Revie,2010-11-22 What is it about Niagara Falls that fascinates people What draws them to it Is it love obsession or fear In The Niagara Companion Linda Revie searches for an answer to these questions by examining the paintings and writings about the Falls from the late seventeenth century when the first Europeans discovered Niagara to the early twentieth century Linda Revie's study considers how three centuries of representations are shaped by the earliest encounters with the waterfall and notes shifts in the construction of landscape features and in human figures both Native and European in the long history of fine art depictions Travel narratives both literary and scientific also come under her scrutiny and reveal how these chronicles were influenced by previous pictures coming out of Niagara particularly some of the first from the seventeenth century In all of these portraits and texts she notes a common pattern of response from the observers moving from anticipation to disappointment to a kind of recovery But in the end there is fear Even long after Niagara had become a tourist mecca it was often drawn as a primordial wilderness a place where civilization vies with wildness artifice with nature fear with control the natural with the mastered Throughout this history of images and narratives as humans struggle to control nature the notion of wildness prevails Those who want a deeper understanding of why Niagara Falls continues to fascinate us even today will find Linda Revie's book an excellent companion Off the Page Tom Lavazzi,2016-11-01 Off the Page offers a series of critical scripts exploring various cultural texts and a working definition of performative criticism grounded in poststructuralist literary cultural and performance theory Historical Souvenir of the Hudson-Fulton Celebration, State of New York,1909 Trading Identities Ruth Bliss Phillips,1998 Indians in northeastern North America produced a variety of art objects for sale to travelers and tourists during the 18th and 19th centuries This art is of high quality and great aesthetic interest but has been largely ignored by scholars This study combines fieldwork art historical analysis New York, a Guide to Information and Reference Sources, 1979-1986 Manuel D.
