

A Potpourri

Amidst the wearying deserts of frustration
May lie the sporadic oasis of joy,
Life is a mix up of things
My friend, isn't not a strange alloy?

Dwelling upon it a little further
Tell me friend, is this not true -
Often it is the pungent ingredients
That adds flavor to the life's frothy brew.

So let me embrace my present disappointments
Those that now appear to me as pests
For at a future date, who knows?
Perhaps they might be my cherished guests!

Potpourri is the tenth and final volume in the Godey's Poetry Anthology Series. It presents a varied collection of poetic styles and themes both humorous and serious as such it is perhaps the volume most truly representative of Godey's poetry overall. From the beginning the aim of this anthology project has been to rediscover and present voices from the past giving new life to long forgotten or overlooked poetry. By no means did every poem fit into the category of great poetry but each of the 470 poems used in the series told us something about the lives and times of the poets and the readers of nineteenth century America. Each of the nine previous volumes was organized around a theme: the sea, mourning, sonnets, nature, etc. but inevitably at the end of the process there were poems left over that had not found their way into any of these categories. Rather than leave them out altogether, seventy of them were collected and included in this volume, a real miscellany of voices and ideas. Godey's Lady's Book, 1830-1877, was the most widely circulated American magazine of the nineteenth century. As such it represents a unique time capsule of American experience, ideas, and expression. By reading and rediscovering the poetry published in Godey's, we can not only connect in some way with nineteenth century experience, we can often find poems that resonate with and touch us today. I hope you find much to enjoy in this volume. Paige's Potpourri of Poems Paige Dubin,2009-05 I'm Paige Dubin, an outspoken seventeen year old and I would like to share my world of words with you. Embark with me on a journey through a literary land where metaphors blossom and every trail has a surprise in store. Let luminary diction light your path as we walk hand in hand towards the greater meaning. Potpourri Agnes M.

Poetry Potpourri is an eclectic collection of poetry penned by Annette Wengert Tarpley. It includes a very few personal poems including a poem written by Annette at the age of 17 after losing her father and brother in a tragic plane crash. Most of the poems have been written in a 4 month span of time when Annette was able to find her passion for poetry and became prolific.

A Potpourri of Poems Linda Swift,2015-04-29 A potpourri is a mixture, a medley, a miscellaneous hodgepodge of things not usually placed together as in a book such as this. Each poem has its own reason for being. Like people, each has a unique form and voice. Gathered from a large collection of poems written over many years, some reflect emotions or events from personal experience. Some share observations of others or reflections on life's meaning. Various images have been added to my favorite poems to stimulate the senses. These selections, arranged in no particular order or style, are meant to present a surprise on each page.
