Historical Dictionary of Women in the Middle East and North

Africa Ghada Talhami, 2013 The overriding theme of this work is that women's struggles, human rights, myths, and literary expression are indispensable to an understanding of the modern culture and socio-political development of the Middle East region. The work demonstrates that no aspect of Middle Eastern history and modern evolution was shaped in isolation of women's lives and contributions to society. The dictionary covers the biographies and written work of prominent historical female figures in the Middle East and North Africa as well as 20th-century feminists, both male and female, who advanced women's rights over many years. The Historical Dictionary of Women in the Middle East and North Africa includes a chronology, an introductory essay, an extensive bibliography, and a dictionary section that has over 400 cross-referenced entries on various aspects of Middle Eastern feminism and culture, touching upon religious themes such as Sharia laws, Islamic marriage, divorce, and inheritance practices. This book is an excellent access point for students, researchers, and anyone wanting to know more about the culture and history of women in the Middle East and North Africa. Language and Identity in the Israel-Palestine Conflict Camelia Suleiman, 2011-09-30 The conflict between Israel and Palestine is and remains to be one of the most widely and passionately debated issues in the Middle East and in the field of international politics. An important part of this conflict is the dimension of self-perception of both Israelis and Palestinians caught up in its midst. Here Camelia Suleiman, using her background in linguistic analysis, examines the interplay of language and identity, feminism, and nationalism, and how the concepts of spatial and temporal boundaries affect self-perception. She does this through interviews with peace activists from a variety of backgrounds: Palestinians with Israeli citizenship, Jewish Israelis as well as Palestinians from Ramallah, officially holders of Jordanian passports. By emphasizing the importance of these levels of official identity, Suleiman explores how self-perception is influenced, negotiated, and manifested, and how place of birth and residence play a major role in this conflict. This book therefore holds vital first-hand analysis of the conflict and its impact upon both Israelis and Palestinians, making it crucial for anyone involved in Middle East Studies, Conflict Studies, and International Relations. The A to Z of the United Nations

Just how successful the UN has been in maintaining these goals is covered in The A to Z of the United Nations. Author Jacques Fomerand provides a comprehensive dictionary of nearly 900 cross-referenced entries on the UN's various committees and organizations, its leaders, terms, policies, and major events in which the UN took part. Moghadam, 2007-06-18 This rich anthology offers twenty studies on instances of emerging social justice and women's empowerment in the Middle East North Africa and South Asia These areas are home to huge populations where women's rights have withered under patriarchal rule and many are beset by civic unrest The book shows how changes are occurring as flood tides of capital people and information erode entrenched gender regimes giving birth to energetic and forward thinking women's movements Highly original conceptually sophisticated and imminently readable this book illustrates how local women are transforming their collective fates by questioning their status forming alliances demanding full participation in economic development and the political process and mining opportunities afforded by globalization Arab Feminisms: Gender and Equality in the Middle East Jean Makdisi, Noha Bayoumi, Rafif Rida Sidawi, 2014-01-29

Is there a truly Arab feminist movement Is there such a thing as Islamic feminism What does it mean to be a feminist in the Arab World today Does it mean grappling with the main theoretical elements of the movement Or does it mean involvement at the grassroots level with everyday activism This book examines the issues and controversies that are hotly debated and contested when it comes to the concept of feminism and gender in Arab society today It offers explorations of the theoretical issues at play the latest developments of feminist discourse literary studies and sociology as well as empirical data concerning the situation of women in Arab countries such as Iraq and Palestine It is certainly not surprising that when looking at the situation on the ground in many countries of the Arab World particularly Palestine Iraq and Lebanon as well as Sudan issues of war civil conflict military occupation and imperialism often override those of gender The place of feminism in this context is extremely problematic as nationalist sectarian religious and class interests not to mention the interests of occupation authorities and the resistance movements that oppose them supersede feminism as a public concern even among many women Arab feminists are thus either co-opted by these interests or find themselves in the frustrating position of negotiating their way through a minefield of contradictory imperatives and loyalties Arab Feminisms examines these contexts and sheds light upon the difficult position in which feminists often find themselves It looks at different social and political situations such as the development of Palestinian feminist discourse in a post Oslo world the impact of the civil war in Lebanon on women and Kuwaiti women's struggles for equality This book therefore offers valuable theoretical analysis as well as indispensable first
