Making Of Canadian Food Aid Policy:

The Making of Canadian Food Aid Policy Mark William Charlton, 1992 Since the Colombo Plan in the early 1950s food aid has been an important and highly visible component of the Canadian development assistance program Until the early 1970s however the Canadian food aid program was little more than a loosely connected collection of disparate programs designed to meet a host of sometimes conflicting objectives In the wake of the world food crisis of 1972-75 a growing number of groups began to question the developmental effectiveness of food aid In response the Canadian government undertook an extensive review and assessment of its food aid program which resulted in a series of new policy initiatives designed to change both the substance of food aid programs and the manner in which they were administered These changes marked a watershed in the history of the Canadian food aid program setting out the fundamental policy themes that have been consolidated and refined in the 1980s and early 1990s Mark Charlton examines the evolution of the Canadian food aid program during this critical period of policy reform Focusing on the rationale of the food aid program the nature of the planning and programming process the selection of delivery channels the make up of the food aid commodity basket and the nature of donor recipient relations Charlton provides useful insights into the overall objectives and priorities of Canadian foreign policy in the developing world He also reveals the impact of domestic economic interests Canadian political culture bureaucratic politics and the global food aid regime on the evolution of Canadian aid policies

Canadian International Development Assistance Policies Cranford Pratt, 1996 For 25 years Canadians have argued whether the Canadian International Development Agency is the primary vehicle for helping basic human and development needs of the poorest countries and people or a tool for commercial exploitation and foreign policy Contributors from the government development organizations and academia analyze the components of Canadian aid the issues the agency has to deal with and the pressures it responds to Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR

Food Aid After Fifty Years Christopher B. Barrett, Dan Maxwell, 2007-05-07 This book analyzes the impact food aid programmes have had over the past fifty years assessing the current situation as well as future prospects Issues such as political expediency the impact of international trade and exchange rates are put under the microscope to provide the reader with a greater understanding of this important subject matter This book will prove vital to students of development economics and development studies and those working in the field Canada Among Nations, 2009-2010 Fen Hampson, Fen Osler Hampson, Paul Heinbecker, Norman Paterson School of International Affairs, 2010 Marking the 25th anniversary of the series Canada Among Nations 2009 focuses on how leading foreign and Canadian thinkers and doers assess Canada's prospects in a world in which the US will become more pre eminent and predominant The rise of China India Russia and Brazil as well as the increased significance of Europe and the further development of Africa are all transforming the context in which Canadians live Given the change in the tone style and substance of American foreign policy and the need to deal with unprecedented international financial problems and global economic retreat the topic of this volume is especially timely Canada will need to formulate sound policies on key issues such as energy and environmental sustainability nuclear nonproliferation human rights and trade and investment in key areas such as Afghanistan and the Middle East Astute bilateral diplomacy and constructive engagement in multilateral forums such as the United Nations and the G20 will be crucial to Canada's success Contributors to this volume critique Canada's performance on the world stage offering advice on initiatives Canada can take in its own and in the common interest Hunger in the Balance Jennifer Clapp, 2015-10-27 Food aid has become a contentious issue in recent decades with sharp disagreements over genetically modified crops agricultural subsidies and ways of guaranteeing food security in the face of successive global food crises In Hunger in the Balance Jennifer Clapp provides a timely and comprehensive account of the contemporary politics of food aid explaining the origins and outcomes of recent clashes between donor nations and between donors and recipients She identifies fundamental disputes between donors over tied food aid which requires that food be sourced in the donor country versus untied aid which provides cash to purchase food closer to the source of hunger These debates have been especially intense between the major food aid donors particularly the European Union and the United States Similarly the EU's rejection of GMO agricultural imports has raised concerns among recipients about accepting GMO foodstuffs from the United States For the several hundred million people who at present have little choice but to rely on food aid for their daily survival Clapp concludes the consequences of these political differences are profound Transforming Development Jim Freedman, 2000-01-01 Foreign aid is now known more for its failures than its successes leading to claims in academic and policy circles that foreign aid has outlived its usefulness Instead of foreseeing the end of foreign aid these essays show how it might be restored Canada First, Not Canada Alone Adam Chapnick, Professor of Defence Studies Adam Chapnick, Asa McKercher, Assistant Professor of History Asa McKercher, 2024 The definitive history of Canadian foreign policy since the 1930s Canada First Not Canada Alone examines how successive prime ministers have promoted Canada's national interests in a world that has grown increasingly complex and interconnected Case studies focused on environmental reform Indigenous peoples trade hostage diplomacy and wartime strategy illustrate the breadth of issues that shape Canada's global realm. Drawing from extensive primary and secondary research, Adam Chapnick and Asa McKercher offer a fresh take on how Canada positions itself in the world.

Food and Culture Carole Counihan, Penny Van Esterik, 2013. This reader reveals how food habits and beliefs both present a microcosm of any culture and contribute to our understanding of human behaviour. Particular attention is given to how men and women define themselves differently through food choices.

Uniting on Food Assistance Christopher Barrett, Julia Steets, 2011-12-20. This book chronicles the most essential causes and implications of these trends which have expanded international food assistance well beyond the simple shipment of donated food aid commodities. We pay particular attention to how these trends shape and are shaped by European Union (EU) and United States (U.S.) food assistance policy and practice and highlight the principles to which donors can adhere to move international food assistance forward.

Doing Ethics in a Pluralistic World Phyllis D. Airhart, Marilyn J. Legge, Gary L. Redcliffe, 2002-05-30. Doing Ethics in a Pluralistic World is an apt title for this collection of essays in honour of Roger C. Hutchinson, who over many decades has encouraged and participated in shaping a Canadian contextual social ethics. His abiding interest in social ethics and in religious engagement with public issues is reflected in his life's work seeking the consensus and self-knowledge required to achieve cooperation in the search for a just participatory and sustainable society. One of Roger Hutchinson's many notable accomplishments is his development of a method of dialogue for ethical clarification in situations of diversity. Some of the essays collected here apply this method to specific issues while others discuss how religious persons and organizations can and do co-operate in a pluralistic world to achieve social and ecological well-being. All essays are of keen interest to those concerned with the role and function of ethics at the matrix of religious conviction and social transformation. For nearly three decades, Roger Hutchinson has been based at Victoria University in Toronto, first in religious studies then at Emmanuel College where he completed his teaching career as professor of church and society while serving as principal from 1996 to 2001.

Doing Ethics in a Pluralistic World Helen M. Buss, Roger Hutchinson, Canadian Corporation for Studies in Religion, 2002-05-30. Annotation: A collection of essays in honour of the man who encouraged and participated in shaping a Canadian contextual social ethics.

Rethinking Canadian Aid Stephen Brown, Molly den Heyer, David R. Black, 2016-06-09. In 2013 the government abolished the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA) which had been Canada's flagship foreign aid agency for decades and transferred its functions to the newly renamed Department of Foreign Affairs, Trade and Development (DFATD). As the government is rethinking Canadian aid and its relationship with other foreign policy and commercial objectives, the time is ripe to rethink Canadian aid more broadly. Edited by Stephen Brown, Molly den Heyer and David R. Black, this revised edition not only analyzes Canada's past development assistance, it also highlights important new opportunities in the context of the recent change in government. Designed to reach a variety of audiences, contributions by twenty scholars and experts in the field offer an incisive examination of Canada's record and initiatives in Canadian foreign aid including its relatively recent emphasis on maternal and child health and on the extractive sector as well as the longer term engagement with state fragility The portrait that emerges is a sobering one This book is essential reading for anyone interested in Canada's changing role in the world Published in English Aid and Ebb Tide David R. Morrison, 2006-01-01 Aid and Ebb Tide A History of CIDA and Canadian Development Assistance examines Canada's mixed record since 1950 in transferring over 50 billion in capital and expertise to developing countries through ODA It focuses in particular on the Canadian International Development Agency CIDA the organization chiefly responsible for delivering Canada's development assistance Aid and Ebb Tide calls for a renewed and reformed Canadian commitment to development co operation at a time when the gap between the world's richest and poorest has been widening alarmingly and millions are still being born into poverty and human insecurity Managing Development in a Globalized World Habib Zafarullah, Ahmed Shafiqul Huque, 2017-09-25 Traditionally development has been rooted in ideologies and assumptions prevalent in the developed world and in practices and strategies adopted by leading industrial nations However historically eclectic ideas and approaches often clash with existing long established notions of progress and modes of realizing social and economic change Managing Development in a Globalized World Concepts Processes Institutions explores this topic by incorporating ideas and interpretations that have previously been neglected or given inadequate attention in the discourse on developing countries It underscores development as a continuous process that must be supported by sound policies and efficient management supplying a wider understanding of the field The authors argue that the application of innovative development techniques and best practices is essential for obtaining optimum results in meeting the needs of society They examine the style of managing development with a new perspective that links the phenomenon with changing demands and the interplay of internal external actors and a host of stakeholders An exploration of key sectors in development provides clear comprehension of problems and solutions A careful synthesis of theoretical conceptual and empirical literature the book assesses real world situations and provides insight into the operational dynamics of development policies programs and institutions It focuses on goals values and dynamics of development management that are undergoing rapid changes and continue to be enhanced to alleviate poverty and improve living standards in an era of globalization and inter regional and inter institutional synergies It highlights best practices essential for the efficient and effective delivery of human development services that are designed and put in place to obtain optimum results in meeting the needs of society

Human Rights Dilemmas in Contemporary Times Ashraful Hasan, 1998-04 This study examines and analyzes human rights issues from a comparative perspective As the concept of universal human rights gains increasing acceptance in the international community it has come into conflict with formulations of human rights existing in different cultures and legal systems of the world An attempt is made in this study to provide a comprehensive understanding of patterns of human rights values and violations extant in various societies Chapters incorporated in this manuscript will include topics relevant to both international relations and comparative politics Handbook of Globalisation and Development Kenneth A. Reinert, 2017-03-31 Characterised by conceptual diversity the Handbook of Globalisation and Development presents contributions from prominent international researchers on all aspects of globalisation and carefully considers their role across a whole host of development processes The Handbook is structured around seven key areas international trade international production international finance migration foreign aid a broader view and challenges Adopting a multi disciplinary approach the section on a broader view delves into dimensions of globalisation and development that go beyond the mere economic such as culture technology health and poverty Carefully crafted the chapters herein offer a rigorous and comprehensive assessment of the available research to date and provide an assessment of policy options across all areas considered The International Politics of Genetically Modified Food R. Falkner, 2015-12-11 Genetically modified food is at the heart of a new global conflict over how to govern risky technologies in an era of globalization This timely collection brings together experts from the fields of IR environmental studies trade and law to examine the sources of international friction and to explore the prospects for international co operation Foreign Agricultural Economic Report , 1961
