Poverty Politics And Change:

Poverty, Politics, and Change Dorothy Buckton James, 1972 Poverty Politics Sarah Robertson, 2019-08-23

Representations of southern poor whites have long shifted between romanticization and demonization. At worst, poor southern whites are aligned with racism, bigotry, and right wing extremism and at best regarded as the passive victims of wider socioeconomic policies. In Poverty Politics: Poor Whites in Contemporary Southern Writing, author Sarah Robertson pushes beyond these stereotypes and explores the impact of neoliberalism and welfare reform on depictions of poverty. Robertson examines representations of southern poor whites across various types of literature including travel writing, photo narratives, life writing, and eco literature, and reveals a common interest in communitarianism that crosses the boundaries of the US South and regionalism, moving past ideas about the culture of poverty to examine the economics of poverty. Included are critical examinations of the writings of southern writers such as Dorothy Allison, Rick Bragg, Barbara Kingsolver, Tim McLaurin, Toni Morrison, and Ann Pancake. Poverty Politics includes critical engagement with identity politics as well as reflections on issues including Hurricane Katrina, the 2008 financial crisis, and mountaintop removal. Robertson interrogates the presumed opposition between the Global North and the Global South and engages with microregions through case studies on Appalachian photo narratives and eco literature. Importantly, she focuses not merely on representations of southern poor whites but also on writing that calls for alternative ways of reconceptualizing not just the poor but societal measures of time, value, and worth.

The Politics of Biofuels, Land and Agrarian Change Saturnino Borrás Jr., Philip McMichael, Ian Scoones, 2013-09-13. This book addresses key questions on biofuels within agrarian political economy, political sociology, and political ecology. Contributions are based on fresh empirical materials from different parts of the world. The book starts with four key questions in agrarian political economy: Who owns what? Who does what? Who gets what? And what do they do with the surplus wealth? It also addresses the emergent social and political relations in the biofuel complex and given the impacts on natural resources and sustainability, engages with questions about people-environment interactions. At the same time, the book is concerned with the politics of representation: that is, what are the discursive frames through which biofuels are promoted and/or opposed? The book analyses the institutional structures and cultures of energy consumption on which a biofuels complex depends and the alternative political and ecological visions emerging that call the biofuels complex into question. Across sixteen chapters presenting material from five regions across the North-South divide and focusing on fourteen countries including Brazil, Indonesia, India, USA, and Germany, these topics are addressed within the following themes: global reconfigurations, agro-ecological visions, conflicts, resistances, and diverse outcomes, state-capital and society relations, mobilising opposition, creating alternatives, and change and continuity. This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Peasant Studies.

Relational Poverty Politics Victoria A. Lawson, Sarah Elwood, 2018. This collection examines the power and transformative potential of movements that fight against poverty and inequality. Broadly, poverty politics are struggles to define who is poor what it means to be poor what actions might be taken and who should act These movements shape the sociocultural and political economic structures that constitute poverty and privilege as material and social relations Editors Victoria Lawson and Sarah Elwood focus on the politics of insurgent movements against poverty and inequality in seven countries Argentina India Brazil South Africa Thailand Singapore and the United States The contributors explore theory and practice in alliance politics resistance movements the militarized repression of justice movements global counterpublics and political theater These movements reflect the diversity of poverty politics and the relations between bureaucracies and antipoverty movements They discuss work done by mass and other types of mobilizations across multiple scales forms of creative and political alliance across axes of difference expressions and exercises of agency by people named as poor and the kinds of rights and other claims that are made in different spaces and places Relational Poverty Politics advocates for poverty knowledge grounded in relational perspectives that highlight the adversarial relationship of poverty to privilege as well as the possibility for alliances across different groups It incorporates current research in the field and demonstrates how relational poverty knowledge is best seen as a model for understanding how theory is derivative of action as much as the other way around The book lays a foundation for realistic change that can directly attack poverty at its roots Contributors Anton dia Borges Dia Da Costa Sarah Elwood David Boarder Giles Jim Glassman Victoria Lawson Felipe Magalh es Jeff Maskovsky Richa Nagar Genevieve Negr n Gonzales LaShawnDa Pittman Frances Fox Piven Preeti Sampat Thomas Swerts and Junjia Ye child care and schedule flexibility help low wage parents better balance work and family responsibilities Part IV considers how rethinking and redefining poverty might take antipoverty policies in new directions Mary Jo Bane assesses the politics of poverty since the 1996 welfare reform act Robert Haveman argues that income based poverty measures should be expanded as they have been in Europe to include social exclusion and multiple dimensions of material hardships Changing Poverty Changing Policies shows that thoughtful policy reforms can reduce poverty and promote opportunities for poor workers and their families The authors focus on pragmatic measures that have real possibilities of being implemented in the United States not only provides vital knowledge about what works but real hope for change

The World Come of Age Lilian Calles Barger, 2018-07-02 On November 16 2017 Pope Francis tweeted Poverty is not an accident It has causes that must be recognized and removed for the good of so many of our brothers and sisters With this statement and others like it the first Latin American pope was associated in the minds of many with a stream of theology that swept the Western hemisphere in the 1960s and 70s the movement known as liberation theology Born of chaotic cultural crises in Latin America and the United States liberation theology was a trans American intellectual movement that sought to speak for those parts of society marginalized by modern politics and religion by virtue of race class or sex Led by such revolutionaries as the Peruvian Catholic priest Gustavo Guti rrez the African American theologian James Cone or the feminists Mary Daly and Rosemary Radford Ruether the liberation theology movement sought to bridge the gulf between the religious values of justice and equality and political pragmatism It combined theology with strands of radical politics social theory and the history and experience of subordinated groups to challenge the ideas that underwrite the hierarchical structures of an unjust society Praised by some as a radical return to early Christian ethics and decried by others as a Marxist takeover liberation theology has a wide raging cross sectional history that has previously gone undocumented In The World Come of Age Lilian Calles Barger offers for the first time a systematic retelling of the history of liberation theology demonstrating how a group of theologians set the stage for a torrent of new religious activism that challenged the religious and political status quo
