descent across North America Europe the Caribbean Latin America and sub Saharan Africa examines their coping strategies and advocates social policies sensitive to their cultural and societal differences Blackness and Modernity Cecil Foster, 2007 Cecil Foster presents a rigorous interdisciplinary analysis of blackness by challenging existing notions of blackness and arguing for the viability of a multicultural world In Blackness and Modernity Foster traces the main philosophical anthropological sociological and mythological arguments that support views of modernity as a failed quest for whiteness He outlines how these views were implemented as part of a world history and shows how Canada became the first country to officially reject this approach by adopting multiculturalism Blackness and Modernity presents four categories for understanding blackness and whiteness the somatic cultural status differential and the idealistic The somatic the colour of skin is merely one category and perhaps the least meaningful for while it may be the most important for some people Foster argues that multiculturalism which he views as ontological blackness is an attempt to make rational idealism the only category that matters Voices of Black Girls in

Toronto Donna Kakonge, 2017-04-23 Voices of Black Girls in Toronto is an academic book which includes research and non fiction data collection and analysis concerning the career choices and futures of high school girls of African descent in Toronto Taking Back Control Annette Henry, 1998-09-03 Taking Back Control is a ground breaking investigation of the world and consciousness of five African Canadian women teachers Their rich textured narratives explore the contradictions in North American and Western education and the need for alternative standpoints and transformative strategies Their engaged vision is presented as a means to discuss the limitations and possibilities of oppositional minority teacher standpoints in the mainstream as well as alternative pedagogical strategies Henry also discusses the literacy strategies employed in creating an environment in which African Canadian pupils can develop literacy skills and critically understand their identities as people of African heritage in North American society She raises important issues for thinking about teaching from critical informed anti racist perspectives

The History of Blacks in Canada George H. Junne, 2003-03-30 This fascinating bibliography of source materials clearly demonstrates the significant roles blacks have played in the history and culture of Canada from its beginnings as well as their 400 year fight for equity and justice Organized by area of endeavor and by province the source materials detailed here reveal that blacks in Canada have created a rich diverse and complex legacy This volume lists resources that point to blacks history as soldiers prospectors educators cowboys homesteaders entertainers legislators athletes artists servants and writers The most comprehensive bibliography about blacks in Canada that has been published it is well organized to facilitate locating specific topics or people spanning black history Also included are newspapers and videos that add their own unique contribution Academicians researchers students and interested lay people will find an organized compilation of a vast number of primary and secondary sources about blacks in Canada

Canadian Sociologists in the First Person Stephen Harold Riggins, Neil McLaughlin, 2021-08-15 Social scientists autobiographies can yield insight into personal commitments to research agendas and the very project of social science itself But despite the long history of life writing sociologists have tended to view the practice with skepticism Canadian Sociologists in the First Person is the first book to survey the Canadian sociological imagination through personal recollections Exploring the lives and experiences of twenty contributors from across the country this book connects the unique and shared features of their careers to broad social dynamics while providing a guide to their own research and administrative contributions to their universities their profession and their broader society and communities The contributors teach in different types of institutions are prominent in the discipline and in their specializations and represent significant and diverse intellectual currents political perspectives and life and career experiences Aiming to start a broad conversation about what social science and the academic profession look like in Canada from an insider s perspective Canadian Sociologists in the First Person offers invaluable lessons for younger scholars as they envision a diverse sociological imagination for the twenty first century

Black Like Who? Rinaldo Walcott, 2003 Rinaldo Walcott s groundbreaking study of black culture in Canada Black Like Who caused such an uproar upon its publication in 1997 that Insomniac Press has decided to publish a second revised edition of this perennial best seller With its incisive readings of hip hop film literature social unrest sports music and the electronic media Walcott s book not only assesses the role of black Canadians in defining Canada it also argues strenuously against any notion of an essentialist Canadian blackness As erudite on the issue of

American super critic Henry Louis Gates blindness to black Canadian realities as he is on the rap of the Dream Warriors and Maestro Fresh Wes Walcott s essays are thought provoking and always controversial in the best sense of the word They have added and continue to add immeasurably to public debate

The Destructive Path of Neoliberalism ,2008-01-01 The Destructive Path of Neoliberalism An International Examination a compilation of twelve essays by leading scholars and educators sheds light on the social political economic and historical forces behind the rise of neoliberalism the dominant ideological doctrine impacting developments in schools and other social contexts across the globe for over thirty years Several authors provide rich empirical data from schools across the globe to capture how neoliberal imperatives discourses and practices are impacting teachers students and communities at today s historical juncture Finally several contributors have developed pedagogical initiatives suggest policy considerations and convey theoretical insights designed to assist us in the struggle against the corporatization of schooling and social life

The African Diaspora in Canada Wisdom Tettey,Korbla P. Puplampu,2005 This book addresses the conceptual difficulties and political contestations surrounding the applicability of the term African Canadian In the midst of this contested terrain the volume focuses on first generation Black Continental Africans who have immigrated to Canada in the last four decades and have traceable genealogical links to the continent

Opportunity and Uncertainty Paul Anisef,Paul Axelrod,Etta Baichman-Anisef,2000-01-01 Based on the longest running survey of its kind in Canada this book examines events in the lives of a generation of Ontario residents who graduated from grade 12 in 1973 and recreates the world in which these high school students faced the future

The World in a City Paul Anisef,C. Michael Lanphier,2003-01-01 Toronto is perhaps the most multicultural city in the world The process of settlement and integration in modern day Toronto is however more difficult for recent immigrants than it was for those newcomers arriving in previous decades Many challenges face newly settled immigrants top among them access to healthcare education employment housing and other economic and community services The concept of social exclusion opens up promising ways to analyze the various challenges facing newcomers and The World in a City explores Toronto s ability to sustain a civic society This collection of essays highlights why the need to pay more attention to certain at risk groups and the importance of adapting policy to fit the changing settlement and clustering patterns of newcomers is of crucial importance The authors findings demonstrate that there are many obstacles to providing opportunity for immigrants low resource bases in particular Toronto they suggest does not provide a level playing field for its newly arrived inhabitants and in failing to recognize the particular needs of new communities fails to ensure a growth that would be of immense benefit to the city as a whole

Re/visioning Vincent D'Oyley,Carl James,1998 Radical Interventions Suzanne de Castell,Mary Bryson,1997-08-28 In this volume minority scholars in the humanities and the social sciences working within what are often profoundly hostile contexts speak about their efforts to disrupt and transform business as usual in the Academy Theirs is a critical and often radical rethinking of fundamental questions concerning identity politics and difference s as these inform education theory and practice Schooling the System Funké Aladejebi, 2021-03-05 In post World War II Canada black women's positions within the teaching profession served as sites of struggle and conflict as the nation worked to address the needs of its diversifying population. From their entry into teachers college through their careers in the classroom and administration black women educators encountered systemic racism and gender barriers at every step. So they worked to change the system. Using oral narratives to tell the story of black access and education in Ontario between the 1940s and the 1980s Schooling the System provides textured insight into how issues of race gender class geographic origin and training shaped women's distinct experiences within the profession. By valuing women's voices and lived experiences Funk Aladejebi illustrates that black women as a diverse group made vital contributions to the creation and development of anti racist education in Canada. As cultural mediators within Ontario school systems these women circumvented subtle and overt forms of racial and social exclusion to create resistive teaching methods that centred black knowledges and traditions. Within their wider communities and activist circles they fought to change entrenched ideas about what Canadian citizenship should look like. As schools continue to grapple with creating diverse educational programs for all Canadians Schooling the System is a timely excavation of the meaningful contributions of black women educators who helped create equitable policies and practices in schools and communities.

The Problem with Boys' Education Wayne Martino, Michael D. Kehler, Marcus B. Weaver-Hightower, 2009-08-03 This book offers an illuminating analysis of the theories politics and realities of boys education around the world an insightful and often disturbing account of various educational systems successes and failings in fostering intellectual and social growth in male students. Examining original research on the impact of implementing boys education programs in schools the book also discusses the role of male teachers in educating boys strategies for aiding marginalized boys in the classroom and the possibilities for gender reform in schools that begins at the level of pedagogy. Complete with case studies of various classrooms school districts and governmental policy programs the detailed essays collected provide a look into education's role in the development of masculinities paying special attention to the ways in which these masculinities intersect with race class and sexuality to complicate the experience of boys within and outside of a classroom setting.

Youth and Society Vappu Tyyskä, 2014-01-02 In this essential third edition Vappu Tyyskä examines the challenges faced by today's young people through a critical lens. Difficult questions related to such issues as employment education social pressure identity and crime are explored by Tyyskä as she paints a fascinating picture of modern youth in three countries Canada the United States and the United Kingdom. The author explores the negative stereotypes surrounding young people and argues that it is time to contextualize our understanding of youth by addressing the underlying social economic and political issues they face. Each of the ten revised chapters begins with a list of key learning objectives and ends with discussion questions to aid in the learning process and stimulate critical thinking. This new edition incorporates updated statistics comprehensive tables and revised narratives in which the author explores topics pertinent to today's youth such as the influence of social media eating disorders and recent changes to the juvenile justice system Teaching About Hegemony Paul Orlowski, 2011-06-21 Political progressives in Canada and the United States are deeply concerned by the manner in which their countries treat their poor They are dismayed at the dismantling of the social welfare state the weakening of public education systems and the grotesque and ever growing inequality of wealth To remedy this problem citizens need to be more aware of how political ideology influences attitudes and actions and they need to better comprehend the effects of hegemonic discourses in the corporate media and school curriculum This book informs educators how to develop context specific pedagogy that will help achieve a more enlightened citizenry and as a result a stronger democracy Teaching about Hegemony Race Class and Democracy in the 21st Century promotes a progressive agenda for teaching that is rooted in critical pedagogy it explains why ideological critique is necessary in raising political consciousness it deconstructs white middle class hegemony in the formal school curriculum and it examines corporate media and school curriculum as hegemonic devices It also covers recent theory and research about race class and democracy and how best to teach about these topics Combining theory and sociological research with pedagogical approaches and classroom narratives this book is fundamental for progressive educators interested in developing a politically conscious progressive and active citizenry hungry for a stronger civil society Blacks in the American West and Beyond--America, Canada, and Mexico George H. Junne, 2000-05-30 Almost a century before their arrival in the English New World Blacks appeared alongside the Spanish in what is now the American West Through their families communities and institutions these Western Blacks left behind a long history which is just now beginning to receive systematic scholarly treatment Comprehensively indexing a variety of research materials on Blacks in the North American West Junne offers an invaluable navigational tool for students of American and African American history Entries are organized both geographically and topically and cover a broad range of subjects including cross cultural interaction health art and law Contains a complete compilation of African American newspapers
