Post Cards Of Historic Blowing Rock:

Post Cards of Historic Blowing Rock Blowing Rock Historical Society, 2007 Blowing Rock is a resort town in western North Carolina that has attracted visitors since the late 1890s Post Cards of Historic Blowing Rock the second volume in a series organizes historical postcards by topics such as The Village Homes and Estates and The Blowing Rock Post Cards of Historic Blowing Rock Blowing Rock Historical Society, 2002 The post card was first introduced in Germany in the 1860s Business and tourist marketing via post cards immediately caught on in a world that did not as yet have a camera in every hand Sending and receiving these cards was an exciting way to share pictures of less familiar places in earlier and simpler times Collecting post cards became a hobby as popular as using them for correspondence The period between 1896 and 1914 was the heyday of the post card when over a billion cards were printed In 1898 the United States Postal Department established a reduced postage rate for these special cards and the penny post card became the most inexpensive rapid and attractive method of communication available to Americans as well as the rest of the world Blowing Rock Donna Akers Warmuth, 2004-05-26 The beautiful and mountainous area of Blowing Rock North Carolina has a rich history dating back to the days when the Native Americans passed through on the Nickajack Trail which led into Tennessee The town derives its unique name from a rock outcropping near the town where the winds defy gravity and have the ability to blow light objects thrown from the rock back to the rock During the 1790s several families settled the area and by the mid 1850s inhabitants of Blowing Rock along with summer visitors from Lenoir enjoyed the beauty and comfort of the mountainous area The construction of the Lenoir Blowing Rock Turnpike after 1845 provided easier access to America's Switzerland and visitors or cottagers as they were called soon began building second homes in the area The images contained within Blowing Rock provide readers with a glimpse into the small town charm friendly faces and inspiring scenery that ensure the town's future as a destination for those who yearn for the comfort of mountain life Blowing Rock Revisited Trent Margrif for the Blowing Rock Historical Society, 2015 Voted the Prettiest Small Town in North Carolina and often referred to as the Crown of the Blue Ridge Blowing Rock is the highlight of the High Country Named for a unique natural feature itself Blowing Rock has always represented a distinctive blend of natural and cultural heritage The town was first developed as an early resort area which grew quickly in the 1890s Modern boardinghouses hotels and inns were the first significant businesses in Blowing Rock and helped the town survive even flourish during the Great Depression Added attractions in the 1950s and 1960s made Blowing Rock a year round vacation paradise for families which it still is today Yet the heart of Blowing Rock lies within its community and residents who make their small town a wonderful place to visit and an even better place to live Summers County in Vintage Postcards Summers County Historical Society, 2005 Summers County was created in 1871 from parts of surrounding counties The community's history is based in industry as the Chesapeake Ohio Railroad was routed through Hinton the county seat and booming coal mines fueled the thriving economy The flourishing homes and businesses of yesterday have been largely preserved through the effort and determination of citizens allowing residents and visitors to learn the county's history and appreciate its roots Summers County in Vintage Postcards is a tribute to the founders of Summers County to its influential residents and to anyone who has visited and enjoyed the area's natural beauty In this volume readers will explore the county's most historically significant structures such as the Graham House at Lowell the Summers County Courthouse the Great Ben Tunnels at Talcott and Bluestone and Pipestem State Parks Super-Scenic Motorway Anne Mitchell Whisnant,2006-10-02 The most visited site in the National Park system the 469 mile Blue Ridge Parkway winds along the ridges of the Appalachian mountains in Virginia and North Carolina According to most accounts the Parkway was a New Deal Godsend for the needy built without conflict or opposition by landscape architects and planners who traced their vision along a scenic isolated southern landscape The historical archives relating to this massive public project however tell a different and much more complicated story which Anne Mitchell Whisnant relates in this revealing history of the beloved roadway The North Carolina Historical Review ,2009 The Blue Ridge Parkway Karen J. Hall,FRIENDS of the Blue Ridge Parkway,2006-04-26 In the late 1890s the Blue Ridge Parkway was envisioned by many as a great getaway and nature preserve The concept materialized in the early 20th century when John D Rockefeller donated the first 5 million to begin purchasing land for the project Located at the top of the great Appalachian ridges the parkway covers 469 winding miles of mountains and meadows lined with lush wildflowers old farms and split rail fences Inspiring scenery makes for a journey rich in history and mountain culture Boone Donna Akers Warmuth,Donna Gayle Akers,2003 It was the Old Buffalo Trail that led both Native Americans and Daniel Boone to the site of present day Boone North Carolina at an elevation of 3 333 feet Located among the scenic and cool mountains of the High Country Boone was for a long time a seasonal hunting spot with only a few settled families After the Civil War the community's population began growing and in 1899 the tiny town of Boone included 150 residents In the 1880s the treacherous and steep Boone and Blowing Rock Turnpike began to bring commerce and visitors to the mountains Although this remote town was an unlikely location for a school Watauga Academy was established in 1899 and it would later become Appalachian State University one of the top ranked Southern public colleges The Kennebunks in Vintage Postcards Brick Store Museum,2020-07-06 The town of Kennebunk split from the neighboring town of Wells on June 24 1820 just three months after Maine became a state Kennebunk's proximity to three large bodies of water the Kennebunk River the Mousam River and the Atlantic Ocean fueled its development over thousands of years Kennebunk's waterways were home to Wabanaki hunters settlement farmers early lumber mills and a booming shipbuilding business The Maine coast soon brought tourists to Kennebunk and its beaches By the 1930s Kennebunk Beach and its surrounding area contained several hotels and beach cottages Sites like the Wedding Cake House Kennebunk Beach Main Street and Blowing Cave quickly reached new heights as well known landmarks Postcards played a part in fueling the powerhouse tourist industry that remains active to this day Watauga County

Revisited Terry L. Harmon, 2016 Prior to its formation in 1849 Watauga County was a hunting ground for the Cherokee and part of the trail blazed by frontiersman Daniel Boone for whom the county seat was later named. Primarily settled by whites after the Revolutionary War, many of the county's earliest families came to the Appalachians from the Piedmont region of North Carolina and prior to that from the North, New England, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Virginia. These settlers were mainly of European extraction: English, German, Scottish, Irish, Swiss, and Welsh, along with a smaller African representation. Nestled in the panoramic Blue Ridge Mountains and unimaginable by its early agrarian inhabitants, Watauga would become one of North Carolina's premier tourist destinations and home to Appalachian State University. Postcards from the Ledge Greg Child, 2012-10-02 Reflections and humorous pieces plus insights into some of mountaineering's more controversial events. Revealing portraits of other Himalayan climbers. Peeling back the layers to reveal the gritty truth about the elite climbing world is Greg Child's specialty. With clever wit, sharp observations, and insightful reflections, Child's writing covers the full spectrum of the mountaineering experience. Entertaining even to those who have never been above sea level, Child's stories reveal climbing's other face. His description of the daily habits of mountaineers on expedition who don't bathe for months is both disgusting and horrifyingly funny. A post-climb fiasco in the offices of petty Pakistani bureaucrats proves that not all epics take place on high mountain faces. Falling off a rock climb in front of his mother is an exercise in humility. Child takes up climbing controversy with the same keen insight. His investigation of Tomo Cesen's claimed first ascent of Lhotse's south wall is considered the definitive report on this controversial event. A hard look at the media frenzy around the death of Alison Hargreaves on K2 evolves into a brilliant impassioned defense of a friend. He also speaks out on the money and media-driven expeditions that now crowd Everest. But Child never preaches. Whether contrasting his clumsy performance with Lynn Hill's elegant moves on a climb in the remote mountains of Kyrgyzstan or reflecting upon artifacts from crucifixes to pink flamingos that decorate the world's highest peaks, he writes it as he sees it with a dose of wit. A true insider, Greg Child draws us deep into the world of climbing but never denies its dark side. Remembering Boone Dr. Eric W.

Plaag, 2021 Named for the frontiersman Daniel Boone, the town of Boone was first laid out in 1850 and officially incorporated in 1872. Nestled in an Appalachian stream valley, the town of Boone was initially little more than a sleepy ramshackle county seat, prompting one 1888 visitor to describe it as a God-forsaken place. In 1899, the founding of the Watauga Academy, today's Appalachian State University, began a long history of synergy and occasional friction between town and gown. The 1918 arrival of the Linville River Railway launched the Watch Boone Grow campaign, turning Boone into a thriving commercial center. After World War II, improved roadways, cheap automobiles, and the nearby Blue Ridge Parkway made Boone a mountain tourism hub. The confluence of these forces—higher education, mountain tourism, and a commercial economy—has sometimes threatened Boone's identity, but Boone's reputation as an idyllic escape nevertheless endures. Railroad
