Patterns Of Dissonance:

Patterns of Dissonance Rosi Braidotti, 1991 Thinking Differently Gabrielle Griffin, Rosi Braidotti, 2002-10 This book is the first to ask whether there is a specifically European dimension to certain major issues in Women's Studies. It strives to create a synergetic debate among different disciplines and cultural traditions in Europe and in doing so fills some gaps in our knowledge about women and enriches debates hitherto dominated by Anglo American influences. Among the new areas of enquiry opened up in this book by the specificities of European Women's Studies are: The fact that Europe has repeatedly experienced warfare on its own territory which has impacted significantly on women. Hence the focus in this volume on women and militarism and on ethnic cleansing as an attack on the family. The abidingly problematic relationship between feminism and anti-Semitism and issues of migration and whiteness in a context where racism reflects the colonial histories of particular European countries. The importance of passion and the emotions as well as psychoanalytical theory for politics particularly in Southern and Eastern European countries. Current problems facing Europe including the decline of the welfare state, the phenomenon of the single woman and the relationship between women's rights and human rights. The diverse faces of feminist movements in particular European countries. Reading feminism from a European perspective will enable readers to reflect upon the ways in which changes in political, social and cultural positions and practices over the past century in Europe have impacted on feminist thinking and theorizing. The volume raises important issues about the transfer of feminist concepts across cultures and languages. And to English speaking audiences the volume also offers fresh viewpoints on some of the key debates in Women's Studies.

Feminism and Christian Ethics Susan Frank Parsons, 1996-02-29 Feminists are aware of the diversity of thinking within their own tradition and of the different approaches to moral questions in which that is manifest. This book describes and analyses that diversity by distinguishing three distinct paradigms of moral reasoning to be found within feminism. Using the writings of feminists the major strengths and weaknesses of each theory are considered so that creative dialogue between them can be encouraged. Three common themes are drawn out which are also on the agenda of new developments in philosophical and Christian ethics: the search for an appropriate universalism, the possibility of a redemptive community and the development of a new humanism. Feminists may be encouraged through this account of their considerable scholarship in ethical thinking to contribute to these changes with their special concern for the lives and the fulfilment of women.

Is Philosophy Androcentric? Iddo Landau, 2009-03-02 In Is Philosophy Androcentric Iddo Landau contends that none of the arguments for viewing philosophy as pervasively androcentric ultimately stand up to rational scrutiny while the ones that show it to be nonpervasively androcentric do not undermine it in the way that many critics have supposed. Philosophy emerges in almost all of its parts, he concludes, as human rather than male and most parts and aspects of it need not be rejected or rewritten.

Deleuze and Gender Claire Colebrook, 2019-06-01 A unique new study which extends Deleuze's already radical philosophy into ideas of the post human.
