Asylum Seeking and the Global City Francesco Vecchio, 2014-08-13 Asylum seeking and the global city are two major contemporary subjects of analysis to emerge both in the literature and in public and official discourses on human rights urban socioeconomic change and national security Based on extensive original ethnographic research this book examines the situation of asylum seekers in Hong Kong and offers a narrative of their experiences related to internal and external borders the performance of border crossing and asylum politics in the context of the global city Hong Kong is a city with no comprehensive legislation covering refugee claims and official and public opinion is dominated by the view that the city would be flooded with illegal economic migrants were policy changes to be implemented This book considers why Hong Kong has become a destination for asylum seekers how asylum seekers integrate into local and global economic markets and why the illegalization of asylum seekers plays a significant role in the processes of global city formation This book will be essential reading for academics and students involved in the study of migration globalization and borders research methods in criminology social problems and urban sociology

International Migration Law Vincent Chetail, 2019-03-29 International Migration Law provides a detailed and comprehensive overview of the international legal framework applicable to the movement of persons across borders The role of international law in this field is complex and often ambiguous there is no single source for the international law governing migration The current framework is scattered throughout a wide array of rules belonging to numerous fields of international law including refugee law human rights law humanitarian law labour law trade law maritime law criminal law and consular law This textbook therefore cuts through this complexity by clearly demonstrating what the current international law is and assessing how it operates The book offers a unique and comprehensive mapping of this growing field of international law It brings together and critically analyses the disparate conventional customary and soft law on a broad variety of issues such as irregular migration human trafficking refugee protection labour migration non discrimination regional free movement schemes and global migration governance It also offers a particular focus on important groups of migrants namely migrant workers refugees and smuggled migrants It maps the current status of the law governing their movement providing a thorough critical analysis of the various stands of international law which apply to them suggesting how the law may continue to develop in the future This book provides the perfect introduction to all aspects of migration and international law

International Migration Jonathon Moses, 2013-04-04 Jonathon Moses makes moral political and economic arguments in favor of the free mobility of human beings across national borders Pointing to the importance of immigration to the success of many nations he shows that Europe itself now faces a falling population and has over the past fifty years actively encouraged huge immigration from other countries There is near consensus across the political spectrum that the free movement of goods and free movement of capital are good for economies and therefore should apply to people as well

Global and Asian Perspectives on International Migration Graziano Battistella, 2014-09-12 This volume examines key aspects of the migration process that are particularly relevant in the Asian context It looks into established concepts and theoretical propositions that have found application in other areas particularly in the West and explores their validity and relevance in understanding the realities of migration in Asia Global and Asian Perspectives on International Migration features the perspectives of scholars from Asia and other parts of the world as well as diverse backgrounds It presents a variety of forms directions policies and institutions including circular and temporary migration the management of cultural diversity the gender perspective on migration in North America Europe and Asia returning migrants migration governance in the ASEAN economic community and the determinants of migration In conclusion the book explores migration transition in Asia and revisits select theories in light of recent evidence With its dialogic approach to migration in Asia by renowned authors from various regions and disciplines this book will serve as a valuable resource to policy makers in research and academia civil society international organizations and the private sector

Gender, Space and Time Dorothy Moss, 2006-01-01 Drawing on the work of Henri Lefebvre and Barbara Adam Gender Space and Time is a brilliant study that offers a unique and original threefold conceptualization of how space and time is developed and applied in an empirical study of women s lives Author Dorothy Moss focuses on the everyday practice and experience of women higher education students at a community college in northern England Women s action is considered in relation to the complex and interconnected spheres of paid work home leisure community and higher education Through highlighting concepts of space and time the complex relationship between networks of power and personal action gains visibility Moss conceptualizes women as centers of action and demonstrates the ways in which they construct personal pathways connect different spheres of experience integrate new time demands into the multiple rhythms of their everyday lives and carve out personal space Gender Space and Time is a timely and compelling work certain to be of interest to scholars of sociology women s studies and anthropology

Inside Asylum Bureaucracy: Organizing Refugee Status Determination in Austria Julia Dahlvik, 2018-04-03 This open access monograph provides sociological insight into governmental action on the administration of asylum in the European context It offers an in depth understanding of how decision making officials encounter and respond to structural contradictions in the asylum procedure produced by diverging legal political and administrative objectives The study focuses on structural aspects on the one hand such as legal and organisational elements and aspects of agency on the other hand examining the social practices and processes going on at the frontside and the backside of the administrative asylum system Coverage is based on a case study using ethnographic methods including qualitative interviews participant observation as well as artefact analysis This case study is positioned within a broader context and allows for comparison within and beyond the European system building a bridge to the international scientific community In addition the author links the empirical findings to sociological theory She explains the identified patterns of social practice in asylum administration along the theories of social practices social construction and structuration This helps to contribute to the often missing theoretical development in this particular field of research Overall this book provides a sociological contribution to a key issue in today s debate on immigration in Europe and beyond It will appeal to researchers policy makers administrators and practitioners as well as students and readers interested in immigration and asylum

Wider Perspectives on Global Development UNU-WIDER,2005-09-08 This volume brings together some of the most influential scholars in development economics to explore how to improve the well being of the poor how to design effective structures and institutions for poverty reduction and what the role of economic political and social dimensions are and should be in global development Issues addressed include globalization both its governance and a historical perspective inequality of income and the potential for conflict trade and labour practises in a transitional and developing world and the natures and characteristics of institutions and markets

Refugees, Capitalism and the British State Tom Vickers,2016-04-08 Today in a period of economic crisis public sector cuts and escalating class struggle Marxism offers important tools for social workers and service users to understand the structures of oppression they face and devise effective means of resistance This book uses Marxism s lost insights and reinterprets them in the current context by focussing on one particular section of the international working class refugees and asylum seekers in Britain Vickers analysis demonstrates the general utility of a Marxist approach enabling an exploration of the interplay between state policies how these are experienced by their subjects and how conflicts are mediated The substantive focus of the book is twofold to analyse the material basis of the oppression of refugees in Britain by the British state and to examine the means by which the British state has managed this oppression through the cultivation of a refugee relations industry within a broader narrative of social capital building These questions demand answers if social workers and other practitioners are to successfully work with refugees and asylum seekers and this book provides these through a detailed Marxist analysis

Europe and the Mediterranean Economy Joan Costa-Font,2012-07-26 With the creation of the Mediterranean partnership and the recent move towards the creation of the Union for the Mediterranean in 2008 a new emphasis is placed on the Mediterranean in the study of European Integration This book brings together a collection of experts to address this important new area of study and discuss issues such as development aid labour markets human capital investment Europeanization and institutional reform

Places of Privilege ,2018-07-19 Places of Privilege examines dynamics of privilege and power in the construction of place in a period of the rapid social transformation of places borders and boundaries Drawing on inter disciplinary perspectives the book examines place as a site for the making and re making of privilege while considering new meanings of community and examining spaces for cultural identity and resistance Chapters point to a range of conceptual resources that can be utilised to produce critical analyses of place making As the authors point out power and privilege shape place but these dynamics are in turn shaped by the specific place based histories and social dynamics within which they are located Contributors are Lutfiye Ali Alison M Baker Paola Bilbrough Tony Birch Jora Broerse Sally Clark Josephine Cornell Yon Hsu Lou Iaquinto Karen Jackson Shose Kessi Rebecca Lyons Chris McConville Nicole Oke Amy Quayle Alexandra Ramirez Kopano Ratele Christopher C Sonn and Ram n Spaaij

Entrapping Asylum Seekers Francesco Vecchio, Alison Gerard, 2018-02-08 This book is an interdisciplinary attempt to understand the contemporaneous human condition of asylum seekers through analysis of their entrapment and the resultant new forms of resistance that have emerged to combat it Based on qualitative research data the chapters support the claim that asylum seekers are entrapped in social legal and economic precariousness amidst the complex relationship between individual agency and social structure By exploring the practices and lived experiences of asylum seekers and other parties involved in their migration and reception the authors explore the structural and individual agency factors that entrap asylum seekers in precarious livelihoods and lead to marginalization and social exclusion A bold and timely study this edited collection will be essential reading for academics and students of criminology sociology anthropology urban studies and social policy

Forcibly Displaced World Bank, 2017-07-14 The Syrian refugee crisis has galvanized attention to one of the world s foremost challenges forced displacement The total number of refugees and internally displaced persons now at over 65 million continues to grow as violent conflict spikes This report Forcibly Displaced Toward a Development Approach Supporting Refugees the Internally Displaced and Their Hosts produced in close partnership with the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees UNHCR attempts to sort fact from fiction to better understand the scope of the challenge and encourage new thinking from a socioeconomic perspective The report depicts the reality of forced displacement as a developing world crisis with implications for sustainable growth 95 percent of the displaced live in developing countries and over half are in displacement for more than four years To help the displaced the report suggests ways to rebuild their lives with dignity through development support focusing on their vulnerabilities such as loss of assets and lack of legal rights and opportunities It also examines how to help host communities that need to manage the sudden arrival of large numbers of displaced people and that are under pressure to expand services create jobs and address long standing development issues Critical to this response is collective action As work on a new Global Compact on Responsibility Sharing for Refugees progresses the report underscores the importance of humanitarian and development communities working together in complementary ways to support countries throughout the crisis from strengthening resilience and preparedness at the onset to creating lasting solutions

Migration Without Borders Antoine Pécoud, Paul F. A. Guchteneire, 2007 International migration is high on the public and political agenda of many countries as the movement of people raises concerns while often eluding states attempts at regulation In this context the scenario challenges conventional views on the need to control and restrict migration flows This book explores the analytical issues raised by open borders in terms of ethics human rights economic development politics social cohesion and welfare and provides in depth empirical investigations of how free movement is
