Post War Kitchen:

Post-war kitchen Marguerite Patten, 2004 Cold War Kitchen Ruth Oldenziel, Karin Zachmann, 2011-01-21 The kitchen as political symbol and material reality in the cold war years Richard Nixon and Nikita Khrushchev's famous kitchen debate in 1958 involved more than the virtues of American appliances Both Nixon and Khrushchev recognized the political symbolism of the modern kitchen the kind of technological innovation represented in this everyday context spoke to the political system that produced it The kitchen connects the big politics of politicians and statesmen to the small politics of users and interest groups Cold War Kitchen looks at the kitchen as material object and symbol considering the politics and the practices of one of the most famous technological icons of the twentieth century Defining the kitchen as a complex technological artifact as important as computers cars and nuclear missiles the book examines the ways in which a range of social actors in Europe shaped the kitchen as both ideological construct and material practice These actors from manufacturers and modernist architects to housing reformers and feminists constructed and domesticated the technological innovations of the postwar kitchen The home became a mediation junction in which women users and others felt free to advise producers from the consumer's point of view In essays illustrated by striking period photographs the contributors to Cold War Kitchen consider such topics as Soviet consumers ambivalent responses to the American dream kitchen argued over by Nixon and Khrushchev the Frankfurter Küche a European modernist kitchen of the interwar period and its export to Turkey when its designer fled the Nazis and the British state subsidized kitchen design so innovative that it was mistaken for a luxury American product The concluding essays challenge the received wisdom of past interpretations of the kitchen debate

Yesterday's Tomorrows Joseph J. Corn, Brian Horrigan, 1996-05-15 From Jules Verne to the Jetsons from a 500 passenger flying wing to an anti aircraft flying buzz saw the vision of the future as seen through the eyes of the past demonstrates the play of the American imagination on the canvas of the future Popular Science, 1944-08 Popular Science gives our readers the information and tools to improve their technology and their world The core belief that Popular Science and our readers share The future is going to be better and science and technology are the driving forces that will help make it better

Post War Kitchen Marguerite Patten, 2012-04-01 Post-War Public Housing and Well-Being Izumi Kuroishi, 2025-07-31 This collection illustrates the evolving role of housing as a symbol of modernity a tool for economic recovery and a response to societal transitions It argues that understanding earlier efforts to integrate well being in the twentieth century can provide valuable insights for contemporary actors in the built environment who are working to address these issues today As such it explores and shines light on this lesser known history drawing on case studies it focuses on the intersection of public housing well being and social change in the aftermath of the Second World War With case studies from the UK US Singapore Japan Germany China and Spain this volume provides insights into how these countries have shaped the values designs and institutions of their dwellings By incorporating diverse cultural contexts it contributes to a nuanced understanding of housing dynamics and well being Through a multidisciplinary lens this volume encourages a re evaluation of living conditions and fundamental values emphasising the dynamic interplay between humans their social environment and diverse living environments This book is essential for scholars researchers professionals students policymakers and practitioners in cultural history architecture planning urban studies sociology education and public policy Marguerite Patten's Post-war Kitchen Marguerite Patten,1998-01-01 The Racial Imaginary of the Cold War Kitchen Kate A. Baldwin,2015-12-22 This book demonstrates the ways in which the kitchen the centerpiece of domesticity and consumerism was deployed as a recurring motif in the ideological and propaganda battles of the Cold War Beginning with the famous Nixon Khrushchev kitchen debate Baldwin shows how Nixon turned the kitchen into a space of exception while contemporary writers artists and activists depicted it as a site of cultural resistance Focusing on a wide variety of literature and media from the United States and the Soviet Union Baldwin reveals how the binary logic at work in Nixon s discourse setting U S freedom against Soviet totalitarianism erased the histories of slavery gender subordination colonialism and racial genocide The Racial Imaginary of the Cold War Kitchen treats the kitchen as symptomatic of these erasures connecting issues of race gender and social difference across national boundaries This rich and rewarding study embracing the literature film and photography of the era will appeal to a broad spectrum of scholars House Beautiful's Maintenance & Postwar Building Manual ,1945 Gas Appliance Merchandising ,1943 From Submarines to Suburbs Cynthia Lee Henthorn,2006 Using documentary evidence in the form of numerous advertisements of the time From Submarines to Suburbs is a fascinating analysis of the way corporations made the successful switch from supporting the war effort to building on the peacetime prosperity by re tooling the patriotic fervor of the home front Designing the British Post-War Home Fiona Fisher,2015-04-10 In Designing the British Post War Home Fiona Fisher explores the development of modern domestic architecture in Britain through a detailed study of the work of the successful Surrey based architectural practice of Kenneth Wood Wood s firm is representative of a geographically distinct category of post war architectural and design practice that of the small private practice that flourished in Britain s expanding suburbs after the removal of wartime building restrictions Such firms which played an important role in the development of British domestic design are currently under represented within architectural histories of the period The private house represents an important site in which new spatial material and aesthetic parameters for modern living were defined after the Second World War Within a British context the architect designed private house remained an important vehicle for the investigation of architectural ideas by second generation modernist architects and designers Through a series of case study houses designed by Wood s firm the book reconsiders the progress of modern domestic architecture in Britain and demonstrates the ways in which architectural discourse and practice intersected with the experience performance and representation of domestic modernity in post war Britain The Oxford Handbook of Postwar European History Dan Stone,2012-05-17 The postwar period is no longer current affairs but is becoming the recent past As such it is increasingly attracting the attentions of historians Whilst the Cold War has long been a mainstay of political science and contemporary history recent research approaches postwar Europe in many different ways all of which are represented in the thirty five chapters of this book As well as diplomatic political institutional economic and social history The Oxford Handbook of Postwar European History contains chapters which approach the past through the lenses of gender espionage art and architecture technology agriculture heritage postcolonialism memory and generational change and shows how the history of postwar Europe can be enriched by looking to disciplines such as anthropology and philosophy The Handbook covers all of Europe with a notable focus on Eastern Europe Including subjects as diverse as the meaning of Europe and European identity southern Europe after dictatorship the cultural meanings of the bomb the 1968 student uprisings immigration Americanization welfare leisure decolonization the Wars of Yugoslav Succession and coming to terms with the Nazi past the essays in this Handbook offer an unparalleled coverage of postwar European history that offers far more than the standard Cold War framework Readers will find self contained state of the art analyses of major subjects each written by an acknowledged expert as well as stimulating and novel approaches to newer topics Combining empirical rigour and adventurous conceptual analysis this Handbook offers in one substantial volume a guide to the numerous ways in which historians are now rewriting the history of postwar Europe

Women and Mass Consumer Society in Postwar France Rebecca Pulju, 2011-02-14 Examines the emergence of a citizen consumer role for women during postwar modernization and reconstruction in France Suffragette City Elizabeth Darling, Nathaniel Walker, 2019-08-08 SHORTLISTED FOR THE COLVIN PRIZE 2021 Awarded by the Society of Architectural Historians of Great Britain the Colvin Prize is one of the world's most prestigious honors in the field of architectural history The medal is awarded annually to the author or authors of an outstanding work of reference of broad importance to the discipline all modes of publication are eligible including catalogues gazetteers digital databases and online resources Suffragette City was nominated due to the new ways in which its contributors cast light on the work of women to shape the architecture of communities around the English speaking world Suffragette City brings together a collection of illustrated essays dedicated to exploring and analysing cases in which women have resourcefully leveraged or defied the politics of gender to form and reform architecture and urbanism Throughout much of modern history women have been assigned to the margins and expected to play passive social roles Suffragette City draws on nineteenth and twentieth century architectural case studies from the English speaking world including the USA South Africa Scotland India and England to examine places and moments when women stepped into the centre of public life and claimed opportunities to shape the fabrics of their communities Their engagements with the built environment consistently transcended architecture to achieve the level of urbanism as whole networks of relationships came into their purview transforming the architecture of socio political connection as well as the confronting the physical divisions that have historically lain along racial economic and gendered lines Academics researchers and students engaged in architectural history theory urbanism gender studies and social and cultural history will be interested in this fascinating politically charged text Post-war British Drama Michelene Wandor,2001 In this extensively revised and updated edition of Michelene Wandor s classic work Look Back in Gender Wandor takes another provocative look at a selection of key British plays from the last fifty years The Home Fronts of Iowa, 1939-1945 Lisa L. Ossian,2009-10-16 As Americans geared up for World War II each state responded according to its economy and circumstances as well as the disposition of its citizens This book considers the war years in Iowa by looking at activity on different home fronts and analyzing the resilience of Iowans in answering the call to support the war effort With its location in the center of the country far from potentially threatened coasts Iowa was also the center of American isolationism historically Republican and resistant to involvement in another European war Yet Iowans were quick to step up and Lisa Ossian draws on historical archives as well as on artifacts of popular culture to record the rhetoric and emotion of their support Ossian shows how Iowans quickly moved from skepticism to overwhelming enthusiasm for the war and answered the call on four fronts farms factories communities and kitchens Iowa s farmers faced labor and machinery shortages yet produced record amounts of crops and animals even at the expense of valuable topsoil Ordnance plants turned out bombs and machine gun bullets Meanwhile communities supported war bond and scrap drives while housewives coped with rationing raised Victory gardens and turned to home canning The Home Fronts of Iowa 1939 1945 depicts real people and their concerns showing the price paid in physical and mental exhaustion and notes the heavy toll exacted on Iowa s sons who fell in battle Ossian also considers the relevance of such issues as race class and gender particularly the role of women on the home front and the recruitment of both women and blacks for factory work taking into account a prevalent suspicion of ethnic groups by the state s largely homogeneous population The fact that Iowans could become loyal citizen soldiers forming an Industrial and Defense Commission even before Pearl Harbor speaks not only to the patriotism of these sturdy midwesterners but also to the overall resilience of Americans In unraveling how Iowans could so overwhelmingly support the war Ossian digs deep into history to show us the power of emotion and to help us better understand why World War II is consistently remembered as the Good War The 1950s Kitchen Kathryn Ferry,2011-08-20 The 1950s was the first great age of the modern kitchen Labour saving appliances bright colours and the novelty of fitted units moved the kitchen from dankness into light where it became the domain of the happy housewife and the heart of the home New space age material Formica decorated with fashionable patterns topped sleek cupboards that contained new classic wares such as Pyrex and Homemaker crockery and the ingredients for 1950s staples semolina coronation chicken and spotted dick Electricity entered the kitchens of millions and nowhere in the home was modern technology and modern design more evident Bold colour clean lines and stainless steel were keynotes of the decade This book a celebration of cooking eating and living in the 1950s kitchen is a feast of nostalgia and a mine of inspiration for anyone wanting to recreate that 50s look in their own home

The Intersection of Class and Space in British Postwar Writing Simon Lee, 2022-12-29 Centering on the British kitchen sink realism movement of the late 1950s and early 1960s specifically its documentation of the built environment's influence on class consciousness this book highlights the settings of a variety of novels plays and films turning to archival research to offer new ways of thinking about how spatial representation in cultural production sustains or intervenes in the process of social stratification As a movement that used gritty documentary style depictions of space to highlight the complexities of working class life the period's texts chronicled shifts in the social and topographic landscape while advancing new articulations of citizenship in response to the failures of post war reconstruction By exploring the impact of space on class this book addresses the contention that critical discourse has overlooked the way the built environment informs class identity

Home and Family Graham Allan, Graham Crow, 1989-11-20 Examining the role of home and family in the latter part of the 20th century this book covers such subjects as the single parent institutions and homes the role of the mother in the family and domestic architecture and domestic life
