Proust at the Movies Martine Beugnet, Marion Schmid, 2017-07-28 Film established itself as an artistic form of expression at the same time that Proust started work on his masterpiece A la recherche du temps perdu If Proust apparently took little interest in what he described as a poor avatar of reductive mimetic representation the resonances between his own radical reworking of writing styles and the novelistic forms and cinema as the art of time are undeniable Proust at the Movies is the first study in English to consider these rich interconnections Its introductory chapter charts the missed encounter between Proust and the cinema and addresses the problems inherent in adapting his novel to the screen The following chapters examine the various cinematic responses to A la recherche du temps perdu attempted to date Luchino Visconti and Joseph Losey's failed attempts at adapting the whole of the novel in the 1970s Volker Schlöndorff's Un Amour de Swann 1984 Raoul Ruiz's Le Temps retrouvé 1999 Chantal Akerman's La Prisonnière in La Captive 2000 and Fabio Carpi's Quartetto Basileus 1982 and Le Intermittenze del cuore 2003 The last chapter tracks the echoes of Proust's writing in the work of various directors from Abel Gance to Jean-Luc Godard The approach is multidisciplinary combining literary criticism with film theory and elements of philosophy of art Special attention is given to the modernist legacy in literature and film with its distinctive aesthetic and narrative features An outline of the history and recent evolution of contemporary art cinema thus emerges a cinema where the themes at the heart of Proust's work memory time perception are ceaselessly explored Anamnesia Peter Collier, Anna Magdalena Elsner, Olga Smith, 2009 Memory has always been crucial to French literature and culture as a means of mediating the relationship between perception and knowledge of the individual coming to terms with his identity in time Relatively recently memory has also emerged as the key force in the creation of a collective consciousness in the wider perspective of French cultural history This collection of essays selected from the proceedings of a seminar on Memory given by Dr Emma Wilson at the University of Cambridge offers a fresh evaluation of memory as both a cultural and an individual phenomenon in modern and contemporary French culture including literature cinema and the visual arts Anamnesia the book's title develops the Aristotelian concept of anamnesis recollection as a dynamic and creative process which includes forgetting as much as remembering concealment as much as imagination Memory in this extremely diverse range of essays is therefore far from being presented as a straightforward process of recalling the past but emerges as the site of research and renegotiation of contradictions and even aporia Animated Landscapes Chris Pallant, 2017-02-23 The first comprehensive study of animated landscapes across media The Aesthetics of Culture in Buffy the Vampire Slayer Matthew Pateman, 2015-03-21 On the TV screen as elsewhere there is often more than meets the eye For decades television has offered not just entertainment but observations subtle and otherwise on society This book examines the cultural commentary contained in Buffy the Vampire Slayer a show that ran for seven seasons 1997-2003 and 144 episodes On the surface Buffy is the marriage of a high school drama to gothic horror This somewhat unusual vehicle is used to present via the character of Buffy fairly typical views of late 20th century culture teenage problems issues regarding a broken home and the search for meaning and validation In addition subtler themes such as cultural views of knowledge ethnicity and history are woven into the show's critique of popular culture Organized into two sections this volume offers an in-depth examination of the show first through the lens of Buffy's confrontation with culture and second from the complex perspectives of the individual characters Issues such as values ethical choices and the implications of one's actions are discussed without ever losing sight of the limitations of a medium that will always be dominated by financial concerns The final chapter summarizes what Buffy has to say about today's society An appendix lists Buffy episodes in chronological order Indefinite Visions Beugnet Martine

Mountains Figured and Disfigured in the English-Speaking World Françoise Besson, 2020-06-01 The essays in this book written by poets novelists mountain climbers and academics from all over the world evoke the representation of mountains in the English speaking world as artists writers philosophers or mountain climbers have represented them from the sixteenth to the twenty first centuries From the Alps to the Pyrenees from Mount Fuji to Mount Shasta from the Himalayas to the Scottish Highlands from Ikere in Nigeria to Devil s Tower in the United States from Uluru in Australia to the most northern mountain of the Arctic the shapes of the world speak the same language and tell the world its own story This interdisciplinary book weaving together mountaineering literature philosophy painting cinema ecology history palaeontology geography geopolitics toponymy law religion and myth invites people to an innovative reading of mountains it reveals the close relationship existing between the shapes of the world and all forms of writing and at the same time it shows how the representations of the imagination may be instrumental in protecting the natural world The story told by the landscape inscribes a broken line in the shapes of the world tearing the landscape like a fragile page whenever historical and political events wars mining or deforestation leave scars in the landscape but writers and artists representations of mountains constitute a path to awareness as they are not only a painting of beauty but an image of our link to nature and a warning as well For centuries the image of the mountain has conveyed a symbolism telling the story of human thought and this book shows to what extent literature and art play an essential part in our awareness of nature Inert Cities Stephanie Hemelryk Donald, Christoph Lindner, 2014-10-01 We usually associate contemporary urban life with movement and speed But what about those instances when the forms of mobility associated with globalized cities the flow of capital people labor and information freeze or decelerate How can we assess the value of interruption in a city What does valuing stillness mean in regards to the forward march of globalization When does inertia presage decay and when does it promise immanence and rebirth Bringing together original contributions by international specialists from the fields of architecture photography film sociology and cultural analysis this cutting edge book considers the poetics and politics of inertia in cities ranging from Amsterdam Berlin Beirut and Paris to Beijing New York Sydney and Tokyo Chapters explore what happens when photography film mixed media works architecture and design intervene in public spaces and urban communities to disrupt speed and growth both intellectually and or practically and question the degree to which mobility is aspirational or imaginary absolute or transient Together they encourage a re assessment of what it means to be urban in an unevenly globalizing world to live in cities built around mythologies of perpetual progress A Social History of Iranian Cinema, Volume 1 Hamid Naficy, 2011-09-16 Social history of Iranian cinema that explores cinema s role in creating national identity and contextualizes Iranian cinema within an international arena The first volume focuses on silent era cinema and the transition to sound The Brontë Sisters in Other Wor(l)ds S. Padgett, 2014-10-09 Looking at the works of the Bront sisters through a translingual transnational and transcultural lens this collection is the first book length study of the Bront s as received and reimagined in languages and cultures outside of Europe and the United States Hollywood Exiles in Europe Rebecca Prime, 2014-01-14 Rebecca Prime documents the untold story of the American directors screenwriters and actors who exiled themselves to Europe as a result of the Hollywood blacklist During the 1950s and 1960s these Hollywood migr s directed wrote or starred in almost one hundred European productions their contributions ranging from crime film masterpieces like Du rififi chez les hommes 1955 Jules Dassin director to international blockbusters like The Bridge on the River Kwai 1957 Carl Foreman and Michael Wilson screenwriters and acclaimed art films like The Servant 1963 Joseph Losey director At once a lively portrait of a lesser known American lost generation and an examination of an important transitional moment in European cinema the book offers a compelling argument for the significance of the blacklisted migr s to our understanding of postwar American and European cinema and Cold War relations Prime provides detailed accounts of the production and reception of their European films that clarify the ambivalence with which Hollywood was regarded within postwar European culture Drawing upon extensive archival research including previously classified material Hollywood Exiles in Europe suggests the need to rethink our understanding of the Hollywood blacklist as a purely domestic phenomenon By shedding new light on European cinema's changing relationship with Hollywood the book illuminates the postwar shift from national to transnational cinema
