Post Soviet Women From The Baltic To Central Asia:

Post-Soviet Women Mary Buckley,1997-07-13 This volume is the first to take a systematic look at the position of women in the post Soviet states of the former USSR

Everyday Islam in Post-Soviet Central Asia Maria Elisabeth Louw,2007-05-09 Providing a wealth of empirical research on the everyday practise of Islam in post Soviet Central Asia this book gives a detailed account of how Islam is understood and practised among ordinary Muslims in the region focusing in particular on Uzbekistan It shows how individuals negotiate understandings of Islam as an important marker for identity grounding for morality and as a tool for everyday problem solving in the economically harsh socially insecure and politically tense atmosphere of present day Uzbekistan Presenting a detailed case study of the city of Bukhara that focuses upon the local forms of Sufism and saint veneration the book shows how Islam facilitates the pursuit of more modest goals of agency and belonging as opposed to the utopian illusions of fundamentalist Muslim doctrines

Post-Soviet Women Ann-Mari Sätre,Yulia Gradskaia,Vladislava Vladimirova,2023-10-26 This volume explores how different post Soviet countries have reinterpreted and diverged from the Soviet gender roles and values It synthesizes results from multiple empirical studies that attend to increasingly conservative features of political governance in the region particularly the authoritarian regime in Russia The authors consider diverse enactments of ideologies policies and practices of gender equality and women s rights in crucial areas such as legislative institutions media and social activism The volume contributes to understanding post Soviet societal dynamics relevant to United Nations Sustainable Development Goal 5 which emphasizes gender equality as part of fundamental human rights

The Transformation of Central Asia Pauline Jones Luong,2018-08-06 With the fall of the Soviet Union in 1991 former Communist Party leaders in Central Asia were faced with the daunting task of building states where they previously had not existed Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan Their task was complicated by the institutional and ideological legacy of the Soviet system as well as by a more actively engaged international community These nascent states inherited a set of institutions that included bloated bureaucracies centralized economic planning and patronage networks Some of these institutions survived others have mutated and new institutions have been created Experts on Central Asia here examine the emerging relationship between state actors and social forces in the region Through the prism of local institutions the authors reassess both our understanding of Central Asia and of the state building process more broadly They scrutinize a wide array of institutional actors ranging from regional governments and neighborhood committees to transnational and non governmental organizations With original empirical research and theoretical insight the volume s contributors illuminate an obscure but resource rich and strategically significant region

Handbook of Central Asian Studies Jeroen Fauve, Adrien De Cordier, B. J. Van Den Bosch, 2021-10-19 This handbook is the first collection of comprehensive teaching materials for teachers and students of Central Asian Studies CAS with a strong pedagogic dimension It presents 22 chapters clustered around five themes with contributions from more than 19 scholars all leading experts in the field of CAS and Eurasian Studies This collection is not only a reference work for scholars branching out to different disciplines of CAS but also for scholars from other disciplines broadening their scope to CAS It addresses post colonial frameworks and also untangles topics from their Soviet reference frame It aims to de exoticize the region and draws parallels to European or to historically European occupied territories In each chapter the handbook provides a concise but nuanced overview of the topics covered in which way these have been approached by the mainstream literature and points out pitfalls myths and new insights providing background knowledge about Central Asia to readers and intertwine this with an advanced level of insight to leave the readers equipped with a strong foundation to approach more specialized sources either in classroom settings or by self study In addition the book offers a comprehensive glossary list of used abbreviations overview of intended learning outcomes and a smart index distinguishing between names locations concepts and events A list of recorded lectures to be found on YouTube will accompany the handbook either as instruction materials for teachers or visual aids for students Since the authors themselves recorded the lectures related to their own chapters this provides the opportunity to engage in a more personalized way with the authors This project is being developed in the framework of the EISCAS project www.eiscas.eu co funded by the Erasmus Program of the European Union , New Women's Writing in Russia, Central and Eastern Europe Rosalind Marsh, 2020-12-07 Since the late 1980s there has been an explosion of women's writing in Russia Central and Eastern Europe greater than in any other cultural period This book which contains contributions by scholars and writers from many different countries aims to address the gap in literature and debate that exists in relation to this subject We investigate why women's writing has become so prominent in post socialist countries and enquire whether writers regard their gender as a burden or on the contrary as empowering We explore the relationship in contemporary women's writing between gender class and nationality as well as issues of ethnicity and post colonialism

Sacrificing Women to Save the Family? , 2001 Enterprising Women in Transition Economies David Smallbone, 2017-03-02 Entrepreneurship is a key element in the development of market based economies and one of the potential drivers of change in countries that are in the process of transformation to market based systems This book describes and critically assesses the nature and extent of female entrepreneurship in European economies that until 1990 were operating under central planning At the core of the book are 7 country based chapters which provide an overview of the development of entrepreneurship and small firms since 1990 including a review of the institutional and policy context an assessment of the role of women within the society during the socialist period and any major changes afterwards Each chapter also includes a thematic section each one addressing a different issue based on unique empirical data drawn from original research

Innovation and Market Globalization Carlo Corsi, Ali Akhunov, 2000 Fourteen papers presented at a NATO sponsored workshop held in September 1998 in Samarkand address development trends in the transition countries of Central Asia Workshop goals were to stimulate industry RandD for small medium enterprises and foster cooperation between East and West participants included researchers from the science technology and business sectors in Europe Georgia Kazakhstan Turkey Ukraine the US and Uzbekistan The papers are in English sometimes to their detriment as a result of inept translation c Book News Inc

A History of Women in Russia Barbara Evans Clements, 2021-12-22 A survey of the key political economic social and cultural developments in Russian women s history from 900 to 2010 and their impact on the nation Synthesizing several decades of scholarship by historians East and West Barbara Evans Clements traces the major developments in the history of women in Russia and their impact on the history of the nation Sketching lived experiences across the centuries she demonstrates the key roles that women played in shaping Russia s political economic social and cultural development for over a millennium The story Clements tells is one of hardship and endurance but also one of achievement by women who for example promoted the conversion to Christianity governed estates created great art rebelled against the government established charities built the tanks that rolled into Berlin in 1945 and flew the planes that strafed the retreating Wehrmacht This daunting and complex history is presented in an engaging survey that integrates this scholarship into the field of Russian and post Soviet history The product of a lifetime of engagement by one of the preeminent authorities on the history of Russian women the book reflects the author s deep expertise in primary sources as well as her familiarity with the secondary literature Choi Chatterjee California State University Los Angeles A significant achievement in scholarship on Russian women and gender Among this text s many strengths are its lucidity readability and engaging synthesis of a large number of both primary and secondary sources Its erudite contextualization of the history of Russian women within a larger European framework ensures its interest for and accessibility to a wide readership especially those outside of the Slavic field Slavic and East European Journal Clements s writing is engaging clear and jargon free making this book easily accessible to a general audience Highly recommended Choice This daunting and complex history is presented in an engaging survey that integrates this scholarship into the field of Russian and post Soviet history Journal of Turkish Weekly

Social and Cultural Change in Central Asia Sevet Akyildiz, Richard Carlson, 2013-10-15 Focusing on Soviet culture and its social ramifications both during the Soviet period and in the post Soviet era this book addresses important themes associated with Sovietisation and socialisation in the Central Asian states of Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan The book contains contributions from scholars in a variety of disciplines and looks at topics that have been somewhat marginalised in contemporary studies of Central Asia including education anthropology music literature and poetry film history and state identity construction and social transformation It examines how the Soviet legacy affected the development of the republics in Central Asia and how it continues to affect the society culture and polity of the region Although each state in Central Asia has increasingly developed its own way the book shows that the states have in varying degrees retained the influence of the Soviet past or else are busily establishing new political identities in reaction to their Soviet legacy and in doing so laying claim to re defining and reinventing pre Soviet and Soviet images and narratives Throwing new light and presenting alternate points of view on the question of the Soviet legacy in the Soviet Central Asian successor states the book is of interest to academics in the field of Russian and Central Asian Studies

Practices of Traditionalization in Central Asia Judith Beyer, Peter Finke, 2020-05-21 Practices of Traditionalization in Central Asia focuses on how tradition is everyday ified in contemporary Central Asia including Tatarstan and Tibet and what people seek to achieve in its name The case studies range from political demonstrations and industrial workers gatherings to institutions of religious education minority communities weddings and the Internet In this volume we regard tradition as a practice that needs to be explored in its institutional and interactional context at a particular time rather than as a reliable guide to the past tradition can only be judged from the present it is an interpretative concept not a descriptive one While the scholarly debate has so far centered on what tradition entails and what it does not including the question of invention and ownership less attention has been devoted to investigating how tradition is enacted enforced or motivated in short how it gets done In Central Asia practices of traditionalization are closely related to the transformation of the socialist order and the emergence of highly stratified societies This volume asks When does tradition emerge as a line of argumentation who are the actors invoking it and how is it being materially manifested Practices of Traditionalization in Central Asia will be of great interest to scholars of Central Asia Anthropology History Political Science and Sociology The chapters were originally published as a special issue of Central Asian Survey
