The Dynamics of Metropolitan Management in Southeast Asia Jürgen Rüländ, 1996

Mega Urban Regions of Southeast Asia Ira M. Robinson, 2011-11-01 A distinguishing feature of recent urbanization in the ASEAN countries of Thailand Malaysia the Philippines Singapore and Indonesia is the outward extension of their mega cities Bangkok Jakarta Manila Singapore and Kuala Lumpur beyond the metropolitan borders resulting in the establishment of new towns industrial estates and housing projects in previously rural areas This process has both positive and negative effects On one side household incomes and employment opportunities are increasing but on the other the growth often causes serious problems in terms of environmental deterioration conflicting land uses and inadequate housing and service provisions

Mega Urban Regions of Southeast Asia is the first comprehensive work on the subject of ASEAN mega urban regions The contributors review T G McGee's original idea of desakota zones and offer arguments both for and against this concept making a significant contribution to our understanding of the true face of ASEAN cities The book brings together authors from around the world and will be of interest to a wide audience including demographers urban planners geographers sociologists economists civil servants and development consultants

Asian and Pacific Cities Ian F. Shirley, Carol Neill, 2013 The cities of Asia and the Pacific are at the epicentre of development in what is arguably the most populous culturally distinctive and economically powerful region in the world 16 major cities such as Tokyo Shanghai Manila Jakarta Bangkok Singapore Auckland Kuala Lumpur and Santiago located in countries as diverse as Mexico and Vietnam Samoa and India China and Australia exemplify the changing patterns of development across this vast region of the world By tracking economic and social trends the contributors to this collection reveal how a wide range of political and cultural factors have interacted over time to provide a powerful explanation for the shape and characteristics of the city today Based on a collaborative research programme and drawing on the work of local researchers this book examines the realities of city development characterised by domestic migration spatial and social fragmentation squatter settlements and gated communities economic experiments and the emergence of the Asian Tigers The collection as a whole records the way in which countries in this region have moved from underdevelopment to become global economic and political powers This book provides a fascinating journey through Asia and the Pacific by generating an insiders view of each city and an insight into national development As such it will be of great interest to students and scholars interested in the Asian and Pacific region in disciplines such as economics politics geography and sociology and in policy domains such as urban planning and economic development Institutional

Development Ronald McGill,2016-07-27 This book reviews the theoretical perspectives on institutional development ID and third world city management It considers the practice of ID in city management by reviewing two related cases on organizational strengthening and building a planning capability both in local government The synthesizing chapters offer some guidelines on and tests for ID in city management practice The book therefore seeks to identify some general principles to guide the ID process in relation to third world city management Rising Life Expectancy James C. Riley,2001-06-04

This book traces the global history of rising life expectancy in the last 200 years Infrastructure Policy and Inequality Michael A. Cohen,2024-04-04 This book reframes the purpose of infrastructure from being an input to economic growth to becoming a major instrument in reducing socio economic inequalities in both industrialized and developing countries Drawing on global and national lessons of COVID 19 and extensive working experience in 55 countries this book reviews infrastructure policies and performance over several decades and suggests that the underperformance of infrastructure could be improved by more attention to users and the demand side and thereby contribute to overcoming many obstacles facing low income communities around the world This book argues that growth is not a necessary condition for sustainability or social justice and that both are undermined by structural inequalities which reduce the income and opportunities of urban households More focus on user needs can substantially change the distribution of benefits and the quality of living conditions of low income people It provides a unique theoretical and on the ground critique of conventional infrastructure practices while illustrating to readers the many positive experiences around the world More infrastructure is not enough different and better is needed This book reviews World Bank experience in launching a 30 year program to alleviate urban poverty through some 7 000 projects showing that many significant policy changes have led to a big improvement in global urban policies adopted by national and local governments yet have failed to significantly address and reduce intra urban inequalities The audience for this book includes academics both faculty and advanced graduate students while also a wider public interested in the prospects for international development Sustainable Cities Graham Haughton,Colin Hunter,2004-08-02

Sustainable Cities simultaneously tackles two issues of immediate public concern which also find themselves high on the policy agenda sustainable environmental development and urban development The themes of the book the bringing together of the insights of environmental science the social sciences and management the combination of problem analysis with practical application and a critique of urban environmental problems concentrating on air and water pollution are illustrated throughout with in depth material and case studies taken from around the world and are approached from a variety of perspectives economic ecological and managerial Each chapter has a concluding section pointing to key concepts key reading and a range of discussion points Work, Wages, and Welfare in a Developing Metropolis Rakesh Mohan, 1986

Examining five key urban sectors of Bogotá Columbia housing transport employment location labor markets and public finance this book provides a well written and concise summary of one of the largest research projects undertaken on a major city in a developing country Governing India's Metropolises Stéphanie Tawa Lama-Rewal, Joël Ruet, 2009 Percy Bysshe Shelley 1792-1822 was one of the major Romantic poets and wrote what is critically recognised as some of the finest lyric poetry in the English language This is the third volume which presents all of Shelley's poems in chronological order and with full annotation Date and circumstances of composition are provided for each poem and all manuscript and printed sources relevant to establishing an authentic and accurate text are freshly examined and assessed Headnotes and footnotes furnish the personal literary historical and scientific information necessary to an informed reading of Shelley's varied and allusive verse The present volume comprises poems composed between autumn 1819 and autumn 1820 The poems written in response to the political crisis in England following the Peterloo massacre in August 1819 feature largely in this volume among them The Mask of Anarchy and An Ode Arise arise arise The popular songs which Shelley intended to gather into a volume to inspire reformers from the labouring classes several accompanied by significantly new textual material recovered from draft manuscripts are included as are the important political works Ode to Liberty Ode to Naples and Oedipus Tyrannus Shelley's burlesque Greek tragedy on the Queen Caroline affair The comic ballad Peter Bell the Third takes Wordsworth as a type of the betrayal of the poet's calling by party politics Other major poems featured include The Sensitive Plant Ode to the West Wind Letter to Maria Gisbourne an exuberant translation from the ancient Greek of the Homeric Hymn to Mercury and the brilliantly inventive The Witch of Atlas In addition to accompanying commentaries there are extensive bibliographies a chronology of Shelley's life and indexes to titles and first lines Leigh Hunt's informative Preface of 1832 to The Mask of Anarchy is also included as an appendix Making Megacities in Asia Du Huynh, 2019-10-19 This book analyses and compares the development paths of five major cities in East and Southeast Asia since the early 1960s including Ho Chi Minh City Jakarta Manila Seoul and Shanghai In examining these five cases through a carefully crafted conceptual framework the author excavates an understanding of the dynamics that have enabled Seoul and Shanghai to become highly competitive as major engines of economic growth while simultaneously accounting for why the other three cities have faced numerous problems in terms of meeting their development goals Presenting both quantitative and qualitative data to trace the course of changes between 1960 and 2015 the case studies curate six possible explanations for the different cities' developmental trajectories The book considers the national development strategy matters to the development of cities and positions the share of budget revenue retained for cities' expenditure as critical The author demonstrates that consistently pursuing long term strategies is important and that public entrepreneurship with powerful supporting coalitions is vital The book illustrates how master plans have played limited roles in the building of cities and that fragmented governments are often at the root of the problems facing a city's development. This book will be highly relevant to researchers in international and Asian urban development. Rethinking Aid to Urban Poverty Reduction Alfredo Stein, International Institute for Environment & Development, 2001

Design, 1987

The Living City David Cadman, Geoffrey Payne, 2019-06-21. First published in 1990. The options and probabilities for the future of cities are issues of outstanding contemporary importance both in the developed and developing worlds. The Living City draws together both current mainstream ideas on their futures and various alternative views to enliven the debate and put forward an agenda for sustainable urban development emphasizing ideas that question the economic imperatives of that development. Certain aspects of city life: the economy of the city, city-countryside relationships, the city as a cultural centre, are selected for study as the book looks at the historical past and current experiences to speculate on the likely condition of cities in the future. In addition, the book investigates whether the Third World experience of city life is a separate experience or whether there are lessons to be learnt relating to all cities. The book will appeal to professionals in the surveying, planning, and architectural fields as well as students and academics in Planning, Geography, Economics, Architecture, Development Studies, and Sociology and anyone interested in issues concerning the city and the environment.

Southeast Asia (Routledge Revivals) Jonathan Rigg, 2013-09-13. Southeast Asia: A Region in Transition first published in 1991 is a contemporary human geography of the market economies of the region, usually defined by membership of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN). Organized thematically, the chapters deal with the environment and development, plural societies, agrarian change, and urbanization. This thematic approach provides a comprehensive picture of the ASEAN countries and gives a depth of coverage often lacking in other regional geographies. With a detailed introduction dealing with the physical environment and history of the region, this work will be of great value to students studying the human geography of Southeast Asia as well as those with a more general interest in the issues and developments affecting the ASEAN region.

The Extended Metropolis Norton Sydney Ginsburg, Bruce Koppel, T. G. McGee, 1991-01-01. Asian urbanization is entering a new phase that differs significantly from the patterns of city growth experienced in other developing countries and in the developed world. According to a recent hypothesis, zones of intensive economic interaction between rural and urban activities are emerging.

The zones appear to be a new form of socioeconomic organization that is neither rural nor urban but preserves essential ingredients of each

Urban Growth and Development in Asia Graham P. Chapman, Ashok K. Dutt, 2019-01-15 First published in 1999 this volume begins with a panoramic survey by Nigel Harris of the drama of Asian Urbanization based on the inaugural plenary lecture he gave to the 5th Asian Urbanization Conference held in London In the following chapters many experts and practitioners from different countries and cities provide a stimulating portrayal of the processes and outcomes of one of the greatest shifts of population not just absolutely but proportionately as well ever to have occurred in human history Asia includes more than half the world's population but apart from the Tiger economies and Japan it is still overwhelmingly rural In the last decade or so urbanization has really begun to take off and the shift of population to the cities represents one of the greatest population movements the planet has ever seen By 2030 more than 50% of Asia's population will be urban and between now and then more than 500 million people in Asia will have moved looking for jobs housing food and water They will be both part of a problem and most of the solution building around them the cities they will live in
