The Portuguese in South Africa George McCall Theal, 1896      Southern Africa Since The Portuguese Coup John Seiler, 2019-09-05 First published in 1980 Toward the end of 1975 the author decided to edit a collection of essays on political developments in Southern Africa Regional events since the Portuguese coup in April 1974 had already made an enormous impact first suggesting the possibilities of peaceful accommodation between South Africa and its neighbors but then demonstrating the destructive impact in Angola of widespread international intervention in the latter half of 1975 From 1975 to the present events in Southern Africa have neared center stage in international attention but as these essays will show outstanding regional differences are no closer to peaceful resolution in late 1979 than they were in early 1976

Portuguese Africa and the West William Minter, 1973      Portuguese Decolonization in the Indian Ocean World Pamila Gupta, 2018-10-18 Pamila Gupta takes a unique approach to examining decolonization processes across Lusophone India and Southern Africa focusing on Goa Mozambique Angola and South Africa weaving together case studies using five interconnected themes Gupta considers decolonization through the twined lenses of history and ethnography accessed through written oral visual and eyewitness accounts of how people experienced the transfer of state power She looks at the materiality of decolonization as a movement of peoples across vast oceanic spaces demonstrating how it was a process of dispossession for both the Portuguese formerly in power and ordinary colonial citizens and subjects She then discusses the production of race and class anxieties during decolonization which took on a variety of forms but were often articulated through material objects The book aims to move beyond linear histories of colonial independence by connecting its various regions using the theme of decolonization offering a productive and new approach to writing post national histories and ethnographies Finally Gupta demonstrates the value of using different source materials to access narratives of decolonization analyzing the work of Mozambican photographer Ricardo Rangel and including lyrical prose and ethnographical observations Portuguese Decolonization in the Indian Ocean World provides a nuanced understanding of Lusophone decolonization revealing the perspectives of people who experienced it This book will be highly valuable for historians of the Indian Ocean world and decolonization but also those interested in ethnography diaspora studies and material culture      The Portuguese Massacre of Wiriyamu in Colonial Mozambique, 1964-2013 Mustafah Dhada, 2015-11-19 WINNER OF THE 2017 MARTIN A KLEIN PRIZE In his in depth and compelling study of perhaps the most famous of Portuguese colonial massacres Mustafah Dhada explores why the massacre took place what Wiriyamu was like prior to the massacre how events unfolded how we came to know about it and what the impact of the massacre was particularly for the Portuguese empire Spanning the period from 1964 to 2013 and complete with a foreword from Peter Pringle this chronologically arranged book covers the liberation war in Mozambique and uses fieldwork interviews and archival sources to place the massacre firmly in its historical context The Portuguese Massacre of Wiriyamu in Colonial Mozambique 1964 2013 is an important text for anyone interested in the United States Relations with South Africa Y. G.-M. Lulat, 2008 Relations between the United States and South Africa or the parts of the world these nations now occupy go nearly as far back as the very beginning of their inception as permanent European colonial intrusions This book is a critical overview of these relations from the late seventeenth century to the present Unprecedented in its scope and supported by substantive and detailed notes together with an extensive bibliography chronology glossary and appendices the book distinguishes itself from extant works in a number of other ways Set against the backdrop of a wider interdisciplinary exploration of both ideational and structural issues of historical context it not only gives attention to the importance of contributions from nonofficial actors in shaping official relations but also considers the impact of the geo political location of South Africa within southern Africa where the presence of other nations particularly Angola Mozambique Namibia and Zimbabwe looms large Methodologically written from the perspectives of both traditional narrative history and Khaldunian interpretive historical analysis the book consequently sits at the interdisciplinary interstice of political economy and sociology where the aim is to advance our understanding of the Braudelien interconnectedness of world history as an important diachronic determinant of the diplomacy of foreign relations Written for both scholars and policy analysts this book s examination of the agency of the marginalized should also be of interest to activists and the reading public

AF Press Clips ,1975-07 Genres of Transition: Literature and Economy in Portuguese-Speaking Southern Africa Thomas Waller,2024-07-22 This book argues that literary production in Portuguese speaking southern Africa has developed distinctive aesthetic idioms that critically respond to crises of global capitalism and related failures of post colonial governance Drawing from recent research at the intersection of world systems analysis and materialist theories of world literature it identifies and evaluates two generic trends in the post independence literatures of Mozambique and Angola From the mid 1980s to the early 1990s there is a marked tendency in Mozambican literary production towards fictional representations of ghosts spectral effects and gothic narrative techniques In Angola there is an analogous outburst of literary expression from the mid 1990s onwards in which writers increasingly turn towards dystopian images of apocalypse ecological crisis and the disintegration of existing modes of social reproduction Away from a restricted focus on the decline of the post independence Marxist Leninist state the book contends that the upswing in these two genres of writing functions to critically register a world systemic horizon that both surpasses and includes locally determined national realities The patterned repetition of spectral and dystopian forms in Portuguese speaking southern Africa occurred at a time of heightened capitalisation in which the region was subjected to newly expropriative forms of accumulation and ecological enclosure via integration into a reconstellated world system headed by neoliberal finance capital Through close readings of texts by authors such as Mia Couto Suleiman Cassamo Ungulani Ba Ka Khosa Pepetela and Ondjaki this book asks What factors drove literary production towards the figure of the spectre in Mozambique and towards dystopia in Angola What emerging energies and social contradictions found shape in these generic idioms in ways that existing vocabularies were unable to express What does the geo temporal passage from spectrality to dystopia tell us about the history of capitalist development in southern Africa and about the restructuring of political economic parameters across the globe     Angola Under the Portuguese Gerald J. Bender,1980-01-01 The book is the first comprehensive study of race relations in Angola It covers the entire five century long relationship between the peoples of Angola and Portugal Portuguese imperial thinkers asserted that they were unique among European colonizers in their ability to establish and maintain egalitarian and non discriminatory relationships with tropical peoples This concept was elevated to a philosophical plateau and given the name Lusotropicalism Propagated with fervor by Portuguese colonial thinkers Lusotropical doctrines were widely accepted as being valid by twentieth century diplomats and political thinkers in both Europe and the United States many of whom believed that Portuguese colonialism in Africa would continue indefinitely The evidence presented in this work indicates that Portuguese rule in Angola was deeply racist This conclusion is based on a considerable body of data gleaned from archival sources personal collections and systematic interviewing of racially diverse Angolans and Portuguese functionaries in the colonial administration and the private sector Special emphasis is placed on devices that the Portuguese used to delude themselves and others about the realities of their attitudes and behavior as ruling elites The study concludes with an assessment of the impact of Lusotropical myths on independent Angola     The Athenaeum James Silk Buckingham,John Sterling,Frederick Denison Maurice,Henry Stebbing,Charles Wentworth Dilke,Thomas Kibble Hervey,William Hepworth Dixon,Norman Maccoll,Vernon Horace Rendall,John Middleton Murry,1902     Studies in British Imperial History Gordon Martel,1986-06-16
