European Painting and Sculpture, Ca. 1770-1937, in the Museum of Art, Rhode Island School of Design Rhode Island School of Design. Museum of Art, 1991 This documents the distinguished collection of European art from the late eighteenth through the early twentieth centuries that forms a significant part of the collections belonging to the Museum of Art Rhode Island School of Design This book includes stunning canvases by Gericault Delacroix Degas Manet Monet Cezanne Renoir Picasso and Matisse What makes the collection so noteworthy are the extraordinary works by unknown artists and the unknown works by known artists American Paintings and Sculpture at the Sterling and Francine Clark Art Institute Margaret C. Conrads, Sterling and Francine Clark Art Institute, 1990 68 treasures of Massachusetts museum Homer Sargent Cassatt Inness Remington in depth Department of the Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations for 1984: National Park Service United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Department of the Interior and Related Agencies, 1983 Impressionism John I. Clancy, 2003 Defining an artistic era or movement is often a difficult task as one tries to group individualistic expressions and artwork under one broad brush Such is the case with impressionism which culls together the art of a multitude of painters in the mid 19th century including Monet Cezanne Renoir Degas and van Gogh Basically impressionism involved the shedding of traditional painting methods The subjects of art were taken from everyday life as opposed to the pages of mythology and history In addition each artist painted to express feelings of the moment instead of hewing to time honoured standards This description of impressionism obviously is quite broad and can apply to a wide array of styles Nonetheless it remains a very important school in the annals of art Any current or budding art aficionado should become familiar with the impressionist movement and its impact on the art world This book presents a sweeping study of this artistic period from its origins to its manifestations in the works of some of art history's most revered painters Following this overview is a substantial and selective bibliography featuring access through author title and subject indexes Angels of Art: Women and Art in American Society, 1876-1914, America's National Gallery of Art Philip Kopper, National Gallery of Art (U.S.), 2016-10-04 America's National Gallery of Art a 75th anniversary history of the nation's art museum founded by Andrew W Mellon and opened to the public on March 17 1941 Presenting an overview of the Gallery's first fifty years and a thematic look at the transformation the museum has undergone since 1992 the book offers extensive photographic essays that highlight the West Building newly renovated East Building and Sculpture Garden as well as the magnificent art collection and selected special exhibitions The book includes accounts of the founding benefactors and four directors David Finley John Walker J Carter Brown and now Earl A Powell III and discusses the Gallery's historic 2014 agreement to accept custody of the collections of the Corcoran Gallery of Art Encyclopedia of British Poetry, 1900 to the Present James Persoon, 2015-04-22 Presents a comprehensive A to Z reference with approximately 450 entries providing facts about contemporary British poets including their major works of poetry concepts and movements Art and the

Higher Life Kathleen Pyne, 2010-07-22 Late in the nineteenth century many Americans were troubled by the theories of Charles Darwin which contradicted both traditional Christian teachings and the idea of human supremacy over nature and by an influx of foreign immigrants who challenged the supremacy of the old Anglo Saxon elite In response many people drew comfort from the theories of philosopher Herbert Spencer who held that human society inevitably develops towards higher and more spiritual forms In this illuminating study Kathleen Pyne explores how Spencer's theories influenced a generation of American artists She shows how the painters of the 1880s and 1890s particularly John La Farge James McNeill Whistler Thomas Dewing and the Boston school and the impressionist painters of the Ten developed an art dedicated to social refinement and spiritual ideals and to defending the Anglo Saxon elite of which they were members This linking of visual culture to the problematic conditions of American life radically reinterprets the most important trends in late nineteenth century American painting

The New Painting, Impressionism, 1874-1886 Charles S. Moffett, National Gallery of Art (U.S.), 1986 Discusses the eight exhibitions held by the French Impressionist artists and examines the history of the artistic movement

Department of the Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations for 1982 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Department of the Interior and Related Agencies, 1981 John White Alexander and the Construction of National Identity Sarah J. Moffett, Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco, Ruth Berson, Fronia E. Wissman, Barbara Lee Williams, 1986 Angels of Art Bailey Van Hook, 2004-06-11

Images of women were ubiquitous in America at the turn of the last century In painting and sculpture they took on a bewildering variety of identities from Venus Ariadne and Diana to Law Justice the Arts and Commerce Bailey Van Hook argues here that the artists' concepts of art coincided with the construction of gender in American culture She finds that certain characteristics such as ideal beautiful decorative and pure both describe this art and define the perceived role of women in American society at the time Most late nineteenth century American artists had trained in Paris where they learned to use female imagery as a pictorial language of provocative sensuality Van Hook first places the American artists in an international context by discussing the works of their French teachers including Jean Le Rond Goussier and Alexandre Cabanel She goes on to explore why they soon had to distance themselves from that context primarily because their art was perceived as either openly sensual or too obliquely foreign by American audiences Van Hook delineates the modes of representation the American painters chose which ranged from the more traditional allegorical or mythological subjects to a decorative figure painting indebted to Whistler Changing American culture ultimately rejected these idealized female images as too genteel and eventually too academic and European Angels of Art is the first study to discuss the predominance of images of women across stylistic boundaries and within the wider context of European art It relies heavily on contemporary sources both to document critical responses and to find intersecting patterns in attitudes toward women and art The Ideal Woman in American Art, 1875-1910 Leila Bailey Van Hook, 1990 Théo van Rysselberghe, catalogue raisonné Ronald Feltkamp, Théo van Rysselberghe, 2003 Catalogue raisonné American Paintings of the Nineteenth Century Franklin Kelly, 1998 Art Frederick Hartt, 1985 The Collections of the Nelson-Atkins Museum of Art Nelson-Atkins Museum of
