Rhetorics of Display Lawrence J. Prelli, 2006 Rhetorics of Display is a pathbreaking volume that brings together a distinguished group of scholars to assess an increasingly pervasive form of rhetorical activity. Editor Lawrence J. Prelli notes in his introduction that twenty-first century citizens continually confront displays of information and images from the verbal images of speeches and literature to visual images of film and photography to exhibits in museums to the arrangement of our homes to the merchandising of consumer goods. Nominations of William H. Rehnquist and Lewis F. Powell, Jr United States Congress, Senate, Committee on the Judiciary, 1971 Brothers Gonna Work It Out Charise Cheney, 2005-08 Cheney ethnic studies California Polytechnic State U considers the political expression of rap artists within the historical tradition of black nationalism. Interweaving songs and interviews with hip hop artists and activists including Chuck D of Public Enemy and Rosa Clemente manager of dead prez, Cheney links late 20th century hip hop nationalists with their 19th century spiritual forebears and challenges the perception of hip hop as simply sexist or misogynistic. Conspiracy of Silence Chris Lamb, 2021-10-29 The campaign to desegregate baseball was one of the most important civil rights stories of the 1930s and 1940s. But most of white America knew nothing about this story because mainstream newspapers said little about the color line and still less about the efforts to end it. Even today as far as most Americans know, the integration of baseball revolved around Branch Rickey's signing of Jackie Robinson to the Brooklyn Dodgers organization in 1945. This book shows how Rickey's move was critical as it may have been, came after more than a decade of work by Black and left-leaning journalists to desegregate the game. Drawing on hundreds of newspaper articles and interviews with journalists, Chris Lamb reveals how differently Black and white newspapers and Black and white America viewed racial equality between 1933 and 1945. Black newspapers and the communist Daily Worker published hundreds of articles and editorials calling for an end to baseball's color line, while white mainstream sportswriters perpetuated the color line by participating in what their Black counterparts called a conspiracy of silence. The alternative press's efforts to end baseball's color line chronicled for the first time in Conspiracy of Silence constitute one of the great untold stories of baseball and the civil rights movement. A Companion to the Classical Greek World Konrad H. Kinzl, 2010-01-11 This Companion provides scholarly yet accessible new interpretations of Greek history of the Classical period from the aftermath of the Persian Wars in 478 B.C. to the death of Alexander the Great in 323 B.C. Topics covered range from the political and institutional structures of Greek society to literature, art, economics, society, warfare, geography, and the environment. Discusses the problems of interpreting the various sources for the period. Guides the reader towards a broadly based understanding of the history of the Classical Age. Ebony, 1984-11 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing. Founded in 1945 by John H. Johnson, it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine. Migrating to the Movies Jacqueline Najuma Stewart, 2005-03-28 The rise of cinema as the predominant American entertainment around the turn of the last century coincided with the migration of hundreds of thousands of African Americans from the South to the urban land of hope in the North This richly illustrated book discussing many early films and illuminating black urban life in this period is the first detailed look at the numerous early relationships between African Americans and cinema It investigates African American migrations onto the screen into the audience and behind the camera showing that African American urban populations and cinema shaped each other in powerful ways Focusing on Black film culture in Chicago during the silent era Migrating to the Movies begins with the earliest cinematic representations of African Americans and concludes with the silent films of Oscar Micheaux and other early race films made for Black audiences discussing some of the extraordinary ways in which African Americans staked their claim in cinema s development as an art and a cultural institution Catalog of Copyright Entries Library of Congress. Powell, 1908 Flying Free Philip S. Hart, 1996-04-01 Surveys the history of black aviators from the early black aviation community in Chicago in the 1920s through World War II to modern times A Country of Strangers David K.

Shipler, 1998-09-01 A Country of Strangers is a magnificent exploration of the psychological landscape where blacks and whites meet To tell the story in human rather than abstract terms the Pulitzer Prize winning writer David K Shipler bypasses both extremists and celebrities and takes us among ordinary Americans as they encounter one another across racial lines We learn how blacks and whites see each other how they interpret each other s behavior and how certain damaging images and assumptions seep into the actions of even the most unbiased We penetrate into dimensions of stereotyping and discrimination that are usually invisible and discover the unseen prejudices and privileges of white Americans and what black Americans make of them We explore the competing impulses of integration and separation the reference points by which the races navigate as they venture out and then withdraw the biculturalism that many blacks perfect as they move back and forth between the white and black worlds and the homesickness some blacks feel for the comfort of all black separateness There are portrayals of interracial families and their multiracial children expert guides through the clashes created by racial blending in America We see how whites and blacks each carry the burden of our history Black white stereotypes are dissected the physical bodies that we see the mental qualities we imagine the moral character we attribute to others and to ourselves the violence we fear the power we seek or are loath to relinquish The book makes clear that we have the ability to shape our racial landscape to reconstruct even if not perfectly the texture of our relationships There is an assessment of the complexity confronting blacks and whites alike as they struggle to recognize and define the racial motivations that may or may not be present in a thought a word a deed The book does not prescribe but it documents the silences that prevail the listening that doesn't happen the conversations that don't take place It looks at relations between minorities including blacks and Jews and blacks and Koreans It explores the human dimensions of affirmative action the intricate contacts and misunderstandings across racial lines among coworkers and neighbors It is unstinting in its criticism of our society's failure to come to grips with bigotry but it is also happily crowded with black people and white people who struggle in their daily lives to do just that A remarkable book that will stimulate each of us to reexamine and better understand our own deepest attitudes in regard to race in America
