Post-Modern Missionary Richard Glenn Lewis, 2006-04 The Fabulous Journeys of Alice and Pinocchio Laura

Tosi, Peter Hunt, 2018-10-04 Lewis Carroll's Alice's Adventures in Wonderland 1865 and Through the Looking Glass 1871 and Carlo Collodi's Le Avventure di Pinocchio 1883 are among the most influential classics of children's literature Firmly rooted in their respective British and Italian national cultures the Alice and Pinocchio stories connected to a worldwide audience almost like folktales and fairy tales and have become fixtures of postmodernism Although they come from radically different political and social backgrounds the texts share surprising similarities This comparative reading explores their imagery and history and discusses them in the broader context of British and Italian children's stories Memory's Orbit Joseph

Natoli, 2012-02-01 Mixing memoir and cultural criticism Memory's Orbit examines the intersections between a wide range of films and current events finding its theme and orbiting narrative structure in the personal stories we live within and their relationship to the social and cultural order Joseph Natoli covers such films as The Matrix American Beauty Fight Club Eyes Wide Shut and American History X as well as such headline events as the death of John F Kennedy Jr the dot com boom the WTO protests in Seattle and Bush versus Gore consistently identifying those aspects of the social order that have shaped his narrating frame Eschewing theoretical exposition and jargon Natoli performs postmodern critique and this book continues his innovative work in the genre of cultural studies Meaningful Journeys Alec Grant, Elizabeth Lloyd-Parkes, 2024-04-12

Postcolonial Novel Sara Upstone, 2016-04-01 In her innovative study of spatial locations in postcolonial texts Sara Upstone adopts a transnational and comparative approach that challenges the tendency to engage with authors in isolation or in relation to other writers from a single geographical setting Suggesting that isolating authors in terms of geography reinforces the primacy of the nation Upstone instead illuminates the power of spatial locales such as the journey city home and body to enable personal or communal statements of resistance against colonial prejudice and its neo colonial legacies While focusing on the major texts of Wilson Harris Toni Morrison and Salman Rushdie in relation to particular spatial locations Upstone offers a wide range of examples from other postcolonial authors including Michael Ondaatje Keri Hulme J M Coetzee Arundhati Roy Tsitsi Dangarembga and Abdulrazak Gurnah The result is a strong case for what Upstone terms the postcolonial spatial imagination independent of geography though always fully contextualised Written in accessible and unhurried prose Upstone s study is marked by its respect for the ways in which the writers themselves resist not only geographical boundaries but academic categorisation

Dark Affinities, Dark Imaginaries Joseph Natoli, 2016-11-17 A story of self braided to a story of American culture Uniting personal history with cultural history Dark Affinities Dark Imaginaries tells a story of a mind a time and a culture The vehicle or medium of this excursion is an overview and sampling of the author s work and what is revealed are cautionary tales of a once aspiring egalitarian democracy confronted with plutocracy s gentrification of analog history and off line life superseded by a rush toward virtualized robotic AI transformation of the human life world of everything social and public giving way to everything personal and opinionated The vagaries of a lifetime of paths taken are woven together by a narrative that reveals in every piece a significance that was only partially present at its initial writing Thus the reader becomes involved in a developing story of a certain personal psyche working toward understanding its own development within a changing American culture Sometimes angry sometimes joyful but always curious and wry Joseph Natoli crosses the boundary lines of psychology politics literature philosophy education and economics to show how we bring ourselves and our cultural imaginaries simultaneously into being through the processes and pleasures of thinking beyond the confines of the personal Reading Dark Affinities is a welcome break from the neoliberal buzzword speak of politicians and university administrators It reminds me why I entered academia when it was a profession and not a business and when modeling thinking actually mattered Alison Lee University of Western Ontario Natoli s Dark Affinities reads as a culminating work of scholarship marshaling evidence from autobiography literary analysis critical theory and everyday culture in support of its claims Natoli presents his personal history in the same spirit that Raymond Williams did as evidence for the ways that cultural forces shape individuals and as grounds for the shaping of his intellectual and political practice Jeff Karnicky author of Contemporary Fiction and the Ethics of Modern Culture

The End of Irish History? Colin Coulter,Steve Coleman,2003-09-20 Ireland appears to be in the throes of a remarkable process of social change The purpose of this book is to systematically scrutinize the interpretations and prescriptions that inform the deceptively simple metaphor of the Celtic Tiger The standpoint of the book is that a more critical approach to the course of development being followed by the Republic is urgently required The essays collected here set out to expose the fallacies that drive the fashionable rhetoric of Tigerhood Four of these fallacies that Ireland has cast off the chains of economic dependency that everyone is benefiting from the economic recovery that personal freedom and liberty are at an unprecedented level for all citizens and that Ireland is also experiencing a period of strong cultural renaissance are vigorously challenged

Bohlman, 2000-12 A specter lurks in the house of music and it goes by the name of race write Ronald Radano and Philip Bohlman in their introduction Yet the intimate relationship between race and music has rarely been examined by contemporary scholars most of whom have abandoned it for the more enlightened notions of ethnicity and culture Here a distinguished group of contributors confront the issue head on Representing an unusually broad range of academic disciplines and geographic regions they critically examine how the imagination of race has influenced musical production reception and scholarly analysis even as they reject the objectivity of the concept itself Each essay follows the lead of the substantial introduction which reviews the history of race in European and American non Western and global musics placing it within the contexts of the colonial experience and the more recent formation of world music Offering a bold new revisionist agenda for musicology in a postmodern postcolonial world this book will appeal to students of culture and race across the humanities and social sciences
