Postmodernism And The Quebec Novel:

Postmodernism and the Quebec Novel Janet M. Paterson, 1994 In her study of postmodernism in recent Quebec fiction Janet Paterson attempts to answer three main questions Is there a postmodern Quebec novel What are its forms What are its sites of interrogation The book looks at the works of Hubert Aquin Madeleine Ouellette Michalska Gerard Bessette Yolande Villemaire and Jacques Godbout and a new chapter explores the writing of Nicole Brossard This study is representative rather than exhaustive as it analyses postmodern textual strategies in terms of discourse intertextuality the representation of the writer in fiction the process of history and feminist expression Paterson believes that in order to view a novel from a postmodernist perspective it is necessary to see it as a temporal phenomenon subject to the ambient culture

History, Literature and the Writing of the Canadian Prairies Alison Calder, Robert Wardhaugh, 2005-05-16 The Canadian

Prairie has long been represented as a timeless and unchanging location defined by settlement and landscape. Now a new generation of writers and historians challenge that perception and argue instead that it is a region with an evolving culture and history. In a collection of ten essays History Literature and the Writing of the Canadian Prairies explores a more contemporary prairie identity and reconfigures the prairie as a construct that is non linear and diverse responding to the impact of geographical historical and political currents. These writers explore the connections between document and imagination between history and culture and between geography and time. The subjects of the essays range widely the non linear structure of Carol Shield's The Stone Diaries the impact of Aberhart's Social Credit Marshall McLuhan and Mesopotamian myth on Robert Kroetsch's prairie postmodernism the role of document in long prairie poems the connection between cultural tourism and heritage the theme of regeneration in Margaret Laurence's Manawaka writing the influence of imagination on geography in Thomas Wharton's Icefields and the effects on an alpine climber of pre WWII ideological concepts of time and individualism.

The Cambridge History of the Novel in French Adam Watt, 2021-02-25 This History is the first in a century to trace the development and impact of the novel in French from its beginnings to the present. Leading specialists explore how novelists writing in French have responded to the diverse personal economic socio political cultural artistic and environmental factors that shaped their worlds. From the novel's medieval precursors to the impact of the internet the History provides fresh accounts of canonical and lesser known authors offering a global perspective beyond the national borders of the Hexagon to explore France's colonial past and its legacies. Accessible chapters range widely including the French novel in Sub Saharan Africa data analysis of the novel system in the seventeenth century social critique in women's writing Sade's banned works and more. Highlighting continuities and divergence between and within different periods this lively volume offers routes through a diverse literary landscape while encouraging comparison and connection making between writers works and historical periods.

A Postmodern Cinema Mary Alemany-Galway, 2002 Alemany Galway media studies Massey University New Zealand engages with a trend in Canadian cinema that speaks for those who are marginalized by society. She develops a rationale for a postmodern film theory to explore this trend and then focuses closely on four films Jesus of Montreal I've Heard the Mermaids Singing Family Viewing Life Classes.
