Eastern Christians in Anthropological Perspective Chris Hann, Hermann Goltz, 2010-05-27 This collection of essays is a welcome and refreshing gift in a virtual desert There has been very little comparative anthropological research on the Eastern churches and this volume will fill that gap Michael Herzfeld author of Evicted from Eternity The Restructuring of Modern Rome At long last there is a book on the anthropology of Christianity that devotes direct and sustained attention to the diverse Eastern Christian Churches both Orthodox and Catholic This book should be read by anyone who thinks anthropologically about Christianity Scales will fall from their eyes and they will behold an entire wing of Christianity that has until now gone mostly unnoticed and practically untheorized Douglas Rogers author of The Old Faith and the Russian Land A Historical Ethnography of Ethics in the Urals Children's Bioethics Maya Sabatello, 2009 Only scant attention has been given to the issue of children's bioethics Even when such a discourse took place it hardly touched upon children as social agents In this novel work Maya Sabatello looks at the a ebody politicsa of religious and cultural medical practices from a oeharmful traditional practicesa to genetic engineering Building on literature from medical anthropology cultural studies disability studies social sciences and law she explores the international discourse on children's bioethics from a previously uncharted child centered approach In light of the existing multiculturalism she contends that in the discourse on children's bioethics not only must the medical social and anthropological nexus of the child be taken into account but that incorporating identity claims into the legal discourse is also essential for the child's voice to be heard Memory, Trauma and World Politics D. Bell, 2006-10-20 Memory Trauma and World Politics focuses on the effect that the memory of traumatic episodes especially war and genocide has on shaping contemporary political identities Theoretically sophisticated and empirically rich this book is an incisive treatment of the ways in which the study of social memory can inform global politics analysis Nations and Democracy Amanda Machin, 2014-11-13 A figure of enduring ingenuity the nation has for centuries played a part on the socio political stage Whether centre stage or background scenery it has featured in violent tragedies revolutionary drama and nostalgic fable Today the nation is cast simultaneously in the roles of villain and hero While it is renounced by those advocating trans national post national and cosmopolitan forms of belonging it has lately also been asserted as the solution to various social failures in liberal democracies This appears to leave us with two alternatives to jettison the nation in order to move towards a less parochial world a world in which new forms of belonging underpin more inclusive politics Or to celebrate the nation as way of ensuring the social cement that can unite a diverse society Using the ideas of Wittgenstein and Lacan Amanda Machin expertly explains that the overlapping and conflicting language games of the nation produce it as an object of desire in an uncertain world The nation is not a pre political thing but a matter of persistent political contestation and coalition She reveals that the nation still has a vital part to play in democratic politics but that this role is one of improvisation While they endure as tools of emancipatory promise nations nonetheless remain potential categories of violent exclusion They cannot be pinned down as easily as anti national and pro national alternatives suggest It is precisely the indeterminacy of the nation that gives it ongoing importance for democracy today Providing an urgent riposte to dominant accounts this thought provoking and highly original account demands a re politicisation of the nation This book will appeal to those engaged in theory and empirical research on nations and nationalism and the question of their link to democracy in a changing world as well as those interested in psychoanalysis and Wittgenstein
