Housing the Environmental Imagination Peter Quigley,2011-10-18 The last few decades have seen an explosion of interest in literature and the sense of place Many essays books and presentations have explored the aesthetics politics and urgency of understanding and appreciating the unique qualities of coasts mountains deserts bioregions and more Little attention however has been given to the process of establishing residence in these special places and what it means to make a life there Housing the Environmental Imagination focuses directly on this omission by examining the writing houses and lives of Thoreau Robinson Jeffers Gary Snyder Wendell Berry Scott Russell Sanders Arne Naess Mary Austin Jack London and many others In addition to addressing the lack of study on this theme of living in place Quigley adds a crucial additional element living and writing in place The unique aspect of this study is the selection of those writers whose writing project is inseparable from the living project In other words without the cabin at the pond there would be no Walden The same can be said of Snyder s Kitkitdizze and Jeffers Tor House and Hawk Tower Therefore it s Quigley s intention to throw open the issue of the meaning of houses and to explore the role houses play in the lives of some of the more well known nature writers Thoreau is cited by Quigley as a good point of departure for examining the meaning and role of houses Most men appear never to have considered what a house is In this way Quigley claims to have identified a new genre of writing and in the process pushes back against postmodern approaches This writing connected inseparably to house and region depends on and is anchored in experience and to a world of natural processes and values An interesting aspect of the book is the way Quigley takes this basic formula place house writing and examines how lifestyle and ritual are associated with place house and writing In addition this triad also is seen to work its way forward in different historical times and pressures Quigley examines the different political social and architectural pressures felt by these writers in the 19th and early and late 20th centuries The conclusion of this study points forward however as the title of the last chapter suggests Alternative Futures Quigley takes as his guiding theme throughout two polar thoughts from Thoreau that govern the writers under examination as well as Quigley s approach Thoreau championed the heroic virtue of the imagination in practical terms by urging folks to move confidently in the direction of one s dreams By doing so if one endeavors to live the life he has imagined he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours Again the practical and the imaginative are brought together with Thoreau's other claim that it is vain to sit down to write when you have not stood up to live Nature war individualism love family stone wood glass ocean mountains farming community and more come together in this broad ranging discussion This is a book about writers in place but it also is about rethinking how we might live the best lives we can every day Essentially this book addresses the long standing question And how shall we live <http://housesinthepoeticwild.org> A Galaxy Here and Now Peter W. helped establish its mystique including Mexican general Mariano Vallejo the town's first leader Hungarian winemaker Agoston Haraszthy who first saw the region's potential for producing superior wines and writers Jack London and M F K Fisher who made their homes in the Valley of the Moon drawn by its beauty and bucolic lifestyle A Short History of Sonoma is generously illustrated with vintage photographs It is a delightful account of one of America's most charming towns and its evolution from rowdy frontier settlement to the paragon of sophisticated living that it is today The Calamity Papers

Dale L. Walker, 2006-03-21 Spur Award winning author Dale L Walker continues what he started in Legends and Lies by uncovering the truth around some of the American West's most famous and infamous figures Leaving no figure sacred and no stone unturned Walker dives deep into some of the most enduring myths and legends of the Old West What was the real story behind the death of Meriwether Lewis suicide or homicide Did Pat Garrett really kill Billy the Kid or did the Kid fake his own death and live to a ripe old age What was the real relationship between Wild Bill Hickok and Calamity Jane And who was the woman who claimed to have proof that she was their daughter Was Jack London killed or did he take his own life Who burned Wolf House to the ground Asking these and many more questions The Calamity Papers sheds some necessary light on our history by taking a closer look at some of its heroes At the Publisher's request this title is being sold without Digital Rights Management Software DRM applied A Skeptic's Guide to Writers' Houses Anne Trubek, 2011-07-11 There are many ways to show our devotion to an author besides reading his or her works Graves make for popular pilgrimage sites but far more popular are writers house museums What is it we hope to accomplish by trekking to the home of a dead author We may go in search of the point of inspiration eager to stand on the very spot where our favorite literary characters first came to life and find ourselves instead in the house where the author himself was conceived or where she drew her last breath Perhaps it is a place through which our writer passed only briefly or maybe it really was a longtime home now thoroughly remade as a decorator's show house In A Skeptic's Guide to Writers Houses Anne Trubek takes a vexed often funny and always thoughtful tour of a goodly number of house museums across the nation In Key West she visits the shamelessly ersatz shrine to a hard living Ernest Hemingway while meditating on his lost Cuban farm and the sterile Idaho house in which he committed suicide In Hannibal Missouri she walks the fuzzy line between fact and fiction as she visits the home of the young Samuel Clemens and the purported haunts of Tom Sawyer Becky Thatcher and Injun Joe She hits literary pay dirt in Concord Massachusetts the nineteenth century mecca that gave home to Hawthorne Emerson and Thoreau and yet could not accommodate a surprisingly complex Louisa May Alcott She takes us along the trail of residences that Edgar Allan Poe left behind in the wake of his many failures and to the burned out shell of a California house with which Jack London staked his claim on posterity In Dayton Ohio a charismatic guide brings Paul Laurence Dunbar to compelling life for those few visitors willing to listen in Cleveland Trubek finds a moving remembrance of Charles Chesnut in a house that no longer stands Why is it that we visit writers houses Although admittedly skeptical about the stories these buildings tell us about their former inhabitants

Anne Trubek carries us along as she falls at least a little bit in love with each stop on her itinerary and finds in each some truth about literature history and contemporary America American Fox and Fur Farmer ,1926 American Cowboy ,2006-09 Published for devotees of the cowboy and the West American Cowboy covers all aspects of the Western lifestyle delivering the best in entertainment personalities travel rodeo action human interest art poetry fashion food horsemanship history and every other facet of Western culture With stunning photography and you are there reportage American Cowboy immerses readers in the cowboy life and the magic that is the great American West Printed Salesmanship ,1929
