Travel Narratives, Travel Fictions Daniel Cooper Alarcón,2024-02-02 In Travel Narratives Travel Fictions Daniel Cooper Alarc n argues that travel literature performs important social and cultural criticism often overlooked in studies of the genre By examining non fiction and fiction novels and short stories that purposefully examine different types of travel in relationship to each other Cooper Alarc n documents and highlights the sophisticated ways that both types of writing have anticipated and contributed ideas central to critical studies of travel tourism and migration The author uses the term travel fictions to illustrate the ways in which travel narratives supposed factual accounts of travel often misrepresent distort and fabricate notions about the people and places they purport to describe creating useful mythologies and hinting at the ways in which the acts of reading and writing have become an integral part of traveling shaping not just itineraries but perceptions and beliefs about places travelers visit Both types of travel writing are influential in this regard and they frequently borrow from one another mutually reinforcing ideas tropes and modes of representation often in problematic ways

This handsome edition of Helen Garner's collected short fiction celebrates the seventy fifth birthday of one of Australia's most loved authors. These stories that delve into the complexities of love and longing, the pain, darkness and joy of life are all told with her characteristic sharpness of observation, honesty and humour. Each one a perfect piece together, they showcase Garner's mastery of the form. Helen Garner writes novels, stories, screenplays and works of non-fiction. In 2006 she received the inaugural Melbourne Prize for Literature and in 2016 she won the prestigious Windham-Campbell Literature Prize for non-fiction. Garner won the NSW Premier's Literary Award for Fiction for Postcards from Surfers and the Victorian and Queensland Premiers Awards as well as the Barbara Jefferis Award for her novel The Spare Room. Everywhere I Look won the 2017 Indie Book Award for Non-Fiction. Garner's stories share characteristics of the postcard: they flash before us carefully recorded images that remind us of harsher realities not pictured. And like postcards, they are economically written: a bit of conversation is transcribed, a memory recalled, an event noted, scenes pass as if viewed from a train momentarily distinct and tantalising in their beauty. New York Times: A perfect introduction for first timers who have not yet experienced the pleasures of Garner's writing. Sydney Morning Herald: Stories and True Stories are handsome companion volumes deservedly celebrating Helen Garner, our greatest contemporary practitioner of observation, self-interrogation and compassion. Everything she writes in her candid, graceful prose rings true, enlightens, stays. Joan London, Sydney Morning Herald's Year in Reading. Published in beautiful editions to celebrate life given shape in words. Drusilla Modjeska, Sydney Morning Herald's Year in Reading. Both of these books are concerned with moments of heartbreak and of hope, with loneliness and love and with great cruelties and the things that drive people to them. They are animated by a desire to understand what seems unfathomable and to pay attention to the small pleasures of the everyday. Garner's precise descriptions, her interest in minute shifts of emotion and the ways in which we reveal ourselves to others are always at work in these books and make them a real joy to read. Age As I leaf through the volumes having just re-read both of them I am still brought up short by another revelatory insight of the everyday. I could go on and on but I am out of words. Many happy returns, Helen Garner. Adelaide Advertiser: Her prose is wiry, stark, precise but to find her equal for the tone of generous humanity, one has to call up writers like Isaac Babel and Anton Chekhov. Wall Street Journal.

Gender and Politics in Austrian Fiction Ritchie Robertson, Edward Timms, 1996. This volume of essays on Austrian fiction compiled at a time when Austria is forming stronger links within the European Union illustrates a transition from traditional preoccupations with character differences between Austrian and German literature to wider concerns of politics and gender. Fictional treatments of such issues as male homosexuality, problems in feminism, the representation of women in male-authored texts and anti-war protest are examined both in well-known novels and in little-known works by underrated authors. Many of the authors discussed have received insufficient recognition because they do not fall within a familiar canon of German literature. The specialised research involved in compiling this material is accessible through a series of book reviews included at the end of the volume which range in subject area from the life of an eighteenth century soldier in the Habsburg service to the continuing discussion on Austrian identity
