Interdiscursive Readings in Cultural Consumer Research George Rossolatos, 2018-10-01 The cultural consumption research landscape of the 21st century is marked by an increasing cross disciplinary fermentation At the same time cultural theory and analysis have been marked by successive inter turns most notably with regard to the Big Four multimodality or intermodality interdiscursivity transmediality or intermediality and intertextuality This book offers an outline of interdiscursivity as an integrative platform for accommodating these notions To this end a call for a return to Foucault is issued via a critical engagement with the so called practice turn This re turn does not seek to reconstitute venerably Foucauldianism but to theorize inters as vanishing points that challenge the integrity of discrete cultural orders in non convergent manners The propounded interdiscursivity approach is offered as a reading strategy that permeates the contemporary cultural consumption phenomena that are scrutinized in this book against a pan consumptivist framework By drawing on qualitative and mixed methods research designs facilitated by CAQDAS software the empirical studies that are hosted here span a vivid array of topics that are directly relevant to both traditional and new media researchers such as the consumption of ideologies in Web 2.0 social movements the ability of micro celebrities to act as cultural game changers the post loyalty abjective consumption ethos The theoretically novel approaches on offer are coupled with methodological innovations in areas such as user generated content artists branding and experiential consumption

Writing Marketing Stephen Brown, 2005-09-15 Marketing is a very diverse discipline dealing with everything from the costs of globalization to the benefits of money back guarantees However there is one thing that all marketing academics share They are writers They publish or perish Their careers are advanced and their reputations are enhanced by the written word Despite its importance writing is rarely discussed much less written about by marketing scholars It is one of the least understood yet most significant academic competencies It is a competency in need of careful study Writing Marketing is the first such study It offers a detailed reading of five renowned marketing writers ranging from Ted Levitt to Morris Holbrook and draws lessons that can be adopted with profit by everyone else Although it is not a how to book there are no lengthy lists of dos and don'ts Writing Marketing reveals that the rules of good writing are good for nothing Written by Stephen Brown whose own writing skills are much commented upon Writing Marketing is insightful illuminating and iconoclastic It is a must read for every marketing academic irrespective of their methodological inclinations or philosophical preferences
