Twin Tollans Cynthia Kristan-Graham, 2007 This volume had its beginnings in the two day colloquium Rethinking Chich en Itz Tula and Tollan that was held at Dumbarton Oaks The selected essays revisit long standing questions regarding the nature of the relationship between Chichen Itza and Tula Rather than approaching these questions through the notions of migrations and conquests these essays place the cities in the context of the emerging social political and economic relationships that took shape during the transition from the Epiclassic period in Central Mexico the Terminal Classic period in the Maya region and the succeeding Early Postclassic period When East Meets West Travis W. Stanton, Karl A. Taube, Jeremy D. Coltman, Nelda I. Marengo Camacho, 2023-06-30 This volume represents the first large scale reconsideration of the Epiclassic and Early Postclassic periods in broader Mesoamerica in 20 years In part the focus is to examine the influence of the ruins of Classic period Teotihuacan in the political social and economic structures of societies at the transition to the Postclassic period Teotihuacan was a locus of critical cultural innovations in Mesoamerica These innovations included fusing a warrior cult with long standing ideas surrounding what has been broadly termed Flower World as well as profound changes to economic and political structures Later Mesoamerican societies drew on these innovations in their own unique ways and this volume attempts to move the discussion of cultural changes beyond the traditional focus on the sites of Chichen Itza and Tula to consider many other communities across Mesoamerica and beyond This volume is part of a two volume set ISBN 9781407319810 Volume I ISBN 9781407353647 Volume II ISBN 9781407359717 Set of both volumes The Postclassic to Spanish-Era Transition in Mesoamerica Susan Kepecs, Rani T. Alexander, 2005-12-15 A historical and archaeological analysis of native and Spanish interactions in Mesoamerica and how each culture impacted the other The Mesoamerican World System, 200-1200 CE Peter F. Jimenez, 2020-08-27 Between 200 and 1200 CE Central Mexico was the setting for the formation and disintegration of two states Teotihuacan and Tula At their peaks both urban centers established distant ties throughout Mesoamerica The nature of their relations has been the focus of analysis and debate for decades In this study Peter Jimenez uses the latest advances in world systems analysis to study interaction networks in West Mexico from the early Classic to Post classic period He demonstrates how the archaeological record contains empirical evidence for the impact of global processes on local developments in detail in realms and at spatial scales which are revealed here for the first time His examination of West Mexico's relations to the core states of Central Mexico also underscores the critical role that the semi periphery played in overall world system configuration and operation in ancient Mesoamerica The Oxford
