Crayton, 2016-12-15 Growing up poor in a small town in Georgia Alice Walker became aware of the effects of prejudice and segregation at a young age She would later call on these early experiences when writing her most famous novel The Color Purple But the themes of Walker's prose and poetry extend far beyond race

including women's issues religion relationships and culture This text explores the many themes of her work as well as her use of characterization literary devices and plot Through biographical information quotes from the author excerpts from texts and critical analysis readers will obtain a strong appreciation for the life and works of this controversial and esteemed author

Female Circumcision and the Politics of Knowledge Obioma Nnaemeka, 2005-07-30 Heated debates about and insurgencies against female circumcision are symptoms of a disease emanating from a mindset that produced hierarchies of humans conquered colonies and built empires The loss of colonies and empires does not in any way mitigate the ideological underpinnings of empire building and the knowledge construction that subtends it The mindset finds its articulation at points of coalescence Female circumcision provided a point of coalescence and impetus for this articulation Insisting that the hierarchy on which the imperialist project rests is not bipolar but multi layered and more complex the contributions in this volume demonstrate how imperialist discourses complicate issues of gender race and history Nnaemeka gives voice to the silenced and marginalized and creates space for them to participate in knowledge construction and theory making The authors in this volume trace the travels of imperial and colonial discourses from antecedents in anthropology travel writings and missionary discourse to modern configurations in films literature and popular culture The contributors interrogate foreign or Western modus operandi and interventions in the so called Third World and show how the resistance they generate can impede development work and undermine the true collaboration and partnership necessary to promote a transnational feminist agenda With great clarity and in simple accessible language the contributors present complex ideas and arguments which hold significant implications for transnational feminism and development Black American Women's Writings Eva Lennox Birch, 2016-07-01 This work discusses a range of novels short stories and essays by black American women writers from the Harlem Renaissance to the present time It begins with a survey of 19th century black women's slave narratives early sentimental novels and autobiographies and then focuses on six writers Zora Neale Hurston Paule Marshall Audre Lorde Toni Morrison Alice Walker and Maya Angelou The text shows how these writers have developed the preoccupations themes and narrative strategies of their literary ancestors Encyclopedia of African-American illustrates them by a number of detailed comparative studies examining the differences between Europe and China between classical antiquity and medieval Europe and between Britain and the rest of Europe during the industrial revolution He examines such aspects as the role of the state the Chinese gave up a millennium wide lead in shipping to the Europeans for example when an Emperor banned large ocean going vessels the impact of science as well as religion politics and even nutrition He questions the importance of such commonly cited factors as the spill over benefits of war the abundance of natural resources life expectancy and labor costs Today an ever greater number of industrial economies are competing in the global market locked in a struggle that revolves around technological ingenuity The Lever of Riches with its keen analysis derived from a sweeping survey of creativity throughout history offers telling insights into the question of how Western economies can maintain and developing nations can unlock their creative potential
