Post Apartheid Patterns Of Internal Migration In South Africa:

Post-apartheid Patterns of Internal Migration in South Africa P. C. Kok, 2003 Popular belief is that urbanisation has increased substantially in the new South Africa when in fact patterns of internal migration have remained static since the late 1970s Internal migration and development planning in South Africa (Dr) Ilse Eigelaar-Meets, 2025-02-19 This scholarly book aims to illustrate the importance of incorporating internal migration data into development planning initiatives and processes to gain insight into both short and long term social changes This publication draws on census data pertaining to internal migration flows in the Northern Cape and Western Cape provinces of South Africa The author analyses compares and presents data across three post apartheid periods 1996 2001 2001 2006 and 2006 2011 to illustrate how current forces drive and direct migration flows and how this impacts the social dynamics within the two provinces This book highlights three significant shifts when comparing the two provinces pre and post 1994 internal migration trends First it examines the change in the political context framing mobility Second it explores the change in the types of internal migration flows sustaining urbanisation Third and lastly it analyses the changing profile of mobile migrants in the Northern Cape and Western Cape Internal migration and development planning in South Africa makes a compelling case for a strategic and coordinated approach by governments by demonstrating the influence of political and economic forces on internal migration flows and their impact on community social dynamics Such an approach is essential to address the increasing developmental constraints and challenges posed by internal migration in post apartheid South Africa Migration in South and Southern Africa Pieter Kok (Zuid-Afrika.), 2006 Covers three broad areas macro level migration trends in sub Saharan Africa micro level factors in South African migration and a synthesis of current migration theory The Oxford Handbook of the South African Economy Arkebe Oqubay, Fiona Tregenna, Imraan Valodia, 2021-11-18 While sharing some characteristics with other middle income countries South Africa is a country with a unique economic history and distinctive economic features It is a regional economic powerhouse that plays a significant role not only in southern Africa and in the continent but also as a member of BRICS However there has been a lack of structural transformation and weak economic growth and South Africa faces the profound triple challenges of poverty inequality and unemployment Any meaningful debate about economic policies to address these challenges needs to be informed by a deep understanding of historical developments robust empirical evidence and rigorous analysis of South Africa's complex economic landscape This volume seeks to provide a wide ranging set of original detailed and state of the art analytical perspectives that contribute to scientific knowledge as well as to well informed and productive discourse on the South African economy While concentrating on the more recent economic issues facing South Africa the handbook also provides historical and political context It offers an in depth examination of strategic issues in the country's key economic sectors and brings together diverse analytical perspectives Handbook on Rural-Urban Linkages in the Global South Cecilia Tacoli, Jytte Agergaard, Manja Hoppe, Andreasen, Donald

Brown,2025-02-12 This Handbook offers a comprehensive review of how in rapidly urbanizing low and middle income countries the links between rural and urban areas people and enterprises are becoming increasingly intense and complex With a focus on how rural urban linkages are being shaped by the intersection of the local and the global this Handbook illustrates how and where locally specific geographic socio economic and political contexts interact with global dynamics

Engaging Schooling Subjectivities across Post-Apartheid Urban Spaces Aslam Fataar,2015-09-30 Aslam Fataar one of South Africa s few educational sociologists working with ethnographic methods captures the complex interactions and dynamics between social life school processes and youth subjectivity in townships in the Western Cape His work with concepts of mobilities and space is enormously generative providing a way for teachers principals communities and policy makers to engage with the complex ecologies of young people s learning in urban schools As an astute policy analyst he also well knows the systemic barriers in the way of achieving this The last chapter on possibilities for pedagogical justice at the site of the school considers how disengaged students might re engage through leveraging explicit pedagogic connections between their lifeworlds and school practices Acknowledging that pedagogy cannot be the only means for revitalising schooling the author nevertheless insists that marginalised young people s consent needs to be won by schools that make use of rather than ignore their strengths knowledges and aspirations The approach to the troubled question of youth and subjectivity is enlightening and vital to understanding the post apartheid city and school The book fills a much needed gap in educational sociology in South Africa

Routledge Handbook of Environmental Displacement and Migration Robert McLeman,François Gemenne,2018-03-09 The last twenty years have seen a rapid increase in scholarly activity and publications dedicated to environmental migration and displacement and the field has now reached a point in terms of profile complexity and sheer volume of reporting that a general review and assessment of existing knowledge and future research priorities is warranted So far such a product does not exist The Routledge Handbook of Environmental Displacement and Migration provides a state of the science review of research on how environmental variability and change influence current and future global migration patterns and in some instances trigger large scale population displacements Drawing together contributions from leading researchers in the field this compendium will become a go to guide for established and newly interested scholars for government and policymaking entities and for students and their instructors It explains theoretical conceptual and empirical developments that have been made in recent years describes their origins and connections to broader topics including migration research development studies and international public policy and law and highlights emerging areas where new and or additional research and reflection are warranted The structure and the nature of the book allow the reader to quickly find a concise review relevant to conducting research or developing policy on particular topics and to obtain a broad reliable survey of what is presently known about the subject

Circular Migration in Zimbabwe & Contemporary Sub-Saharan Africa Deborah Helen Potts,2010 The World Bank insists that the urban share of sub Saharan

Africa's population is rapidly increasing this study shows that in many countries this is no longer true as migration strategies have adapted in response to economic and political change Circular migration whereby rural migrants do not remain permanently in town has particular significance in the academic literature on development and urbanization in Africa often having negative connotations in southern Africanist studies due to its links with an iniquitous migrant labour system Literature on other African regions often views circular migration more positively This book reviews the current evidence about circular migration and urbanization in sub-Saharan Africa The author challenges the dominant view that rural urban migration continues unabated and shows that circular migration has continued and has adapted with faster out migration in the face of declining urban economic opportunities The empirical core of the book illustrates these trends through a detailed examination of the case of Zimbabwe based on the author's longstanding research on Harare The political and economic changes in Zimbabwe since the 1980s transformed Harare from one of the best African cities to live in over this period to one of the worst Harare citizens' livelihoods exemplify in microcosm the central theme of the book the re-invention of circulation and rural urban links in response to economic change Deborah Potts is a Senior Lecturer in the Geography Department of King's College London She works in the broad research field of urbanization and migration in sub-Saharan Africa particularly southern Africa and has conducted research on these themes in Harare in Zimbabwe since 1985 Southern Africa South Africa Botswana Lesotho Swaziland Namibia and Zimbabwe University of Cape Town Press PB

Odimegwu, John Kekovole, 2015-08-27 This edited collection investigates what progress has been made in the field of social demography in South Africa since the democratic dispensation in the country Contributors offer a compilation of in-depth analytical studies of substantive technical and contemporary issues in the South African demographic landscape Accessible and topical it is a useful reference guide to those working in disciplines such as sociology geography statistics and economics and to all those trying to understand the role of national statistical agency in national development planning in Africa This book project is funded by Statistics South Africa Pretoria South Africa

Global Flows, Local Appropriations Sindre Bangstad, 2007 Global Flows Local Appropriations Facets of Secularisation and Re-Islamization Among Contemporary Cape Muslims is the first ethnographic study of Muslims in Cape Town South Africa at this level in 25 years It explores processes of secularisation and re-Islamization among Cape Muslims in the context of a post-apartheid South Africa in which liberal and secular values have attained considerable purchase in the new political and social elites Fractured by status ethnicity and religious orientation Cape Muslims have responded to these changes through an ambiguous accommodation with the new order This study explores this development through chapters on conversions to Islam among black Africans in Cape Town Cape women's experiences with polygyny Cape Muslims and HIV/AIDS the status of Islam in a prison Cape Town in the post-apartheid era and on contestation over rituals among Cape Muslims

Contemporary Dance in South Africa Sarahleigh Castelyn, 2022-11-14 This book explores when and how and to what effect the body in South

African contemporary dance protests subverts or represents a site of the struggle against oppressive forces of power It considers how the dancing body is choreographed what meanings lie behind the movements it makes in space the possible effect of these movements how and why it is costumed and its relationship to its setting and space It examines a selection of contemporary South African dance works including Flatfoot Dance Company's Transmission Mother to Child 2005 Siwela Sonke Dance Theatre's Home 2003 Musa Hlatshwayo's Umthombi 2004 Mlu Zondi's Silhouette 2006 and Nelisiwe Xaba's They Look at Me and That Is All They Think 2006 Using both critical study of these works and the author's own practice research the book develops an understanding of the body in contemporary dance and its political and social meanings both in the chosen performance and within the broader context of South African society from 2003 2007 This provides a snapshot of the practice and concerns of contemporary dance in just over a decade from the first democratic national elections in 1994 It is through the study of these dance works that this moment in South African history is captured Contemporary dance in South Africa tells the story of South Africa its past present and possible future and is therefore an enticing and evocative historical period to research a dance practice

Democracy and Delivery Udesb Pillay, Richard Tomlinson, Jacques Du Toit, 2006 Democracy and Delivery Urban Policy in South Africa tells the story of urban policy and its formulation in South Africa As such it provides an important resource for present and future urban policy processes In a series of essays written by leading academics and practitioners Democracy and Delivery documents and assesses the formulation evolution and implementation of urban policy in South Africa during the first ten years of democracy The contributors describe the creation of democratic local governments from the time of the 1976 Soweto uprising and the intense township struggles of the 1980s the formulation of developmental planning and financial frameworks and the delivery of housing and services by the new democratic order They examine the policy formulation processes and what underlay these debate the role of research and the influence of international development agencies and assess successes and failures in policy implementation Looking to the future the contributors make suggestions based on experience with implementation and changing political priorities Academics students policy makers and government officials as well as an informed public will find this book an enlightening read

Views on Migration in Sub-saharan Africa Catherine Cross, 2006 Publisher Description

Poverty and Policy in Post-apartheid South Africa Haroon Bhorat, S. M. Ravi Kanbur, 2006 The political freedoms ushered in by the post 1994 transition were seen at that time as the basis for redressing long standing economic deprivations suffered by the majority of the population The reduction of poverty in all its dimensions was the goal The volume will be of interest to researchers graduate students and to the technical staff of international agencies and government ministries

COSATU'S Contested Legacy Sakhela Buhlungu, Malehoko Tshoaedi, 2013-04-15 COSATU's Contested Legacy provides a fresh and up to date analysis of trade unionism in contemporary South Africa by focusing on the Congress of South African Trade Unions the largest and most powerful federation Drawing on quantitative data from four time series surveys of union members over a period of sixteen years the authors present rigorous and authoritative analyses that shed light on the dilemmas and opportunities facing trade unionism today The volume shows how various sections of the trade union movement grapple with these dilemmas and contest with one another to chart a future trajectory for trade unionism Racism and Human Ecology Katharina Loeber, 2019-01-21 The apartheid era in South Africa lasted more than 40 years It was marked by political repression and the attempt to create a homogeneous white South Africa which meant excluding the non white majority population The establishment and maintenance of white supremacy in South Africa by colonialism and since 1948 grand apartheid was not only the result of racist regulations and laws but also followed a scientific logic to justify the resettlement and expulsion of South African blacks The history of South Africa from 1948 to 1994 can also be seen as the history of a major society spanning project an attempt to build a modern state on the basis of racial segregation This work investigates the factors that make it possible to stabilize a policy based on virtually impossible prerequisites over four decades Ethnic categorization territorial planning and environmental protection measures The Youth Dividend Jan H. Hofmeyr, 2012

Transnational Families in Africa Maria C Marchetti-Mercer, Leslie Swartz, Loretta Baldassar, Thembelihle Coka, Glory Kabaghe, Sonto Madonsela, Lactricia Maja, Esther Price, Risuna Mathebula, Daniella Rafaely, Siko Moyo, Ajwang' Warria, 2023-12 This is the first book to capture the poignant stories of transnational African families and their use of Information and Communication Technologies ICTs in mediating their experiences of migration and caring across distance Transnational Families in Africa analyses the highs and lows of family separation as a result of migration in three contexts migration within South Africa from rural to urban areas migration from other African countries into South Africa and middle class South Africans emigrating to non African countries The book foregrounds the importance of kinship and support from extended family as well as both the responsibilities migratory family members feel and the experience of loss by those left behind Across the diverse circumstances explored in the book are similarities in migrants strategies for keeping in touch but also large differences in relation to access to ICTs and ease of use that highlight the digital divide and generational gaps As elsewhere in the world and in spite of the varied experiences in these kinship circles the phenomenon that is the transnational family is showing no signs of receding This book provides a groundbreaking contribution to global debates on migration from the Global South Love in the Time of AIDS Mark Hunter, 2021-12-22 In some parts of South Africa more than one in three people are HIV positive Love in the Time of AIDS explores transformations in notions of gender and intimacy to try to understand the roots of this virulent epidemic By living in an informal settlement and collecting love letters cell phone text messages oral histories and archival materials Mark Hunter details the everyday social inequalities that have resulted in untimely deaths Hunter shows how first apartheid and then chronic unemployment have become entangled with ideas about femininity masculinity love and sex and have created an economy of exchange that perpetuates the transmission of HIV AIDS This sobering ethnography challenges conventional understandings of HIV AIDS in South Africa Crossing the Divide Robert E.B. Lucas, 2021 Crossing the Divide examines the nature causes and consequences of population movements between the rural and urban sectors of developing countries Using nationally representative micro level data from seventy five countries in Africa the Asia Pacific Latin America and the Caribbean over the course of several decades Robert E B Lucas provides the most comprehensive and definitive treatment of internal migration currently available
